A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 916, as follows

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to make a study of appropriate ways and methods for developing and promoting the historical interest of Philadelphia and vicinity and specifically for developing a "colonial compound" in Germantown

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to make a study of appropriate ways and methods by which the historical interest of the City of Philadelphia and of its vicinity may best be promoted and by which historic homes and buildings still remaining in that area may be developed and presented as a basis for a fuller understanding and appreciation of the great contribution of colonial Philadelphia to the formation of American ideas and institutions

Section 2 Great attention has been given to such historical developments in other states at Williamsburg the colonial capital of Virginia from 1699 to 1779 the Capitol The Governor's Palace taverns homes and even the colonial jail have been restored in minute and authentic detail and Colonial Williamsburg has become a major attraction for tourists At Old Sturbridge Village in Massachusetts a typical eighteenth century New England village has been created by collecting and moving in old buildings from all over New England A similar and equally interesting project is the development of Cooperstown New York under the auspices of the New York State Historical Association Such unified restorations or developments give visitors the impression of the actual environment of colonial days and thus give life and reality to the times when the ideals and institutions of our State and Nation were in the making

Section 3 Philadelphia was the capitol of Pennsylvania from 1683 to 1799 the seat of the Continental Congress during several years of the American Revolution and the capitol of the United States from 1790 to 1800 Here the Declaration of Independence was adopted and the Constitution of the United States drafted In the eighteenth century Philadelphia became the chief city of the American colonies and the major center of culture and trade Here the General Assembly of Pennsylvania made great strides toward free popular representative government before and during the Revolution and the experience and practice of Pennsylvania could serve as guide and model for other states

Section 4 Philadelphia is now a great modern city but there still remain within it many areas where groups of historic buildings survive virtually intact from the past notably Germantown where it would be possible to recreate the environment of the past in a convincing and impressive manner one fine example of an area with historic buildings which are adjacent and well suited to form a distinctive "colonial compound" contains the following buildings

(1) Cliveden otherwise known as the Chew House and one of the famous mansions of the colonial period It was built in 1763-1764 by Benjamin Chew who was Attorney General of the Province of Pennsylvania from 1755 to 1769 Chief Justice from 1774 to the Revolution and President Judge of the High Court of Errors and Appeals from 1791 to 1808 Cliveden was a focal point of the Battle of Germantown on October 3 1777 and suffered damage from gunfire This Georgian Colonial House designed for a man of culture and wealth is an example of the best taste of the day both in its exterior and interior

(2) The Bardsley House at 6500 Germantown Avenue is a picturesque example of early smaller houses It dates from colonial times but is named for John Bardsley who occupied it in the 1870's Sometimes it is called Sparrow Jack's House because Bardsley is said to have imported English sparrows to Germantown

(3) The Daniel Billmeyer House also known as the Mathieu House at 6504 Germantown Avenue exemplifies domestic architecture of the Federal period The rear wing of the building dates from colonial times

(4) The Michael Billmeyer House at 6505-6507 Germantown Avenue is of the Colonial period and is really two houses under one roof According to tradition the attack on the Chew House during the Battle of Germantown was directed from the front steps of this building It was acquired by Hans George Bensell in 1727 and sold to the printer Michael Billmeyer in 1789 Here the "Germantauer Zeitung" was published With its gables and pent eaves its comfortable rooms and ample proportions it is typical of colonial Germantown

(5) The Christopher Mason House or Elkinton House at 6514 Germantown Avenue shows the transition between Colonial and Federal architecture the rear wing being much earlier than the Federal front It stands on land acquired by Mason in 1797 and the main part was probably built in 1798 the date inscribed on the chimney

Section 5 In making this study the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall cooperate with the Philadelphia Historic Buildings Committee the Germantown Historical Society The Historical Society of Pennsylvania the Philadelphia City Planning Commission the National Park Service the National Trust for Historic Preservation and any other organizations and agencies which may be concerned in the development of historic Philadelphia

Section 6 The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall report to the General Assembly at its next regular session the results of this study giving primary consideration and discussing possibilities with regard to

(1) The development in Germantown of a "colonial compound" including some or all of the historic buildings now remaining in that part of the City of Philadelphia

(2) Publicizing and calling attention to the significance of historic Philadelphia in the history of the United States

(3) The establishment of a joint committee or board representing the interest of the Commonwealth the Federal Government the City of Philadelphia and historical organizations in the development and presentation of historic Philadelphia

Section 7 To aid in carrying out the provisions of this act the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is hereby empowered to create and appoint committees and to appoint historical consultants who shall serve without cost to the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 228 act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" amended May 11 1949 (P. L. 1089) is amended to read

Section 228 Approval or Disapproval of Creation or Change of Third or Fourth Class Districts (a) If the newly created city borough or township or independent school district or union school district or the part of a school district remaining after the separation would constitute a school district of the third or fourth class the receipt of said certified copy shall be deemed an application for the creation of a new school district of the third or fourth class or change in the boundaries of an existing school district of the third or fourth class and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall within sixty days thereafter cause the State Council of Education to be convened The council shall [thereupon consider such application and] fix a time and place for hearing the application notice of which hearing shall be sent to the school districts which will be affected by the council's decision At the hearing the proper officials of or the counsel for the districts shall present to the council the reasons for approval or disapproval of the application and the council shall then determine whether such new school district or independent school district or union school district or change in the boundaries of an existing school district of the third or fourth class is desirable and whether the welfare of the pupils within the territory affected thereby will be promoted by the creation of such district or change in the boundaries of such existing district

(b) If the council shall approve such application it shall certify its findings and its approval of such new district or change in such existing district thereon and transmit a certified copy thereof to the clerk of the courts or other proper officer from whom the application was received who shall file the same in such original proceedings whereupon the new city borough or township will become a new school district of the third or fourth class or the school district of the third or fourth class remaining after such annexation shall constitute a separate school district as so changed

(c) If in the judgment of the council the application should not be granted it shall endorse thereon "not approved" and transmit a certified copy thereof to the clerk of the courts or other proper officer from whom the application was received who shall file the same in the original proceedings In such event the boundaries of the existing school districts shall remain unchanged Provided The State Council of Education may for cause shown upon subsequent application by ten taxables of a school district of the third or fourth class not coterminous with a city borough incorporated town or township vacate such refusal and may approve the creation of such new district of the third or fourth class or change in boundaries of an existing district of the third or fourth class and thereupon the same proceedings shall be had as herein provided upon the original application and with like effect

Ordered, That the Clerk return the said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1129, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1929 (P. L. 1798) entitled "An act providing a fixed charge payable by the Commonwealth on lands acquired by the State and the Federal Government for forest reserves or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating a portion of the original forests of Pennsylvania and preserving and maintaining the same as public places and parks and the distribution of the same for county school township and road purposes in the counties school districts and townships where such forests are located and making an appropriation" Requiring the Commonwealth for a limited time to pay charges to Counties on certain Federal Forest Reserves.

Section 1 Section 1 act of May 17, 1929 (P. L. 1798) entitled "An act providing a fixed charge payable by the Commonwealth on lands acquired by the State and the Federal Government for forest reserves or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating a portion of the original forests of Pennsylvania and preserving and maintaining the same as public places and parks and the distribution of the same for county school township and road purposes in the counties school districts and townships where such forests are located and making an appropriation" amended May 27, 1949 (P. L. 1900) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That (a) from and after the passage of this act all lands heretofore or hereafter acquired by the Commonwealth or by the Government of the United States for forest reserves or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating any portion of the original forests of Pennsylvania and preserving and maintaining the same as public places and parks and which by existing laws are now exempt from taxation and all lands and property heretofore or hereafter acquired for the purpose of conservation of water or to prevent flood conditions upon which a tax is imposed by existing laws payable by the Commonwealth shall hereafter be subject to an annual charge of two and one-half cents per acre for the benefit of the county in which said lands are located two and one-half cents per acre for the benefit of the schools in the respective school districts in which such lands are located and two and one-half cents per acre for the benefit of the roads in the township where such lands are located which charge shall be payable by the Commonwealth (b) except as hereinafter provided the annual charge payable by the Commonwealth on land acquired by the Government of the United States for forest reserves is to continue only until the receipts of money by treasurers and road supervisors of the said counties and school districts and townships in which national forest reserves are located provided for in act of April twenty-seventh one thousand nine hundred twenty-five Pamphlet Laws three hundred twenty-four shall equal or exceed the amount paid by the Commonwealth in lieu of taxes This subsection shall not apply to the annual charge of two and one-half cents per acre for the benefit of the county in which the land acquired by the Government of the United States for forest reserves is located for the years 1953 1954 1955 and 1956 the charges for the benefit of the county for these years shall be paid by the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on this bill.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, earlier, I had raised questions on this bill and asked time to check into the purposes and the methods for accomplishing these purposes.

Mr. President, my present feeling is that this bill does not present the ideal way of meeting the need which exists for which this bill was drawn. However, I am persuaded that, at this late date, it is probably the best sort of adjustment of the situation that can be made.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am withdrawing my objections and intend to vote "aye."

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1330, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 17 1921 (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" further regulating reserves with respect to certain domestic mutual insurance companies

Section 1 Section 807 act of May 17 1921 (P. L. 682) known as "The Insurance Company Law of 1921" amended May 11 1949 (P. L. 1087) is amended to read

Section 807 Reserves A mutual insurance company other than a mutual life company shall maintain unearned premium and other reserves separately for each kind of insurance upon the same basis as that required of domestic stock insurance companies transacting the same kind of insurance except that the Insurance Commissioner may by written order fix a different basis of reserve for losses and claim in workmens compensation insurance Any reserve for losses or claims based upon the premium income shall be computed upon the net premium income after deducting any so-called dividend or premium returned or credited to the member The provisions relating to unearned premium reserve shall not apply to policies issued by a domestic mutual fire insurance company which policies set forth therein or in the promissory note attached thereto a limited or unlimited liability to assessment unless a cash premium is payable in advance on such policies and in such case when the annual total gross premium income less return premiums of the company from such policies shall amount to seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) or more. The provisions requiring unearned premium reserves as hereinafter set forth shall thereafter apply regardless of the annual premium income of such company in any subsequent year.

Beginning the effective date of this act a domestic mutual fire insurance company and a mutual insurance company other than a mutual life company not heretofore required by law to establish and maintain unearned premium reserves and which issues policies on which cash premiums are payable in advance shall establish and maintain unearned premium reserves under the foregoing provisions on the policies issued on and after the effective date of this act the company may accumulate such reserves progressively over a five year period commencing the effective date of this act by establishing and maintaining during the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and each succeeding calendar year at least twenty per cent of the unearned premium reserves until the full statutory unearned premium reserves have been established thereafter the company shall maintain the full unearned premium reserves on all policies on which cash premiums are payable in advance a domestic mutual insurance company other than a mutual life company which is incorporated subsequent to the effective date of this act shall at all times establish and maintain the full unearned premium reserves on all policies.

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 1305 act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" is amended to read:

Section 1305 Non-resident Child Placed in Home of Resident (a) When a non-resident child is placed in the home of a resident of any school district by order of court or by arrangement with an association agency or institution having the care of neglected and dependent children such resident being compensated for keeping the child any child of school age so placed shall be entitled to all free school privileges accorded to resident school children of the district including the right to attend the public high school maintained in such district or in other districts in the same manner as though such child were in fact a resident school child of the district.

[The school district may not be required to accept such children in its schools when their acceptance would involve additional provisions for transportation by the district or would require the district to provide additional teachers or rooms at an expense greater than the amount of reimbursement paid to the district by the State on account of the instruction of such children]

Section 1 Section 2541 act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" is amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read

Section 2541 Payments on Account of Pupil Transportation School districts shall be paid by the Commonwealth for every school year on account of pupil transportation which and the means and contracts providing for which have been approved by the Department of Public Instruction in the cases hereinafter enumerated an amount to be determined by multiplying the cost of approved reimbursable pupil transportation incurred by the district by the district standard reimbursement fraction In addition thereto the Commonwealth shall pay to school districts which own their own vehicles an annual depreciation charge of ten per centum (10%) to be calculated on the basis of the certified cost at which the district acquired the vehicle for which depreciation is claimed

Such payments for pupil transportation shall be made in the following cases

(7) To all school districts for the transportation of non-resident children who are placed in the home of a resident or who are inmates of an orphan asylum or home or a children's home or other institution for the care and training of orphans or other children and who attend the public schools and who live two miles or more from the nearest school with the proper grades

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1838, as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" further regulating the admission of beginners to the public schools The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1304 act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" amended July 27, 1953 (P. L. 629) is amended to read

Section 1304 Admission of Beginners The admission of beginners to the public schools shall be confined to the first two weeks of the annual school term in districts operating on an annual promotion basis and to the first two weeks of either the first or the second semester of the school term in districts operating on a semi-annual promotion basis except when a good reason satisfactory to the school board is furnished for failure of an applicant to attend at such time Admission shall be limited to beginners who have attained the age of five years and seven months before the first day of September if they are to be admitted in the fall and to those who have attained the age of five years and seven months before the first day of February if they are to be admitted at the beginning of the second semester The board of school directors of any school district may admit beginners who are less than five years and seven months of age in accordance with rules and regulations established by the State Council of Education The board of school directors may refuse to accept or retain beginners who have not attained a mental age of five years as determined by the county supervisor of special education or a properly certified public school psychologist in accordance with rules and regulations established by the State Council of Education

The term "beginners" as used in this section shall mean any child that should enter the lowest grade of the primary school or the lowest primary class above the kindergarten level

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no" on this measure.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

HOUSE BILL No. 949 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I call up out of order, from page 13 of today's Second Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 949, Printer's No. 1106.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 949, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for courses of study in first aid to be included during the last four years of any complete high school program

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. SEYLER and WAGNER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1605), page 3, line 11, by striking out "shall" and inserting in lieu thereof: "may"; amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1605), page 3, lines 15 to 18, by striking out "The" in line 15, both of lines 16 and 17 and "scribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction" in line 18; amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1605), page 3, lines 19 and 20, by striking out "instruction based upon."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 949, Printer's No. 1106, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McCreesh. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 231, Printer's No. 486, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REMAINING BILLS ON SECOND READING CALENDAR OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the remaining bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 1777, Printer's No. 1169.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VAN SANT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 963, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Senate committee appointed to cooperate with certain State departments and commissions with regard to certain matters concerning stream pollution in the Lehigh Canal.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HOLLAND, on behalf of Mr. DENT, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 964, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of March, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 83), entitled "An act for the protection of public health by regulating the serving of milk for drinking purposes to patrons of hotels, restaurants, lunch rooms, fountains, and dining cars; and providing penalties," by revising the definition of milk dispensers, providing for additional regulation thereof, and extending the provisions of the act to any public place.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 284 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to: none.

In the Senate, January 31, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) that Senate Bill No. 284, Printer's No. 441, entitled "An act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined' creating the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 285 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 31, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) that Senate Bill No. 285, Printer's No. 442, entitled "An act relating to the practice of chiropractic conferring powers and imposing duties on the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction and providing penalties," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have been asked by a great number of people when the sorrowful event will take place and I shall have to resign from the Senate. I say this with really some feeling because, after twenty-one years in Harrisburg, you do become attached to the people and to the place.

Although I have differed considerably with a great number, I have always believed in the principles of my Party and have tried to live up to their principles. I have fought hard because I believed in them and I will continue to fight hard. I hope that any ill feeling that I may have caused by arguments will be forgiven when I leave. Remember I am saying, "after I leave." In fact, I see a number of lobbyists sitting around here who I think are smiling very lovely right this morning. I think they would have liked to have had something to do with my going away. I have presented many bills affecting the lobbyists. I might add, however, that they have made no donations to my campaigns.

Mr. President, I feel a little sorry for leaving many of the different friends I have made on both sides of the Senate. I think we have all fought and believed in what we believe in. That, after all, is the American way. If we all believed alike, we would have very poor government. It is the difference of opinion that makes America. I think you will agree with me that I have differed with you many, many times.

I just want to say that with the certification by the County Board of Elections, to the State Board and then to the Congress of the United States will take a few more days and, from all indications, I will not resign until the beginning of next week. Just as soon as certification has been made, I will resign.

I also would like to be here to vote on a Workmen's Compensation Act because I think this Workmen's Compensation Act is one that is needed a great deal in Pennsylvania. Although there are many parts I disagree with and I think there should be some amendments, it will help a great deal with men who have been totally disabled. As it now exists in Pennsylvania, a man who is totally disabled receives his compensation only for so many weeks. At the end of that time, he is thrown on the heap of the broken down machinery, just like a piece of machinery. I hope that this bill will be voted upon by Tuesday of next week.

Mr. President, I want to assure everyone that I am leaving with the best in my heart for everybody, both Republicans and Democrats. I am sorry to leave some of those old Pinchot Democrats who were with me many, many years ago. Senator Wade was a very wonderful Pinchot Democrat and I have always had a lot of respect for him, especially when he was a Pinchot Democrat. After all, I have always considered Mr. Pinchot close to the Democrats. Of course, I have always had a lot of respect for Senator Graybill Diehm, one of the finest gentlemen in the Senate, who also was with Pinchot and myself in many campaigns of the past. I am awfully sorry that I cannot say that Senator Diehm is now a Democrat. Unfortunately, he stayed with the Republican Party. For the State, it is unfortunate that he stayed with the Republican Party. Even the President pro tempore was at one time a Pinchot follower. Therefore, on the other side of the Senate, there are many who, years ago, started the revolution in Pennsylvania. I am sorry they did not stay with us in order to continue the revolution.

I think this is the last time I will talk in the Senate and I just want to say that I have enjoyed being with all of you. I have a lot of respect for the entire Membership. We have differed and if we did not differ, we would not be Americans. I wish all of you good health. I want to leave one warning with you, Mr. President, and that is to see that these fellows eat on time. I think a lot of the trouble has been caused by the irregular eating habits of the Members of the Senate. I might add that perhaps they should not eat too many of the big feeds provided for by the lobbyists. They are a little too strong for them. That, too, might help the lobbyists on their expense accounts.

I want it known that I have enjoyed the years and I want to feel that I am still a part of this great organization, the Senate. I am leaving the Senate with sorrow, that I must leave some of the best friends I have ever had, coming from both sides of the Senate. Just as soon as the certification comes through, next week, I will take my seat in Congress. I want to offer to both the Democrats and the Republicans the use of my office in Washington at all times. Anyone who comes down to Washington as a Pennsylvanian, asking for things for Pennsylvania, I want to assure you that I will give every bit of help that I can to you, regardless of Party.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am very sorry that Senator Dent is not on hand today to hear Senator Holland's last speech. I might say, too, that when Senator Holland leaves, I, for one, am going to miss him considerably. I will miss that occasional punch on the back and hearing him say, "Bill, what bill are we on now? Watch it real close." That has happened for quite a number of years. As a matter of fact, the Democratic State Chairman just talked with me a few moments ago and he said that he hoped when Senator Holland went to Washington, D. C., if he wrote any magazine articles, Senator Barr hopes that Senator Holland will read them before he signs them.

In all sincerity, Mr. President, I, for one, will certainly miss Senator Holland. He and I have worked closely together. I hold him in the highest esteem. I say that Senator Holland is one of the most able men that we have on the Democratic side. I know that when he goes to Congress, Senator Holland will certainly make a name for himself and the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County will know that they are actively represented by Senator Holland in Congress.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, the Republicans in Allegheny County recognized Senator Holland's true worth in the Senate of Pennsylvania and we did everything we could to keep him here. We thought we would like to have him stay in Harrisburg but, unfortunately, we were not able to do that.

Seriously, Senator Holland, I want to say to you that all of us on this side wish you every success in your new undertaking in Congress. We feel that you will serve with distinction down there.

In so far as your reference to former Governor Pinchot, maybe we will take your advice to heart and look around and get us a new Pinchot and we will sweep you fellows out of office. Then you will be glad you are in Washington where you will not have to be troubled with another Republican Administration here.

We all wish you sincerely the best of luck in Washington. Godspeed to you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I also wish to say that I sincerely regret to see Senator Holland leave this Body.

I want to say to the Republicans that if you think Senator Holland fought with you and you only, you are mistaken. We had plenty of fights with him, and he with us, in the Democratic Caucus. However, I always felt that Senator Elmer Holland fought for what he thought was right. I want to say to Senator Holland that I personally regret to see him leave this Body, but I am sure he is going on to greater work in Washington.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to make a statement on two different subjects. However, first I want to talk about Senator Holland.

Mr. President, as you know, I am promoting a book which I hope will be published in the not too distant future. The name of the book is "I Saw Them Come and Go; McGinnis' Cavalcade of America." Now, I am going to undertake another opus and that will be "Mr. Elmer Goes to Congress."

This is not the first time that Elmer went to Congress. He was already in the Congress of the United States and he came at a crucial moment, when the fate of our Country hung in balance. There were many, many elements that were confused about the destiny of this country. It was at this time that Senator Holland, at that time Congressman Holland, did not hesitate for a moment to lock in combat with the mightiest people in Washington.

When I used to go to New York, people would ask me, "Who is that Elmer Holland?" Senator Holland is a fearless fighter and I am looking forward to great feats.

However, Mr. President, I primarily got up this morning in my capacity as amanuensis to Senator Chapman. In his absence, I must make this statement. I received in this morning's mail a letter pertaining to the dogs. As you know, this is one of those burning issues, next to taxes in Pennsylvania. The letter is addressed as follows:

"Republican Senator from Philadelphia County"

Well, Mr. President, who is it? The letter contains the following:

"Please consider this letter my protest against bill 231 pending in the Legislature—that all stray animals, etc., are to be given to hospitals and clinics for vivisection.

"This is a horrible and disgraceful bill, worthy of medieval thinking and does not belong in the laws of a civilized state."

By implication, Mr. President, this letter indicates that the Republicans are for the dogs and we are against the dogs. When the smoke of battle will lift, you will find that this issue will cross Party lines. I, for one, resent to be branded as a medieval man, you see. This is how they brand the Democrats. In other words, in the minds of the people who are the proponents of the dogs, here are the Democrats against the poor creatures and the Republicans are for them. I object.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am sure it is with regret that we heard the parting address of our colleague, Senator Holland. I want to thank him for the endearing terms that he applied to me, to Senator Diehm and others. We will miss Senator Holland here in the Senate. He has added spice, frequently, to our Senate discussions and debates. We certainly wish him well in Washington.

He referred to our irregular eating habits and asked that we correct them. He has done a great deal toward correcting them while he was here in the Senate. I would like to tell Senator Holland, soon to be Congressman Holland again, that the most important thing I think is, after all, that we do eat. Even though our Sessions seem long, tedious and tiresome, yet we do eat finally. We will miss Senator Holland and we wish him well in his new endeavors.

I do not know whether it is sabotage or not, but I am reminded by some of my colleagues, and especially our President pro tempore, that we sincerely hope Senator Holland will support the President when he gets to Washington.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I must answer that by saying that I shall support the President every time he is right. I think, if you will look at the record, the Democrats have supported the President as much, if not more, than some of the Republicans have.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 239, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594), entitled "Rural State Highway Law," adding a new route in Allegheny County.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 811, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law," adding a new route in the Borough of Carnegie.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 913, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law," adding new routes in Carnegie Borough, Allegheny County.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, February 6, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.
The Senate adjourned at 11:33 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, February 6, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, JANUARY 31, 1956

The House met at 2:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Howard W. Bock, Pastor of the Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, York, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father in Heaven, Who hast created us in Thine own image, and in Whom we find rest and strength and peace; we come unto Thee in our daily need.

Because Thou hast so richly endowed our land and hast so greatly loved us, our tasks lie heavy upon us and their importance is rightly magnified. We pray that the example of Thy love may not be wasted by us in our dealings and deliberations.

Our prejudice and willfulness burden our spirits when we consider how mercifully Thou dost deal with us. As Thou dost readily hear us, so make us ever ready to listen to the pleas of others. As Thou dost forgive us our grave sins and errors, so let us deal forgivingly with the faults and foibles of our fellowmen. So also lead our fellowmen to forgive us.

Let not our prayers be vain words and meaningless phrases. By Thy Holy Spirit help us to provide by our actions the living answer to our needs. Make each of us channels through which righteous justice and good government may come to pass.

As we expect Thee to ruthlessly overlook and readily forgive the flotsam and jetsam of our chaotic and misdirected sinfulness, help us to overlook the evil in others. As Thou dost seek out only the good and worthwhile in us, so let us expect and emphasize the good in others.

In the name of Jesus Christ, the embodiment of Thy love, and our preceptor in human relations, we pray Thee, Amen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, please come to the rostrum? The Chair asks the indulgence of the House for one more day and asks the gentleman from Cambria to preside.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, January 30, 1956, will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has referred the following House Resolutions:

By Messrs. BAZIN, GELFAND, EILBERG and WELSH.
RESOLUTION No. 147.

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1956.

With the discovery of the atom and hydrogen bombs, and with the development of the guided missiles and jet propelled planes the probabilities of sneak enemy attacks on the United States comes closer to realization. The general public should realize the seriousness of the situation. The House of Representatives recognizes the splendid work being done by the State Council of Civil Defense, its Director and all the local civil defense units in the organization, recruiting, training, maintenance and operation of aircraft warning services, observation and listening posts, information and control centers, including the location thereof, and such other services and facilities as may be necessary for the prompt reception and transmission of air raid warnings and drills. The State Council of Civil Defense is empowered by law to formulate and execute plans for the carrying out of practice blackouts, air raid drills and warning and of all precautionary measures under actual conditions of hostile air raids or enemy attack. Presently, the method practiced in warning the general public of an air raid or enemy attack is by sirens located at so called strategic points. Due to sound proof buildings, to the tumult of crowds in department stores and places of amusements, to the noise of factory machinery, it has been pointed out that the siren warning is not audible or effective as to the public congregated in such buildings, business establishments, factories, places of amusement and many other buildings used by the general public; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives recommends and urges the State Council of Civil Defense to promulgate and adopt regulations for establishing a system of listening posts for the purpose of communicating vital information directly and simultaneously to those people at work and in public places who do not have access to radio or other methods of communication during business or working hours or in times of any emergency when it is of extreme importance to communicate directly with a great number of people by recommending the installation of public address systems or such similar equipment in all buildings, stores, factories, places of amusement and business catering to twenty-five or more persons; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the State Director of Civil Defense.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WELSH, TOLL, MORAN, McKEEVER and LEVEN.
RESOLUTION No. 148.

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1956.

Since the Salk polio vaccine was perfected and made available to the public last year there seems to have grown a great aura of mystery or ignorance as to how this great boon to children is dispensed in this Commonwealth.

According to public figures available, twenty percent of the vaccine is channeled through the Health Department and eighty percent has been allocated to commercial use or dispensed on a fee basis.

Approximately 800,000 school children have received the first two shots and no plans are evident to provide the third shot.

Over 2,000,000 children under the age of fourteen years are yet to be inoculated, but little is being done to reach these children or stimulate the parents to request the vaccine.

We have the odd situation of vaccine becoming outdated and discarded although there is not enough vaccine available to inoculate all children in the above age group.

The National Infantile Paralysis Foundation has withdrawn from further participation in the program and refuses any assistance in providing the third and final inoculation. In spite of this there is no let-up in the fund raising effort.

Physicians generally are uninformed or have no plan for providing the Salk vaccine other than through the time honored doctor-patient relationship.

Recently the County Medical Director in Pittsburgh attempted to set up a plan to give Salk vaccine before the stock on hand became outdated, but doctors in private practice raised such strong objections that the plan was dropped and the vaccine will probably be thrown away on February 1.

Pennsylvania has 2,000,000 children who should be protected by June 1 (polio season), and this is properly a Public Health Program.

Under the circumstances, fees to physicians should take second place and every effort be made to give the children Salk vaccine regardless of ability to pay; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives urge the Department of Health to formulate plans to make available Salk polio vaccine so that all children under the age of fourteen years may be inoculated within the prescribed periods; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Health take the necessary steps to prevent the vaccine from becoming outdated; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of Health.

House Bill No. 1782, Printer's No. 1114

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the House that tomorrow's session, will be held at 10:00 o'clock, will be a consent calendar session for the purpose of moving some bills up and clearing the table of various matters.

I also would like to state that the Members should be prepared to definitely stay at least three days next week. A letter will be sent to the Members indicating that the session will be held again on Monday at 1:00 o'clock. When the letter is sent it may be possible to tell you definitely how many days we expect you to stay here next week.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HOCKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last week on Tuesday I rose in this House and made a statement that I was not cross at anybody, I was not mad at anybody and I was not going to call names.

Today I don't know whether I am or am not. I think a great injustice has been done to a great man in this House. The Speaker of this House, Mr. Andrews, took the time and a lot of effort to address this House last week and asked that a bipartisan committee be appointed on the part of both sides of this House to get together and try to work out of this deadlock which we have been in for thirteen months.

I agreed with the gentleman wholeheartedly, and I think for a man of his age to put so much effort into something is the sign of a statesman, I have every reason to believe Mr. Andrews was sincere. In fact I know he was.

The following day the front office in this Capitol issued a statement, which was in my paper, that they thought it was the right thing to do, it would move them closer to their fifty-fifty program.

When, Oh, when, is this man in the front office going to learn to let this great body of people, the House and the Senate, alone? I think if they are left alone they will do a job. I do not think there is anyone in the House or the Senate who does not want to do a job. When is he going to learn to stop talking and listen? When is he going to depend on men like the great Speaker of this House and the Majority and the Minority Leaders to furnish him with the money that he says he needs? They will, I have every reason to believe, they will.

Again on Saturday night I listened to his speech on television. He again made the same statement that he thought through this maneuver we would get closer to his program of a fifty-fifty deal.

Let me tell you this, Mr. Speaker, and I am by no means trying to supersede that committee, I have every reason to believe that committee is going to do a good job, but if he would let them alone, let them do the job which they are going to try honestly and sincerely to do, if he would go down on that farm and take about three weeks vacation, I think we could iron out this thing and do a job.

I have no quarrel with the Governor other than the fact that he does not let this Legislature alone and do what it wants to do.

I stated I thought Mr. Andrews was a great statesman, and I do very sincerely believe he is. I have been here with him ten years and he has always tried to do a real job for the people of this Commonwealth.

With regard to this statement I would like to read into the record a copy of a letter sent to me, a letter which was sent to the Governor of this Commonwealth concerning another outspoken feeling he had about something which the letter will explain:

Mr. George M. Leader

Governor of the Commonwealth of Penna.

State Capitol

Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Governor:

It would appear that you authorized the following statement to be issued through the Patriot, Harrisburg, Penna. The article appears on the front page of the second section, their issue of January 27, 1956: I'm for moving Boies Penrose down by the river where nobody will notice him . . . or for leaving him in the middle of the street as a pedestrian.

I feel that it is time for you to assume the High Honor that was given you, when you took the oath of office as Governor of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Quit making attacks on everyone else, mostly by having your publicity appearing in the public press, or radio and TV. You would do well if you learn to be a leader, instead of crying on everyone's shoulder.

I feel you have stooped to the lowest level, when you issue a statement as quoted above, against a great statesman of the past.

The great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania lost one of the greatest public officials we were fortunate to have as a representative of Pennsylvania. From my viewpoint, this past year, you have shown yourself far from being a statesman.

I, like yourself, also was born in the County of York, and have been a resident of Pennsylvania for the past sixty-one years and during that period of time it was my endeavor to uphold those public officials who were doing their utmost to assist their fellow countrymen.

Signed:

J. Russell Sheffer
4117 Greencourt
Harrisburg, Penna.

I am happy to read this into the record because it is one of my constituents. Be he Republican or Democrat, I have not had an opportunity to learn, but I am going to check. If he is a Republican, I am going to use him in my next campaign.

Seriously, members, I think it is time to stop this name-calling, this tearing apart of the great men of the past and great men that are here now.

I hope that the Governor of this great Commonwealth will take heed and keep quiet until this situation is resolved in this House.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1802, as follows:

which can be paid (as shall be designated by the Secretary) to the workmen employed in the performance of the contract and the contract shall contain a stipulation that such workmen shall be paid not less than such minimum wage rate

Section 4 Duty of Public Body The public body awarding any contract for public work or otherwise undertaking any public work shall ascertain from the Secretary the general prevailing minimum wage rate in the locality in which the public work is to be performed for each craft needed to perform the contract and shall specify in the contract itself what the general prevailing minimum wage rate in the locality is for each craft or needed to perform the contract

Section 5 Prevailing Wage Not less than the general prevailing minimum wage rate for work of a similar character in the locality in which the public work is performed shall be paid to all workmen employed on public work

Section 6 Duty of Contractor Every contractor and subcontractor shall keep an accurate record showing the name craft and the actual hourly rate of wage paid to each workman employed by him in connection with public work and such record shall be preserved for two years from the date of payment The record shall be open at all reasonable hours to the inspection of the public body awarding the contract and to the Secretary

Section 7 Duty of Secretary (a) The Secretary shall determine the general prevailing minimum rate of wage rate in the locality in which the public work is to be performed for each craft needed to perform public work contracts Nothing in this act however shall prohibit the payment of more than the general prevailing minimum wage rate to any workman employed on public work Provided however that the payment by an employer of contributions for employee benefits pursuant to a bona fide collective bargaining agreement shall be considered wages for the purposes of this act the Secretary shall forthwith give notice by mail of all determinations of general prevailing minimum wage rates made pursuant to this section to any representative of any craft any employer or any representative of any group of employers who shall in writing request the Secretary so to do

(b) In determining such rates the Secretary shall ascertain and consider the applicable wage rates established by bona fide collective bargaining agreements between the historically established and recognized bargaining representatives of the workmen in the particular crafts involved and their employers or the bargaining representatives of the employers employing workmen in such crafts

Section 8 Review of Rates Petition and Hearing Any prospective bidder or his representative any representative of any group of employers engaged in the particular type of construction reconstruction alteration and diagonal or repair work involved any representative of any craft of workmen or the public body may within ten (10) days after the publication and issue of the specifications covering the particular contract for public work involved may file with the Secretary a verified petition to review the determination of any such rate or rates Within two (2) days thereafter a copy of such petition shall be filed with the public body authorizing the public work The petition shall set forth the facts upon which it is based The Secretary shall upon notice to the petitioner the public body authorizing the public work and the recognized collective bargaining representatives for the particular crafts involved and also to all persons entitled to receive notice pursuant to section seven (a) hereof institute an investigation and hold a public hearing within twenty (20) days after the filing of such petition Within ten (10) days thereafter the Secretary shall make a determination and transmit it in writing to the public body and to the interested parties Such determination shall be final

Upon receipt by the public body of the notice of the filing of such petition the public body awarding the contract or authorizing the public work shall extend the closing date for the submission of bids until five (5) days after the determination of the general prevailing minimum wage rates pursuant to this section and the publication of such findings

Upon the filing of any such petition notice thereof and of the extension of the closing date for submission of bids shall be given forthwith by the awarding public body in a special bulletin to all interested parties as defined herein notice shall also be given to the bidders by the awarding body of the final determination of the Secretary which shall also be included in the contract The determination of the Secretary shall be included in the contract

Section 9 Posting of Rates Contractors and subcontractors performing public work for a public body subject to the provisions of this act shall post the general prevailing minimum wage rates for each craft involved as determined by the Secretary in prominent and easily accessible places at the site of the work or at such place or places as are used by them to pay workmen their wages

Section 10 Duty of Public Body (a) Before final payment is made by or on behalf of any public body of any sum or sums due on public work it shall be the duty of the treasurer of the public body or other officer or person charged with the custody and disbursement of the funds of the public body to require the contractor and sub-contractor to file statements in writing in form satisfactory to the Secretary certifying to the amounts then due and owing from such contractor and sub-contractor filing such statement to any and all workmen for wages due on account of public work setting forth therein the names of the persons whose wages are unpaid and the amount due to each respectively which statement so to be filed shall be verified by the oath of the contractor and sub-contractor as the case may be that he has read such statement subscribed by him knows the contents thereof and that the same is true of his own knowledge provided nevertheless that nothing herein shall impair the right of a contractor to receive final payment because of the failure of any subcontractor to comply with provisions of this act

(b) In case any workman shall have filed a portest in writing within three (3) months from the date of the occurrence of the incident complained of with the Secretary objecting to the payment to any contractor to the extent of the amount or amounts due or to become due to him for wages for labors performed on public works The Secretary shall direct the fiscal or financial officer of the public body or other person charged with the custody and disbursements of the funds of the public body to deduct from the whole amount of any payment on account thereof the sum or sums admitted by any contractor in such statement or statements so filed to be due and owing by him on account of wages earned on such public work before making payment of the amount certified for payment and may withhold the amount so deducted for the benefit of the workmen whose wages are unpaid as shown by the verified statement filed by any contractor and may pay directly to any workmen the amount shown to be due to him for such wages by the statements filed as hereinbefore required thereby discharging the obligation of the contractor to the person receiving such payment to the extent of the amount there-of

(c) Any contractor or subcontractor who shall under oath verify the statement required to be filed under this section which is known to him to be false shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be sentenced to pay a fine of not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding five (5) years or both

Section 11 Remedies and penalties (a) The fiscal or financial officer or any public body having public work performed under which any workman shall have been paid less than the prevailing wage shall forthwith notify the Secretary in writing of the name of the person or firm failing to pay the prevailing wages

(b) Any workman may within three (3) months from the date of the occurrence of the incident complained of file a protest in writing with the Secretary objecting to the amount of wages paid for services performed by him on public work as being less than the prevailing wages for such services

(c) Whenever a fiscal or financial officer of any public body shall notify the Secretary that any person or firm required to pay its workmen the prevailing wage under this act has failed so to do or whenever any workman employed upon public work shall have filed a timely protest objecting that he has been paid less than prevailing wages as required by this act it shall be the duty of and the Secretary shall forthwith investigate the matter and determine whether or not there has been a failure to pay the prevailing wages and whether such failure was intentional or otherwise in any such investigation the Secretary shall provide for an appropriate hearing upon due notice to interested parties including the workmen the employer and their respective representatives if any

(d) In the event that the Secretary shall determine after notice and hearing as required by this section that any person or firm has failed to pay the prevailing wages and that such failure was not intentional he shall afford such person or firm a reasonable opportunity to adjust the matter by making payment or providing adequate security for the payment of the amounts required to be paid under this act as prevailing wages to the workmen affected on such terms and conditions as shall be approved by the Secretary

(e) In the event that the Secretary shall determine after notice and hearing as required by this section that any person or firm has failed to pay the prevailing wages and that such failure was intentional he shall thereupon notify all public bodies of the name or names of such persons or firms and no contract shall be awarded to such persons or firms or to any firm corporation or partnership in which such persons or firms have an interest until three (3) years have elapsed from the date of the notice to the public bodies aforesaid the secretary may in addition thereto request the attorney general to proceed to recover the penalties for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which are payable under subsection (f) of this section

(f) Whenever it shall be determined by the secretary after notice and hearing as required by this section that any person or firm has failed to pay the prevailing wages and that such failure was intentional such person or firm shall be liable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for liquidated damages in addition to damages for any other breach of the contract in the amount of the underpayment of wages due any workman engaged in the performance of such contract

(g) It shall not constitute a failure to pay the prevailing wage rates for the work of a particular craft where the prevailing wage rates determined for a specific craft has been paid and it is asserted that one or more bona fide craft unions contend that the work should have been assigned to their members instead of the members of the specific craft to whom it was assigned or by whom it was performed

(h) The following shall constitute substantial evidence of intentional failure to pay prevailing wage rates

(1) Any acts of omission or commission done wilfully or with a knowing disregard of the rights of workmen resulting in the payment of less than prevailing wage rates

(2) After there has been a finding by the secretary in the manner required by this section that any person or firm has failed to pay the prevailing wages prescribed by this act and thereafter there shall be a failure by such person or firm to pay the prevailing wages prescribed by this act or there shall be a subsequent failure of such person or firm to comply with any opportunity to adjust any differences which shall be afforded him by the secretary.

Section 12 In any case where the secretary shall have determined that any person or firm has failed to pay the prevailing wages under subparagraph (e) and (f) of section eleven hereof he may direct the public body to terminate and the public body may terminate any such contractor's right to proceed with the public work

Section 13 Workmen's Rights Any workmen paid less than the rates specified in the contract shall have a right of action for the difference between the wages so paid and the wages stipulated in the contract which right of action shall be instituted within six (6) months from the occurrence of the event creating such right

Section 14 Rules and Regulations The Secretary is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate rescind and enforce rules and regulations pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act

Section 15 Application of Act This act shall have no application to any public works subject to the Walsh-Healey Act the Act of June 30, 1936 ch 881 49 Stat 2036 41 USCA § 35-45 or the Davis Bacon Act the Act of March 3, 1931 40 U S Code 276(a)

Section 16 Repealer All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 17 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-six

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

NOT VOTING—1

Worley,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1866 as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the use and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" further regulating the rights of employees of county health departments"

Section 1 Clause 6 of section 1 act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" amended January 14, 1952 (P. L. 1911) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

* * *

6 "State employee" shall mean any person holding a State office or position under the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania employed and paid on a yearly or monthly basis by the State Government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any capacity whatsoever and shall include also any attorney solicitor investigator appraiser and clerk employed by the year or by the month in the office of any register of wills howsoever appointed whose compensation is actually paid from Commonwealth moneys and shall also include all judges of the several courts of this Commonwealth whose salaries are paid by the Commonwealth and also all clerks and secretaries employed by judges and paid on a yearly or monthly basis by such judges from moneys appropriated by the Commonwealth for such purposes and also all persons employed by the State Board of Law Examiners of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and also all present future or former members of the General Assembly who receive or have received their salaries for regular and special sessions of the Legislature as fixed by law and also all officers and employees of the Pennsylvania State [College] University paid on a yearly or monthly basis other than those paid wholly from Federal funds also all employees of any single county department of health or any joint county department of health created under the Local Health Administration Law being Act No 315 approved August 24, 1951 paid on a yearly or monthly basis except employees of such county department of health who shall choose to retain membership in the retirement system of the political subdivision by which they

NOT VOTING—1

Worley,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 881, as follows:

An Act declaring the public interest in certain historic sites and buildings and providing for certificates and markers

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 All the historic sites and buildings listed in the Report of the Joint State Government Commission of March 1949 entitled "Catalog of Historical Buildings Sites and Remains in Pennsylvania" and any other historic sites and buildings which may be designated by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission are hereby declared to be of significance and value to the history of this Commonwealth and their protection and preservation are hereby declared to be a matter of public interest

Section 2 In designating historic sites and buildings not contained in the "Catalog of Historical Buildings Sites and Remains in Pennsylvania" the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall be guided by the standards followed by the Joint State Government Commission in preparing this report and shall consider these sites and buildings in terms of generality of historical significance uniqueness accessibility and present condition

Section 3 The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall issue and deliver a certificate to each individual agency or organization owning or administering a historic site or building which has thus been declared to be of significance and value of the history of this Commonwealth This certificate shall state that the site or building has been designated as a historic site or building of Pennsylvania and shall give recognition to the owner or administrator for maintaining and preserving a distinctive part of Pennsylvania's historic heritage

Section 4 To distinguish these historic sites and buildings of Pennsylvania each such site or building may be marked by a suitable plaque or marker Upon the petition of the county historical society or of not less than twenty citizens of the county the board of county commissioners of each county is hereby authorized to appropriate moneys from the county funds for the purchase and placing of such plaques or markers within the county by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission The Commission shall plan and determine the size text and construction of these plaques or markers so that they will be uniformly applicable throughout the Commonwealth and not detract from the appearance of any building or site where they may be used

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" authorizing the lease or grant of real estate under the jurisdiction of the Department of Forests and Waters in the City of Philadelphia for the purpose of aiding the establishment of parking services and facilities within State Park Areas situate within the city

Section 1 Section 1806 act of April 9 1929 (P L 177) known as "The Administrative Code of 1929" is amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read

Section 1806 Parks The Department of Forests and Waters shall have the power and its duty shall be

* * *

(i) For the purpose of providing parking facilities and incidental services within the borders of any State Park Area situate in the City of Philadelphia to lease or grant by and with the written approval of the Governor any portion of any such State Park Area underground above-ground or both to the city or to any parking authority now or hereafter existing in the city pursuant to the provisions of the act of June 5 1947 (P L 458) known as the "Parking Authority Law" as the same may now or hereafter be amended if

(1) The City of Philadelphia or the parking authority agrees that the lands and interests and privileges therein shall be used by the city or parking authority or any lessee or sub-lessee holding under either of them pursuant to any lease or sub-lease granted by the city or parking authority as may be permitted by law to promote the establishment of parking services and facilities but portions of the street level or lower floors of the parking facilities may be leased for commercial use including emergency automobile repair service and the sale by the lessee of any commodity of trade or commerce or any service except the sale of gasoline or automobile accessories and

(2) the Department with the written approval of the Governor determines that the lease or grant

(i) will aid in promoting the public safety convenience and welfare of the people of Philadelphia by aiding in the establishment of adequate parking services for the convenience of the public and otherwise promoting the public policy of the Commonwealth in authorization for the creation of parking authorities and

(ii) will not unduly interfere with the promotion of those public objects for which the State Park Area was acquired and for which it is held

Any lease or grant shall be upon the terms and conditions and for the period or periods of time the Department with the written approval of the Governor may prescribe. The Department shall execute and deliver and is empowered to receive deeds or other legal instruments necessary to effectuate any lease or grant. All deeds and instruments shall have the prior approval of the Department of Justice and a copy thereof shall be filed with the Department of Internal Affairs.

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

COMMEMORATING BIRTHDAY OF FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

Messrs. TOLL, LAWYER, LEVEN, WELSH, AMARANDO and KOLANKIEWICZ offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1956.

Whereas, January 30th, 1956 was the 74th anniversary of the birth of Franklin D. Roosevelt; and

Whereas, the former President of the United States brought a new era of strength, courage and determination to this Country; and

Whereas, much of the liberal legislation which prevails today in this Country was originally sponsored by Franklin D. Roosevelt with courage and conviction; and

Whereas, the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt restored the confidence of the American people in their heritage and in their future; therefore be it

Resolved, that the House of Representatives pay special tribute to the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt on his 74th birthday anniversary as of yesterday, January 30th, 1956 because he fully deserves to be enshrined in the hearts of the American people forever.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. TOLL, LEVEN, WELSH, AMARANDO and GRANVILLE E. JONES. RESOLUTION No. 149.

RESOLUTION

Advocating United States' efforts to Secure Permanent Peace in Middle East

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1956.

Whereas, former President Truman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt issued a joint statement containing the following plea to the United States Government on January 28, 1956:

1. "It is for the United States to restate and implement its basic principles in such a way that there can be no uncertainty as to where it stands."

"The cynical invitation to an arms race, the spreading of confusion and the exciting of mutual fear and hostility by the shipment of Communist arms to Egypt can be offset only by the clarification of our position, persistent efforts towards mutual confidence and our active efforts toward achieving peace.

"We must counteract every attempt by the Soviet Union to upset the present precarious balance of power in this area. This requires that the United States should now provide the defensive arms needed by Israel to protect itself against any aggression made possible or incited by the introduction of Communist arms."

2. "The threat to peace in the Middle East is a threat to world peace." "Border clashes with increasing frequency may at any time erupt into war which may spread far beyond the Middle East.

"The problems which have arisen between the Arab states and Israel, difficult though they are, can be solved, given good will and the sincere desire for peace," and

Whereas, the plea is timely in that it coincides with the visit of Prime Minister Eden of England to the United States; therefore be it

Resolved; that the recommendation of our senior citizens Truman and Roosevelt be adopted and followed by the United States Government and that copies of this Resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State and the Foreign Relations Committees of the United States, Senate and House of Representatives.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. HASS.

RESOLUTION No. 150.

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1956.

Resolved, That the Department of Highways is urged and requested to erect and maintain a toll bridge over the Susquehanna River from a point between Safe Harbor, and Holtwood, in Lancaster County, to a point on the opposite side of the river, in York County, in accordance with the authority granted to the department by the act of January 14, 1952 (P. L. 2046).

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FRANK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of the record and in reply to references of the gentleman on the other side of the House as to the permanent allocation setup in this bill, in the morning paper, if you ever take notice in the corner here, they always have a "Food for Thought," or they always mention something about, for instance this morning's is, "Good Morning if you don't have your driver's license by midnight, better take a cab or bus."

Now, I have a thought that I would like to read something worthwhile thinking about. I read in the paper the other week, that the State of New Jersey reported for the year of 1955, the skillo or bingo gross receipts were $18,500,000. Believe me, that could buy and awful lot of pencils in the state of Pennsylvania.

I do hope that the committee that has that bill will consider exactly what I am telling you—$18,500,000.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, February 1, 1956 at 10:00 a.m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:01 p.m.) the House adjourned.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

SENATE BILL No. 480, PRINTER'S No. 342, RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 3, 1956.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 480, Printer's No. 342, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 25, 1951 (P. L. 415) entitled 'An act relating to habeas corpus conferring jurisdiction upon the judges of the courts of common pleas prescribing venue defining procedure in all cases authorizing service to be made upon persons anywhere in the Commonwealth providing for the imposition of costs allowing appeals specifying the appellate court to which appeals may be taken and repealing inconsistent legislation including that conferring jurisdiction on courts of quarter sessions' extending jurisdiction as to habeas corpus to courts of quarter sessions."

This bill amends the Act of May 25, 1951, P. L. 415, which regulates procedure and jurisdiction in habeas corpus proceedings.

The amendatory language of the bill would extend jurisdiction in these proceedings to the courts of quarter sessions which court has jurisdiction in many matters involving crimes.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of Commonwealth ex rel. Paylor v. Claudy, 366 Pa. 282 (1951), at page 284, said of the writ of habeas corpus that:

"* * * It is a civil remedy rather than a criminal proceeding regardless of whether the prisoner is detained under civil or criminal process. * * *" (Underlining ours)

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has original jurisdiction of matters involving habeas corpus by virtue of Article V, Section 3 of the Constitution, and the Legislature conferred original jurisdiction upon the Superior Court by the Act of June 24, 1895, P. L. 212. Since the writ of habeas corpus is a civil remedy and so many courts are available for making application for writs, there is no necessity to confer jurisdiction upon the court of quarter sessions, a court of criminal jurisdiction to administer this civil remedy.

If the jurisdiction of the court of quarter sessions which is ordinarily concerned with criminal matters is to be extended to include this civil remedy, corrective provisions should be inserted in this bill before it is approved. However, because of the expiration of the ten day time limitation provided in our Constitution, I have no alternative but to veto the bill and suggest that if a new bill is prepared corrective provisions be included.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

GENERAL COMMUNICATION

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication, which was read by the Clerk:

Senate of Pennsylvania, February 6, 1956.

The Honorable Roy E. Furman President

Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Roy:

This is to notify you that I shall tender my resignation as of the end of the Session, Tuesday, February 7, 1956.

Sincerely yours,

ELMER J. HOLLAND,
(s) ELMER J. Holland,
State Senator,
38th District.

The PRESIDENT. This communication will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

REMARKS UPON THE RESIGNATION OF SENATOR ELMER J. HOLLAND

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we have just heard the reading of the resignation, in our midts, of one of our Members, Senator Elmer J. Holland.

Mr. President, although we are happy, in a sense, to see Elmer in the United States Congress, where we know he will continue his good work in the interest of the people, however, I know there is a regret on the part of the Membership of this Senate to see Elmer leave this Body. Outside of a few short months, I have served with Senator Holland since 1935. He left the Senate on two occasions; once, to serve out an interim term in the United States Congress, and the second time to serve in the United States Air Corps. I am sure the Membership of this Senate will lose the valued services that he has rendered.

You may have found, during the years, many reasons to criticize Senator Holland. However, there was one sure thing you never needed to worry about and that was that when Senator Holland gave his word on the question of a vote upon this floor, on any particular matter, you could rest assured that Elmer Holland would carry it through. I have found in my years of experience here that much of the legislation that is passed has to be passed because men decide that which is right or that which is wrong and stay with that decision.

Mr. President, Senator Holland has been an asset to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to the General Assembly, as a whole. He served better than twenty years in our midst and there are not too many citizens who have been selected, since the founding of the State Legislature itself, to serve a period of twenty years. Twenty years is a whole generation. In fact, legislatively speaking, it is more than a lifetime. During these twenty years, I am sure that Elmer has witnessed many changes. I remember, as he probably does, too, when we would meet and be in Session anywhere from eight to twelve weeks and then we would be on our way home. The problems were not acute in those days. For some reason or other, the people did not demand so many services from the Commonwealth. As the services have accumulated and piled up, so the problems of the Legislature have piled up and accumulated. Here we are, in Senator Holland's last Session of the General Assembly, with a Session that has lasted more than thirteen months. I am wondering how many of us realize that as the years roll by, the problems will become even greater and the solutions more difficult.

It is a difficult thing for any group of normal persons to meet in the General Assembly and attempt to anticipate the answers to problems that are two years hence. Because of this, and for no other reason, we find ourselves in the longest Session of the history of this great State. I am wondering, as Elmer leaves us and he starts to think a little about the days that now belong to memory, whether he does not carry with him a great many fond remembrances of the associations that he has made, of the friendships that he has gained. I am sure that, as one who has served with him, fought with him and voted with him, who has opposed him and joined him, I express the regrets of this Senate Body today in saying to you, Elmer, that the only joy that we get from your leaving is that you are going to a better position where you can serve the people even more than you have served them here. You are going to the United States Congress where you have had some experience. Those of us in this Senate know that the Congress could use men of Senator Holland's calibre. We know that this Nation of ours is facing up to problems far greater than the ones which are bothering this State Legislature. This Nation of ours will have to make some decisions in the near future that can well catapult us into a destructive and devastating war or set us on the road to everlasting peace.

Before you leave, Elmer, we know that we can rest assured that wherever your vote can be cast for the good of mankind, it will be so cast and that the people's problems are in good hands. To you, Elmer Holland, on behalf of the Senate, I say Godspeed, good luck, long life and a happy death.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I regret that Elmer Holland is leaving this Chamber. I think I am being fair when I say that I do not think there is a Senator on this floor who does not feel the same way.

Mr. President, Senator Holland is a self-made man. He has been a hard worker. He gets a little rought at times, but, on the whole, he has been a splendid Senator, a hard worker and a good Senator. I am not going to give all the credit to him, however, for his ascendancy. I am going to pay due respects to his wonderful wife and two children who are sitting over here. Will you please stand up? They have helped in many ways on his road upward.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, it is not my custom to ask the indulgence of the Senate very often nor could I, at this time, add anything to the encomiums which have been stated here regarding Senator Holland, who is soon to leave our Body. However, I do feel that I would like to say this and indulge in a personal reminiscence, if I may, because I believe that Senator Holland and Senator Louis Farrell and I, for a long time, were about the only Senators who came into Harrisburg on Sunday nights. Senator Holland was the first Senator, I believe, whom I met when I came down here in my first Session. We had many pleasant conversations and I will say that Senator Holland gave me a lot of help in my first experience in this Senate. Later on, I had the pleasure of meeting his lovely wife and his children, and I want to say that I do not know of a family who impressed me as being more congenial and nice.

Mr. President, although Senator Holland and I have differed, sometimes diametrically, on many questions which have arisen concerning bills in this Senate, I do not believe that we ever had any personal differences and our differences were entirely academic because of our different viewpoints on the material at hand.

Therefore, Mr. President, I, too, wish to join—and I think I can speak on behalf of all my colleagues—in the good wishes which this Senate extends to Senator Holland and his family in his new sphere of endeavor and in his associations.

Thank you very much.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, since we are throwing bouquets out here this afternoon to a fellow across the aisle, who has not been too kind to me at times, I want to remind him that he is now my Congressman. I do not want to omit that thought from the discussion this afternoon.

However, Mr. President, may I take this opportunity to wish Senator Holland and his family all the necessary attributes that he had in the Senate to carry on down in Congress. I am sure he will need it.

Whether the United States Congress is a better place than the Pennsylvania Senate, poses a question in my mind. I would consider the Pennsylvania Senate a better place than the United States Congress. Senator Holland is leaving a grand bunch of fellows and he will not realize that until he gets down to Washington. In the first place, it is too hot in Washington in the summertime but good luck any way, Senator Holland.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I think the lovely wife of Senator Holland, like the wife of every Member of the Senate, would agree that our bark is oftentimes worse than our bite.

I have associated with Senator Holland, I believe, during all the years that he has served in the Senate and I have always looked upon Senator Holland as one of my very best friends in the Senate. I wish for him long life and enjoyment in his work in Congress.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for use in the treatment of mentally retarded children and for the repair of buildings used in the treatment of mentally retarded children.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, last week, when Senator Holland told us he was going to resign this week, Senator Lane, in his speech, cautioned him about when he goes to Washington he is not to put any articles in magazines, et cetera, unless he had read them beforehand. Unfortunately, I do not think that word reached that man's office, which is on the fourth floor of the South Wing of the Capitol. The man I refer to is Doctor Charlesworth, who is the Secretary of Administration and not a Member of the Governor's Cabinet, as some newspapers have stated.

However, Mr. President, number one, as the State Chairman of the Democratic Party, I want to disavow the speech for the Democratic Party and for the Leader Administration. The newspapermen asked me on Friday morning, here in the Capitol, what I thought of it. I told them that I did not think much of it. I said that perhaps there were one or two things in it which I might agree with, but I would fight with my life in giving him the privilege to say what he cared to say.

I read the speech and there was one line in it in which I did concur. It was on page 3 and it said, "It so happens that I am supposed to be an administrator and am thereby interested in efficiency in the Executive Branch of the Government. But it also happens that I am supposed to be a student of government." Well, Doctor Charlesworth is a teacher of political science and I think he is also President of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. However, his politics and mine, as you know, are a little bit different. I know that when Doctor Charlesworth came here to do a job which was much needed here in the Capitol, he was registered as a non-partisan and I know his wife was registered as a Republican. I am the type of Irishman who does not think there is such a thing as being a non-partisan; I think everybody is either one thing or another.

Another thing that I got a kick out of from his speech was when he said that every political headquarters should have a complaint department. I would like to know what he thinks I am. That is all I have had for thirteen months. I think I can speak for the fifty Members of the Senate and for every County Chairman, whether he be Democrat or Republican, and say that we all know that at every political headquarters, ninety per cent of the people who come in, come in to complain.

You know, Mr. President, there have been some funny things done in the last three years. Most of them have been done, I would say, within the last three months. First, we had that General Motors gag of Brother Wilson. Then, we had his dog speech; then, we had Dulles' "brink" speech which came about the same time they found the fellows who robbed the Brinks Express. Then, we had Benson's article in a magazine which he said he had never read. Now, we have Brother Charlesworth making a speech which I know he did read. He delivered it himself.

In conclusion, Mr. President, I just want to say this. I consider it only as a literary classic that should rank with Rebecca Merlindy Johnson, the famous poet from Texas, in her "Beautiful Snow."

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, a few moments ago,

I introduced two bills, the effect of which would be to transfer jurisdiction over the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Farview, in Wayne County, Pennsylvania, from the Department of Welfare, where it now resides to the Department of Justice.

I do not know that this is the answer to a very, very serious problem at the Farview Hospital for the Criminally Insane. However, it is, perhaps, one method that will clear up this very bad situation. I think the situation is so bad that every possible means of improvement and alleviation must be considered. I introduced these bills so that the Senate can have them before it to study them in the proper committees. I will have other suggestions from time to time.

The nub of the problem is this, Mr. President. All of us know that Farview is maintained for those criminals who have been declared insane. However, it is important to remember that they are first of all criminals or they would not be there. Within the past six months, no fewer than twenty-seven persons have escaped from this hospital. Some have gone by ones and twos, and there has been at least one mass break. The present leadership in the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare is either unable or unwilling to cope with this situation. Nothing constructive, that I know of, has been done since the first break, early last summer. There has been some statement that more funds are needed, but, Mr. President, there are just as many employees now as there were there a year ago.

More important, it seems to me, Mr. President, is the refusal in some recent instances of the Department of Welfare to furnish to the State Police pictures of the escaped inmates. Certainly, everyone knows that as an aid in the detection and recapture of an escaped convict, a picture is very essential. The Department of welfare, for one reason or another, best known to itself, has refused to provide the State Police or any police agency with pictures of the escaped inmates. I understand in some instances, the various police agencies have had the cooperation of the wire services, the United Press and the Associated Press, in furnishing pictures so that they could be circulated in the usual police channels.

At least one of these escapees, in recent months, was a triple murderer. He had murdered three persons in his own family. Many of the others, of the twenty-seven who escaped in recent months, have been guilty of one or more murders. All of them are there because they committed serious crimes and all of them are there because, in addition, they are insane. Can any of us imagine what the people who live in the neighborhood, the people in Wayne County and the people in northern Lackawanna County, who live near this place, must think of when they go to bed at night, knowing that somewhere in the woods around them, or in the streets of their towns, there are dangerous escaped maniacs at large? Their local police forces do not even have a picture of the escapee with which to identify him if he should happen to be in the streets of any of the towns or boroughs.

Mr. President, this is a very, very serious situation. It is particularly serious to the people who live in nearby communities. It is serious to everyone in Pennsylvania and it should be serious to the Department of Welfare. I think one method of correcting this situation is to transfer this particular institution out from under the Department of Welfare and put it into the Department of Justice, along with the purely penal institutions or State penitentiaries. Perhaps the Bureau of Prisons is more experienced and better equipped to handle dangerous persons who require a maximum security in order to keep them in their cells. Certainly, on the record, in the past year, the Department of Welfare cannot be proud of itself in so far as protecting the citizens of Pennsylvania from these persons who have been incarcerated there by various judges. Maybe the answer is to make this more of a prison than a mental hospital, and to let the Bureau of Prisons govern this institution. I will, as I said, from time to time, until this situation is cleared up, have further suggestions to offer.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 687, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 14, 1929 (P. L. 1721) entitled "An act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresident owners of motor vehicles operated within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such a motor vehicle on the public highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the agent of the said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit" making the consent deemed to have been given by a nonresident operator or owner of a motor vehicle involved in an accident or collision within this Commonwealth for appointment of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as his agent for service of process irrevocable and binding upon his personal representative providing for service of process when the nonresident operator or owner has died prior to the commencement of an action and making changes to conform with existing law

Section 1 The title of the act of May 14, 1929 (P. L. 1721) entitled "An act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresident owners of motor vehicles operated within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such a motor vehicle on the public highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the agent of the said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit" is amended to read

An Act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresident owners of motor vehicles operated within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such a motor vehicle on the public highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the agent of the said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit

Section 2 Section 1 of the act amended May 23, 1949 (P. L. 1651) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c (a) That from and after the passage of this act any nonresident of this Commonwealth being the operator or owner of any motor vehicle who shall accept the privilege extended by the laws of this Commonwealth to nonresident operators and owners of operating a motor vehicle or of having the same operated within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any resident of this Commonwealth being the licensed operator or owner of any motor vehicle under the laws of this Commonwealth who shall subsequently become a nonresident or shall conceal his whereabouts shall by such acceptance or licensure as the case may be and by the operation of such motor vehicle within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania make and constitute the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania his her or their agent for the service of process in any civil suit or proceeding instituted in the courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or in the United States District Courts of Pennsylvania against such operator or owner of such motor vehicle arising out of or by reason of any accident or collision occurring within the Commonwealth in which such motor vehicle is involved

(b) A nonresident operator or owner of a motor vehicle which is involved in an accident or collision within this Commonwealth shall be deemed to have consented that the appointment of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as his agent for the service of process pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be irrevocable and binding upon his personal representative executor or administrator Where the nonresident motorist has died prior to the commencement of an action brought pursuant to this section service of process shall be made on the personal representative executor or administrator of such nonresident motorist in the same manner and on the same notice as is provided in the case of a nonresident motorist Where an action has been duly commenced under the provisions of this section by service upon a defendant who dies thereafter if the personal representative executor or administrator of such defendant does not voluntarily become a party he may be substituted as a party under the applicable Rules of Civil Procedure and service of process shall be made in the same manner and on the same notice as is provided in the case of a nonresident motorist

Section 8 Sections 2 and 3 of the act amended June 25, 1937 (P. L. 2277) are amended to read

Section 2 Such process shall be served by the officer to whom the same shall be directed upon the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by sending by registered mail postage prepaid at least fifteen (15) days before the return day of such process a true and attested copy thereof and by sending to the defendant by registered mail postage prepaid a like true and attested copy with an endorsement thereon of the service upon said Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth addressed to such defendant at his last known address The registered mail return receipts of the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth and of such defendant shall be attached to and made a part of the return of service of such process Provided That if the defendant refuses to accept the notice mailed or cannot be found at his last known address the registered mail return receipt or other evidence of such facts shall be attached to and made a part of the return and shall constitute sufficient service under the provisions of this section

Section 3 The officer serving such process upon the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth shall pay to said secretary at the time of service a fee of two dollars ($2.00) five dollars ($5.00) for each process served which fee shall be taxed as costs in the case The Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth shall keep a record of each such process and the day and hour of the service thereof upon him which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 687

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 687.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 696, Printer's No. 448, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

THIRD READING CALENDAR*BILL ON THIRD READING RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR*BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 773, Printer's No. 494, on third reading, recalled from the Governor, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

RECESS

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to announce that the Democratic Members will also hold a caucus.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 724, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," by requiring the payment of money withheld from State appropriations to pay default in rent to a municipality authority or nonprofit corporation.

Senate Bill No. 834, entitled:

An Act validating and confirming certain contracts heretofore entered into by municipality authorities for the construction of a school building project or projects and for relevant service contracts as a part of the construction when there is no evidence of fraud or conspiracy and authorizing or ratifying payments on such contracts or parts of contracts by the municipality authority upon approval thereof by the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Justice.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

THIRD READING CALENDAR*BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 173, entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment of police pension pension funds or pension annuities in certain boroughs towns and townships and the regulation and maintenance thereof providing for continuance of existing funds or transfer thereof to funds herein established prescribing rights of beneficiaries and repealing certain acts

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I object to the bill going over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues on this side of the aisle to vote "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. I desire to be recorded as voting "aye," Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Berger,	Fleming,	Mallery,	Schmidt,
Blass,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Holland,	McGinnis,	Van Sant,
Dent,	Koprivier, Jr.,	McMenamin,	Wagner,

DiSilvestro,			Yosko,

NAYS—11

Camel,	Lane,	Probert,	Watkins,
Hays,	Miller,	Seyler,	Wolfe,
Kessler,	Mullin,	Silver,

Less than a Constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and compensation of the Chief Justice and judges of the Supreme Court the President Judge and judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas the judges of the orphans' courts the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the judges of the County Court and Juvenile Court of Allegheny County certain associate judges not learned in the law and repealing certain inconsistent acts.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. Yes, I am willing to be interrogated.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator how much this bill, if passed, will cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. DENT. Which bill are you talking about?

Mr. FLEMING. I am sorry, Senate Bill No. 317.

Mr. DENT. The salary bill; at present, it will increase the budget, for the judges, four and six-tenths per cent according to my figures.

Mr. FLEMING. In dollars, how much would that be, Senator?

Mr. DENT. I do not have that figure. I can only tell you the percentage as that is all I am working on. I could probably give it to you very quickly if you would give me a few minutes.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would be glad to have a recess for a couple of minutes until he gets the information.

Mr. DENT. May I ask you a question?

Mr. FLEMING. Yes, sir.

Mr. DENT. Are you interested in how much it will increase the budget for the biennium for all judges in the Commonwealth?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. I will be glad to give it to you.

Mr. FLEMING. Can we pass this bill over for the moment?

Mr. DENT. I will give you a book and you can read it.

Mr. FLEMING. I do not want the book.

And the question recurring,

BILLS OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I suggest that we go on with the Calendar, and I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 317, on final passage, go over in its order, temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 318, Printer's No. 493, on third reading, go over in its order, temporarily, until we revert to Senate Bill No. 317.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 590, Printer's No. 477, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 802, entitled:

An Act to provide for an additional law judge of the orphans' court in the fifth judicial district.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate Senator Fleming for a moment.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Can you tell me why you are passing over Senate Bill No. 802, Senator? For your own information, I do not have any personal interest in the bill. It is a Bar Association bill and has been here for quite a time. Is this a Caucus movement or what?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman, we are considering some possible amendments to this bill which will change the effective date.

Mr. BARR. Can you tell me what the effective date is now?

Mr. FLEMING. I believe the effective date in the bill has passed. As I understand the construction placed on it by the Legislative Reference Bureau, it would become effective immediately regardless of the effective date in it, but I do not know whether the Department of Justice would put the same construction on it.

Mr. BARR. Will you wait just a minute until I look at the bill?

Mr. DENT. While they are looking up the information on that bill, let us go back to the old one.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman just yield for a moment? There is a request before the Senate to pass this bill over in order and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, is questioning the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I am sorry; I am wrong. I have the effective date of the bill mixed up. The effective date is January 1958, Senator Barr. No, it is not; I am sorry, that is not right. My advisor advised me wrong.

Mr. BARR. May I answer my own question to the gentleman?

Mr. FLEMING. Yes, certainly.

Mr. BARR. Section 3 states:

"The Governor is hereby authorized to appoint a competent person learned in the law as an additional law judge of the orphans' court in the fifth judicial district to serve until the first Monday of January 1958"

In other words, after the bill is passed and signed by the Governor, it immediately becomes effective.

Mr. FLEMING. That would be right; yes, sir.

Very frankly, Senator, what we had in mind was changing it to the next municipal election and let the election of 1957 decide who should be elected to the orphans' court.

Mr. BARR. Senator Fleming, unless I got a lot of bad misinformation, the Bar Association is the one who has put on a drive for this judge. As I understand it and I could be wrong, entirely wrong, and correct me if I am, you withdrew your objections to the bill. I have not talked to the four judges, but I understand that you have.

Mr. FLEMING. I talked to the four judges, Senator, and I withdrew my objection. I think the extra judge is needed; whether he is needed immediately, I do not know. There is some question on this side of the House of whether that judge is needed before the first Monday in January of 1958.

Mr. BARR. Well, Mr. President, there are a couple of bills here which I am going to object to, too. In those bills, sponsored by Senator Koprivier, I do not know whether they need those adjoining roads which his bills propose. I will find their numbers and read them to you. There are three of them I think; one in Scott Township, one in Carnegie and another one I think up around Springdale. I do not know whether they need those rights of way either, and I guess I will have to object to those bills for the same reason.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am always a fellow who believes in bringing things out where they ought to be. I have been here a good many years and this is the first time I have ever seen a demonstration such as is going on now. We all know what is behind this request. They do not want the judgeship to become effective in order that the Governor will not have an appointment to the position. In all the years that I have been here, every new judgeship which has been created, the Governor who was in office named a man to the bench.

Mr. President, the idea behind creation of a new judgeship is that the judges are needed at the time. If they need them in 1957, wait until 1957 to pass the bill. Evidently the judge is needed now or there would not be a request from the Bar Association, and from the orphans' court bench of Allegheny County, for the additional judge. They do not need him in 1957; they need him now. If you are afraid of having the Governor have the power of appointment, change the Constitution and take it away from him. However, if you need a judge, do not hide behind a flimsy excuse such as that. You know they need the judge and that is what you said. You said, "I know they need the judge, but I do not know whether they need him now." If you know they need him, they must need him now. You cannot say they are going to need him in 1957 because you do not know what the conditions are going to be. All you are doing with this is giving out again, as you always have, the idea that you change the rules in the middle of the game.

Mr. President, the Governor was elected Governor and you are going to do everything in your power, and under the sun, to keep him from acting as the Governor of this Commonwealth. You are going to take away from him all privileges, all prerogatives, all rights and all powers. This is just another example of petty, petty politics. If you need a judge in your county, let the Governor name one.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I yield to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I might say that I had a conference with the three judges of the orphans' court of Allegheny County at the time the newspaper report was made that Senator Fleming was opposed to the creation of an additional judge in the orphans' court of Allegheny County.

At that time I was informed by the three judges that it was absolutely imperative for their own health that there be another judge appointed in the orphans' court of Allegheny County; that the court has not been increased in size for the past twenty-five years and that the burden on these judges was such that they were not even able to take their vacations. At that time, because there was some mention made that if a bill were passed there would be included an amendment which would postpone the filling of that vacancy until the next election, I asked the judges whether or not it was necessary that they have this judge immediately. I have the assurance of the three judges of the orphans' court of Allegheny that there is need for the judge and that the need is immediate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in its order.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 802, Printer's No. 452, on third reading, go over in its order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—18

Berger,	Fleming,	Mallery,	Wagner,
Blass,	Kessler,	Probert,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Koprivier, Jr.	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,

SENATE BILL No. 317 CALLED UP

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I now wish to call up from today's Calendar, Senate Bill No. 317, on Final Passage, which was passed over in its order temporarily.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 317, as follows:

Section 11 The salaries or compensation of the associate judges not learned in the law of the courts of this Commonwealth shall be as follows Each such associate judge shall receive nine dollars ($9) per day for every day he may be employed in the discharge of his official duties The salary of no such associate judge shall be less than one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) annually Each of said judges shall continue to be entitled to mileage as now provided by existing law

Section 12 The annual salaries and the compensation of the associate judges not learned in the law hereinbefore provided for shall be paid monthly by warrant of the Auditor General on the State Treasurer

Section 13 The act of January 5, 1952 (P. L. 1821) entitled "An act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas the judges of the orphans' courts the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the judges of the County Court of Allegheny County certain associate judges not learned in the law and repealing certain acts inconsistent herewith" and the amendments thereto are repealed

Section 14 This act shall take effect the first day of the month following final passage of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to answer the question, as best I can, proposed by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming. The bill which is now before us has been amended from the original bill which I introduced. The best figure that we can get is an increase in cost of $780,000 per biennium.

When the bill was first introduced, it increased the Chief Justice's pay in the Commonwealth from $25,500 to $38,250; the Associate Judges from $25,000 to $37,005; Superior Court Judges from $23,500 to $35,250 and the Associate Judges from $23,000 to $34,500. It also increased the Dauphin County Court from $20,000 to $30,000. The new bill before us disregards the original intent of the act. Incidentally, the original intent of the act was to fall in line with what had happened on a Federal base. If you will go through your booklet, which I have passed out to every Member of the Senate, you will find that the judicial salaries on a Federal base were raised fifty per cent. The proposals here were on the same base. However, we ran into opposition and due to the stringent situation which we find our State's finances in, it was considered that it would be out of proportion to try to receive that kind of an increase at this time. What we have done is taken the Supreme and Superior Courts, the Philadelphia, Allegheny and the Commonwealth Court in Dauphin County, and we have raised them all on the schedule of $5,000 across the board. Then we have taken our other Common Pleas Courts throughout the State and have raised them on a schedule of $4,000 across the board.

Mr. President, if you will take and look and compare the judges' salaries in Pennsylvania with past, present and proposed, you will come up with some very interesting figures. For instance, the Supreme Court Judge's salary when he was making $19,500 a year, after income tax, left him $18,136 a year. Now that he receives $25,500 a year, after income tax he finds that he has $18,656 or a difference in purchasing power, as compared to the old purchasing power of $18,136, or $9,701.

All of us recognize that our judges are in a restricted income field once they accept the appointment or the election to a judicial position. I do not believe that any lawyer in this room will say that he has maintained the same salary earnings over the past decade which have prevailed in the matter of salaries for judges. We have increased our judges in Pennsylvania, although the cost of living has gone up ninety-three per cent since 1933, a total of twenty-two per cent. If you go into the situation, you will find that we should have been climbing on salaries in the judicial field the same as we have been in other phases of government. Because we have neglected to do this, we find ourselves in an acute position today.

Mr. President, I do not believe that any citizen of the Commonwealth would represent this very modest increase as being exorbitant in the matter of judicial salaries. In fact, when I introduced the bill I was in high hopes that the least we would be able to give the judges would be, at least, fifty per cent of the increase that we had asked for. A Supreme Court Judge should have been able to receive, under the amendments which I first proposed, a salary increase of $6,375. However, we were unable to get that through the committee and we worked out what I thought was an arrangement whereby we could vote for this legislation at this time, with the sincere hope that the Governor would find it within his means to sign the legislation. I am hopeful that the question of judges' salaries can be terminated today.

I do not believe that this is the end. I believe that as the State's fiscal situation becomes brighter in the future, we will have to take into consideration judicial salaries in this Commonwealth. This bill, coupled with the next bill, is only a step in the right direction. I am not an attorney so I do not practice before the judges and have no favors to ask of them. I do believe, however, that as a citizen I would rather see our judges paid a salary commensurate with the work that they do and the hours they put in. A great many citizens do not know of the extreme work in counties the size of mine. Westmoreland County has four Common Pleas and one Orphans' Court Judge and I want to tell all of you right now that it is a very burdensome job; that they have to work many, many hours when the courts are not in session in order to fulfill the offices to which they have been elected.

Mr. President, I am sure that, although we in the Legislature seem to want to treat ourselves in a manner unbefitting the jobs that we hold, this is no reason that we should treat others to the same treatment. I am one of the fellows who believes that we ought to increase the salaries of Cabinet Officers and people in public office, schoolteachers and the rest, because you only get what you pay for and you cannot have an expanding economy in the Country and have a diminishing economy for those whom you put in trusted positions. One of the chief bulwarks of our freedom is the judicial branch of government. I would like to ask my colleagues to support this very modest increase in salaries for the judges at this time.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for the very learned discourse. If I remember the figure correctly, he said $780,000 Is that for one year, Senator?

Mr. DENT. No, that is for a biennium according to the figures which I have here.

Mr. FLEMING. Would your figures, Senator Dent, agree with mine, that there are 195 judges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. DENT. I would say there are that many.

Mr. FLEMING. Well, $4,000 times 195 is $780,000 for one year. In a biennium, it would be double that amount.

Mr. DENT. The only figure I have is the figure which was given to me by the department when I sent for it. I asked for the biennium figure. I did not go into it to figure it out because I was figuring on the basis of my original bill. These new amendments I did not figure out myself.

Mr. FLEMING. I thank the gentleman, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Even if your figures are right, and I would not say they are not right, if you take it on the basis of the judgeships which you say are here, and the ones who would receive $4,000 a year and if it is $780,000, I perhaps am confused by the fact that almost a year of this biennium is gone.

Mr. FLEMING. Senator Dent, is this amount of money, or any amount of money, set up in the Governor's budget to take care of this?

Mr. DENT. No, this is not set up in the budget any more than the $31,000,000 which you voted for the schoolteachers.

Mr. FLEMING. That is all; thank you, Senator.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Beaver will be so recorded.

YEAS—32

Barr,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Seyler,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE BILL No. 318 CALLED UP

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I call up from today's Third Reading Calendar Senate Bill No. 318, which was passed over in its order temporarily, for consideration at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 318, as follows:

An Act pertaining to the resignation and retirement of judges under certain conditions fixing their compensation upon resignation or retirement and imposing duties on certain State officers

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Any "judge" referred to in this act shall include the Chief Justice and any judge of the Supreme Court the President Judge and any judge of the Superior Court and any judge of the courts of common pleas orphans' court Municipal Court of Philadelphia County Court of Allegheny County and Juvenile Court of Allegheny County

Section 2 (a) Any judge of any court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who has served at least one full elective term or ten years in the aggregate continuously or otherwise in one or more of the judicial offices referred to in section 1 hereof and has attained the age of sixty-five years or more may resign his judicial office or upon the expiration of his term of judicial office when he attains the age of sixty-five years or more he may retire therefrom and upon giving to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the written notice required by section 2 hereof and holding himself in readiness after his resignation or honorable retirement from judicial office to advise his successors and their colleagues and to perform such duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may reasonably be able to do shall be paid thereafter annually in equal monthly installments during the remainder of his life a sum equal to two and one-half per centum of the salary received by him during the last twelve months of his service as judge for each and every year he served as such judge subject however to the deductions therefrom if any as provided in section 5 of this act

(b) Any person serving as a judge on or after the effective date of this act who shall have served as such one full elective term or at least ten years in the aggregate continuously or otherwise in one or more of the judicial offices referred to in section 1 hereof and who has not then attained the age of sixty-five years shall upon attaining the age of sixty-five years and upon giving the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the written notice required by section 3 hereof and holding himself in readiness to perform such duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may reasonably be able to do likewise be paid thereafter annually in equal monthly installments during the remainder of his life two and one-half per centum of the salary received by him during the last twelve months of his service as judge for each and every year he served as such judge subject however to the deductions therefrom as provided in section 5 of this act

Section 3 Any judge who becomes entitled to and desires to obtain the benefits of this act and is qualified to do so under the requirements of section 2 hereof and is willing to hold himself in readiness to render the services therein specified shall file with the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a written notice of his resignation or retirement from judicial office or shall file with the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a written notice of his election to receive the benefits of this act as provided in section 2 hereof as the case may be accompanied by a statement in writing of his willingness to hold himself in readiness to advise his successors and their colleagues and perform such duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may be able to do and shall simultaneously therewith file executed copies of the said documents with the State Employees' Retirement Board and he shall thereupon receive from the date of the said notice of his resignation or retirement the sums set forth in section 2 hereof subject however to the deductions therefrom as provided in section 5 hereof

Section 4 Any judge who shall while in judicial office become incapacitated by reason of his health or physical disability for full and efficient service to the Commonwealth in his judicial capacity and shall have served at least one full elective term or ten years in the aggregate in one or more of the aforesaid judicial offices continuously or otherwise and shall have attained the age of sixty years or more may give written notice to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of his desire to retire and take advantage of the provisions of this act because of such disability and of his willingness to hold himself in readiness to advise his successors and his colleagues and to perform such duties as special master referee auditor or examiner as he may reasonably be able to do The Governor shall thereupon appoint three physicians of skill and repute in their profession who are residents of this Commonwealth who shall examine the applicant for retirement and report to the Governor as to the applicant's incapacity by reason of his health or physical disability and whether in all reasonable probability if they find the disability exists it will continue permanently and does and will continue to prevent the applicant from giving full and efficient service to the Commonwealth in the regular performance of his judicial duties If it is made to appear by such report that the disability exists and that it will in all reasonable probability continue permanently and if the Governor approves the report the Governor shall file it with his approval endorsed thereon with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof with the State Employees' Retirement Board Upon such filing of the report with the approval of the Governor endorsed thereon the applicant shall as of the date of such approval be retired from further judicial service and shall hold himself in readiness to advise his successors and his colleagues as set forth above and he shall be paid thereafter annually from and after the date of his resignation in equal monthly installments during the remainder of his life a sum equal to one-third of the salary received by him for the twelve months preceding the date of his retirement for disability subject however to deductions therefrom as provided in section 5 of this act

Section 5 The annual payments provided in this act to be paid to any person qualified under sections 2 and 3 hereof shall not exceed eighty per centum of the salary received by him during the last twelve months of service as a judge and shall be reduced by the amount that the total payments if any he is entitled to receive annually as a member of the State Employees' Retirement System as State and members' annuities on the basis of the full superannuation allowance or disability allowance in accordance with the provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Law act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858) as amended and supplemented and the payments that he is entitled to under this act exceeds eighty per centum of the salary received by him during the last twelve months of service as a judge and any judge who is not a member of the State Employees' Retirement System shall in no event receive under the provisions of this act more than he would have received had he been a member of the State Employees' Retirement System during the period of his eligibility for such membership Any judge desiring to take advantage of the provisions of this act upon his resignation or honorable retirement shall forthwith send a duplicate copy of his resignation or notice of his retirement to the State Employees' Retirement Board who shall forthwith certify to the State Treasurer and Auditor General whether or not he is a member of the State Employees' Retirement System and if he is a member the total annual amount from all annuities to which he is entitled as a member of the State Employees' Retirement System and if he is not a member the total annual amount from all annuities to which he would have been entitled if he had been such a member during the period of his eligibility for such membership the calculation and determination of the payments to be made under the provisions of this act and the distribution and payment thereof to the judges entitled thereto shall be made by and under the supervision and direction of the State Employees' Retirement System

Section 6 No judge while accepting payments provided for in this act shall be entitled to any additional compensation for the performance of any duties assigned to him under this act but such judge shall not be obliged to accept an assignment or duty from any court other than the court of the judicial district of which he was a member at the time of his resignation or retirement

Section 7 This act is intended as additional legislation and shall not be construed as repealing the act of June 27, 1923 P. L. 858) establishing a State Employees' Retirement System or the amendments and supplements thereto All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are repealed

Section 8 This act shall take effect the first Monday of July 1955

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Senator Dent, who is busy at the moment.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. FLEMING. Senator Dent, on Senate Bill No. 318, do you have any figures on what that will cost?

Mr. DENT. Again, I can give you percentages. If you want them, all right. If not, I cannot do much for you, except that I do have one set of figures which might enlighten you a little. I have the actuarial report which states:

"The yearly pension credits under the bill are greater than under the existing system not only because of the additional one-half of one per cent, but also because of the use of the final salary as that of the last year of service, so that the total yearly credits for the 200 members of the group are calculated to be $83,787.50 as compared to $66,474. The added cost of the increased yearly credits is calculated to be $135,683 which is on a payroll of $3,351,000, or an increase of four and five-tenths per cent."

Mr. FLEMING. Does this create a second pension fund? I mean, would this be in addition to the money that a judge would get were he a member of the State Retirement Fund?

Mr. DENT. Yes; under the provisions of this bill, any retirement allowances from the State Employees Retirement System are to be considered a part of the total retirement allowance granted under the bill. It is a combination, but at no time can they receive more, since your amendment went into it, than eighty per cent of their last year's salary.

Mr. FLEMING. It would be a combination of the two?

Mr. DENT. That is right. That will be exactly what you will have in all probability, Senator. When you get a combination of the Social Security Act with the State Employees Retirement System and the School Teachers Retirement System, you will find that the States are having a difficult time because of integrating the two systems, the Social Security with their existing retirement systems, but you will definitely have a dual system of retirement in Pennsylvania, and other States, when they integrate into the Federal system of Social Security. This bill is in anticipation of that, and is the same deal for the judges.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, probably little I say here will carry much weight with anybody and I certainly want it understood that I do not speak for the Republican Members in what I am about to say. I speak only for myself on this measure; it is not a party measure.

We have just defeated House Bill No. 173 by a vote of 22 to 11. That was a bill which was to provide a pension plan for municipal police in the boroughs and townships throughout Pennsylvania. That bill would have permitted them to have retired at the age of sixty, after twenty-five years of service, and receive half of their salary. Also to be taken into account with that bill would be any amount that they would receive from social security. Not very many of the policemen, but some of them, in Pennsylvania are under Social Security in the boroughs and townships.

Mr. President, we have, in the wisdom of this Body, defeated that bill. Yet, now we are going to vote for and, in all probability, pass a bill that is going to give the judges of Pennsylvania an opportunity to retire at $15,000 and $16,000 a year. What can be right, fair or just about that? We are denying to the man out on the beat, the borough and township policeman, the right of any type of retirement. Certainly, he is entitled to retirement the same as any other person. We have advanced to the age, there is no question about it, when everybody is entitled to some type of Social Security. Yet, here are these thousands of men whom we have just denied by our vote the right to some such pension plan and, nevertheless, we are going to increase the pension rights of the judiciary of Pennsylvania when, at the present time, in many instances, they would be entitled, under the State Retirement Act, to retire at a sum of approximately half of their final salary had they attained the age of sixty and complied with the provisions of the State Retirement Act.

Mr. President, I certainly would think that those of you who voted against House Bill No. 173 should very seriously consider voting against this measure.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order to keep the record straight, I would like to have Senator Fleming know that I voted for the municipal retirement bill. I want you to understand that, and I want to be consistent. I voted for that, and I am going to vote for this. There are many logical arguments that a person can use at any time. However, when you stop to realize that a judge, when he is elected, is elected for ten years. During the ten years that he is on the Bench, he disassociates himself from his former clients and all associations in his practice of law. He finds himself, at the end of ten years, facing an electorate. As you well know, you do not always win when you run. He finds himself, after serving the Commonwealth for ten years, starting out all over again. Under this bill, he will definitely have the same retirement rights that we, in the Legislature, have voted for ourselves. In other words, he would have the right to collect, after serving ten years, two and one-half per cent of his salary for every year that he served, or a total of twenty-five per cent of his final salary. This would give him an opportunity to again re-establish himself in the practice of law.

Mr. President, if we are going to keep the calibre of the judiciary up and if we are going to try to entice the good, upright citizens and good attorneys to make the sacrifice to run for judge—because I do not think that any lawyer in this room would say that a judge does not make a sacrifice when he accepts a fixed salary for a period of ten years, rather than in the private practice of his business—you do not want to say that only those who can earn a very meager income should run for the judiciary. I believe that all citizens should be able to stand for public office without making too great a personal financial sacrifice. I know of one judge, for instance, who is friend of yours, who told me himself—Judge Kenworthy, of the Superior Court—that he resigned from the Bench because he could not afford to stay on the Bench. You just cannot have that kind of a condition prevail in any public office.

Just because some people believe that the Legislature ought to work for nothing is no sign that the Legislature ought to think that everybody else should work for nothing. I do not believe that this is out of proportion because, in the end, a judge has to serve twenty years; he has to be sixty years of age or over and, at that time, he would receive eighty per cent total limit of his last salary.

Remember, Mr. President, that the old judicial retirement system did not require that they pay anything into the fund. We have judges in this Commonwealth who paid on the last month of their salary into the Retirement Fund and received full retirement pension. That was changed a few years ago. However, they can still do something on that order. They can still wait until the last minute, if they so desire, and many of them wait to see whether they will be re-elected because there are no benefits that accrue to them if they do not serve the full twenty years or reach the age of sixty-five. Therefore, Mr. President, this is a protection for the first ten years of their term of office. This provides, the same as for the Legislature, that if you serve ten full years, you are permitted to receive partial retirement. I want to say that I do not think it is a bit unfair. I think it is good for the government; I think it is good for the judicial system and I believe that every fair-minded person will go along and vote for this legislation.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, first of all, I did know that Senator Dent had voted for House Bill No. 173 and I want to compliment him for that. I do not want to prolong this argument and I know I am not going to change any votes, but I would only say to him, or to anyone else, in any of the counties where you have trouble getting candidates for judges, if you will just give us a two-year notice I know there are hundreds of them back in Allegheny County who are very capable. They will be glad to come into your county and establish residence. I am sure that they will not object to working for the price that we are now paying judges. I do not think we ever have a scarcity of candidates. I think we usually find that they are pretty willing, ready and able to make that sacrifice to serve the people.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, in discussing this bill, also got into a discussion of House Bill No. 173. He made some statements which to me seem to be entirely unwarranted by the facts.

Mr. President, there is a great difference between this bill and the bill we are voting on now. I did not vote for House Bill No. 173. In my opinion, those who did—and that includes both Senator Fleming and Senator Dent—voted for a bill which would fasten onto local governments the obligation to pay pensions in a system which will not be actuarially sound and which the State will pay no share in paying the pensions. In other words, he voted to fasten onto local governments a burden which the people in that district, and which the council members and supervisors in that district, would have no voice in. I say this is not home rule. I say it is contrary to the principle of home rule and, for that reason, there is a greatly different issue involved in House Bill No. 173 and Senate Bill No. 318.

I would like the record to show that those of us who voted against House Bill No. 173 did it for a reason which we considered good and sufficient.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I only want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, that I have heard him, I believe, complain and I know that I have heard other Members of the Senate complain that the salaries which we receive are inadequate. I believe that most of the citizens of the Commonwealth believe that the salaries received by the Membership of the General Assembly are inadequate. I do not know how many people know it, but the actual salary of the Members of the General Assembly is $3,000 a biennium.

Just as in the case of judges, Mr. President, there are plenty of candidates. There are plenty of candidates for school boards, and that position does not pay anything. There are a great many citizens who believe that just being a judge would be worth it if you would let them serve and they would pay you for the privilege. However, what kind of government would you have?

In the old days, in the old labor market, before the strength of unions started to be exercised in this great Country of ours, if the prevailing rate was thirty-five cents an hour, there were always a lot of men on the outside who were willing to work for twenty-five cents an hour. After that batch got in, the employer went out and looked around and got another batch to come in who would be willing to work for fifteen cents an hour. It is not what people are willing to do; it is what is right and what is wrong. If it is right to pay them a living wage, or somewhere near a living wage, we have to do it. If it is not right, then we should not do it. The fact that you can get candidates does not, in any way, have anything to do with what is right and what is wrong in the matter of a proper salary. I imagine you could go out and get a great many persons who would be willing to be Cabinet Officers with half of the pay that they pay Cabinet Officers. However, that is not the point. I could probably go into your District and get somebody to run for your job and you would not have to pay him anything. That would not mean that he would do as good a job as you are doing. I think if you took into consideration some of the expenses you have, it is well known that if the Membership of this General Assembly did not have other means of earning a livelihood, they could not afford to be Members. Remember, the judges have no other means. They give up their training as lawyers and go onto the Bench to serve the people.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Warren will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Barr,	Flack,	McCreesh,	Schmidt,
Berger,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Seyler,
Blass,	Hays,	McMenamin,	Silver,
Camiel,	Holland,	Miller,	Van Sant,
Chapman,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Mullin,	Watkins,
Dent,	Lane,	Pechan,	Whalley,
Diehm,	Mahany,	Ruth,	Yosko,
DiStavestro,	Mallery,

NAYS—7

Fleming,	Madigan,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Kessler,	Propert,	Wagner,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 851, on third reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" requiring approval of the electors of the school district before entering into any lease with the State Public School Building Authority or any municipality authority or nonprofit corporation and providing for elections thereon be recommitted to the Committee on Education, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, as you will note on the Calendar, I am the sponsor of Senate Bill No. 851, and I would like to go on record even though I am not opposing the recommitment of this bill.

After giving the bill careful study, I find that through a misapprehension this bill, as some people might think, is on the Calendar. I can personally see nothing wrong with it. I see no misapprehension and I see nothing wrong with the bill. However, I do not feel as though in Pennsylvania, due to the fact that we have not denied the right of the people to vote on other issues, that we can conscientiously pick on the schools and say that it is not good for them, but yet it is good for some other group to do just this.

Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate to just one thing. Our school system, and the cost of our school system, is growing and growing. Since I have been in the Senate, since 1949, I have seen the cost of the school system jump every year, which is only natural, due to the fact that every other thing is jumping. However, being guilty in 1949 of voting for this Authority, I found that I also, as a freshman Senator, voted to give the people the right to form this Authority. I also feel that I was in error in voting for this Authority. It has been called to my attention time and time again, by more directors than anyone could ever think of, that they think or feel as though the people of the State of Pennsylvania cannot conscientiously and honestly vote for taxation to pay for the cost of building a school. Personally, even though I voted wrong in 1949 with respect to creating this Authority, I would like to say this. When we bypass the people on any issue, regardless of whether it be the school system or any other system, when we feel that the people of this State are not intelligent enough to vote on any issue, I think we are violating the principles of democracy.

Mr. President, I think this is something that we should give further study to in order to see that, in the future, we do give the people the right to vote on any issue. I, personally, think it would be most unfair, as I stated before, to try to stop the building of the schools that have already been started in districts which, from what I understand are dependent upon this Authority to build them. It would be unjust and unfair on my part to continue to try to shove this down as legislation that would curtail that movement. Therefore, Mr. President, I say that I will not fight against the recommitment of this bill.

I would also like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate that the people who have the say to do these things are not even elected by the people. They are appointed by members of the school boards. I can see that it is most necessary to have that evil corrected, too. In the District in which I reside, there is a man who has not even moved into a new house as yet and who does not even know any of the residential people who live in our area. He does not even know the names of ten people who live there. Yet, he is a man who will speak on the building of a $1,900,000 school that will be built in the very near future, in our township or in the vicinity.

I find, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that we must watch all of these Authorities that we set up in the future. We must certainly check into them and find out whether we are violating the rights of the people in bypassing them. I think that perhaps we, too, should ask the Joint State Government Commission to make a study—I think I shall present such a resolution—and advise the Members of this Senate just what is right to protect the rights of the people under the authorities that we already have set up.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I concur in the statements and sentiments expressed by my colleague, Senator Watkins. However, because I understand that if this bill were passed it would delay construction of schools that have already been planned, I, too, will not oppose the recommitment of the bill.

I concur, too, in the suggestion made by Senator Watkins that a study be made of the Authority method of financing school and other construction in Pennsylvania. I know, from my own knowledge, that this authority method of financing is getting out of hand in Pennsylvania and it is placing this State in bankruptcy.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 856, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 30, 1917 (P. L. 21) entitled "An act defining optometry . . ." further regulating the refusal cancellation revocation and suspension of licenses providing for rules and regulations and eliminating repealed provisions

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend House Bill 856, Printer's No. 248, page 5, line 2, by inserting after the word "revoked": "Nothing contained in this act shall prohibit any licensed optometrist from practicing optometry as an employe or lessee of a person or firm dispensing ophthalmic products to the general public if the person or firm or successor thereto is engaged in dispensing ophthalmic products to the general public on the effective date of this act."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 856, Printer's No. 248, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 857, Printer's No. 1309, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 864, Printer's No. 490, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1294, as follows:

Flack,	Mallery,	Schmidt,	Whalley,
Fleming,	McCreesh,	Seyler,	Wolfe,
			Yosko,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1795, Printer's No. 1086, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, to which was re-referred resolution offered by Messrs. Mahany and Schmidt on January 23, 1956, reported the same without amendment as follows:

RETURNING TO THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 192 WITHOUT AMENDMENT

In the Senate, January 23, 1956.

Resolved (the House Concurring), That Senate Bill No. 192, Printer's No. 246, entitled "An Act providing for and regulating the licensing and practice of practical nursing; imposing duties on the State Board of Nurse Examiners and imposing penalties," which was recalled from the Governor December 28, 1955, for the purpose of amendment be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

SECOND READING CALENDAR
BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 231, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1921 (P. L. 522) entitled as amended "Dog Law of 1921" regulating and in certain cases prohibiting impounding and killing of unclaimed dogs not bearing proper license tags and providing that in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh they shall first be offered for sale to medical schools hospitals laboratories or other scientific or educational institutions.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. MCCREESH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 231 be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, a few moments ago Senator Dent came to me and asked whether or not we would agree to let Senate Bill No. 231 remain on the Calendar and have it go over until tomorrow. He had to go see his physician, I think at five-thirty he had an appointment, and there are some remarks he would like to make on the bill. I, therefore, would suggest that Senate Bill No. 231 go over in order and that we dispose of it in one way or another tomorrow.

I do not know whether Senator Dent came to me as the Whip or just as an individual, but I told him I thought we could put it over in order. I do not think that Senator McCreesh, and whoever else seconded the motion, was familiar with Senator Dent's request. I think we owe it to Senator Dent that the bill go over in order at this time.

Mr. MCCREESH. Mr. President, this bill has been on the Calendar for two or three weeks and I cannot see any sense in putting it over until tomorrow. I have a number of letters on my desk here and I would like to answer those letters before I vote on the bill. I do not think this is a good time to bring up the bill because we are short some of our Senators, and there is no rush that I can see. This bill should go back to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare for further study.

There can be a lot of improvements made in this bill and I think the proper thing to do would be to send it back to committee.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am not requesting any action on the bill at all today. I, just as a courtesy to Senator Dent, am requesting that the bill go over. When one of our Senators is absent, it does not make any difference on what side of the aisle he is from, I think we owe him that courtesy. He asked me if I would see that the bill went over in order for a day. I do not think that one day makes any difference.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. MCCREESH. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my motion to recommit this bill.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 231, Printer's No. 486, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 407, Printer's No. 624, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I had intended to offer some amendments to this bill and then ask that the bill, as amended, go over in order. I wonder if the Majority Leader would permit me to do that.

Mr. MAHANY. In answer to Senator Schmidt, Mr. President, I also understood that he intended to offer amendments and there were those on this side of the aisle who were opposed to your amendments, Senator. They are not here now and, therefore, I ask that the bill go over. They may be here tomorrow and if you present your amendments, then we can debate them at that time.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I have no objection to the bill going over in its order to day.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, House Bill No. 407 will go over in its order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 1221, Printer's No. 931;
House Bill No. 1224, Printer's No. 816; and
House Bill No. 1340, Printer's No. 932.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 1398, Printer's No. 1346.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, by way of explanation I would like the Membership to know that we have a number of amendments which we are considering. We plan on having a meeting tomorrow morning around 11:00 o'clock a. m., at which time we hope to work out our differences.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, House Bill No. 1397 and House Bill No. 1398 will go over in their order.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Rules, returned to the Senate, House Bill No. 1908, entitled:

An Act authorizing abatement of real estate taxes because of destruction or damage of property by flood, or the refund or credit of the amount of such taxes against future taxes by certain political subdivisions.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I read an article yesterday which dealt with job opportunities all over this great Nation of ours. The salary ranges were very appealing. The job descriptions were varied. According to the article, anyone with a little ambition can step out and find himself or herself a place in the business world or can better his position if he so desires.

However, Mr. President, there was one phrase in this article which to me stood out like a sore thumb. The authors recommended that the job seeker, or the man seeking to better his position, not advance into certain sections of Connecticut and western Pennsylvania. "And Pennsylvania;" how disheartening to see these two words, Pennsylvania, the great Keystone State, now spoke of in such a derogatory manner.

I believe that the Members of this Senate are acutely aware that there are certain distressed areas within this Commonwealth. There are certain areas where a man, through no fault of his own, is prevented from his birthright, that of earning a living for himself and his family.

Early last year, with a number of my colleagues concurring, I introduced into this Senate two bills, Mr. President. The first was introduced on February 9, 1955 and has languished since that time in the Committee on Corporations. The second was introduced on March 29, 1955, and referred on that date to the Committee on State Government where it now remains.

Mr. President, what would Senate Bill No. 104 and Senate Bill No. 276 do? Senate Bill No. 104 would encourage the location of new, and the expansion of existing, industries in the Commonwealth through the granting of State-aid to municipal authorities for the construction of industrial plants. Senate Bill No. 276 would promote the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania by the reduction of unemployment in certain areas of the Commonwealth determined to be critical areas, providing for the establishment of industrial development projects in such critical areas to be determined by the Department of Labor.

Pennsylvania, for more than a century, has set the pace for the whole Nation in industrial and commercial growth and leadership. Here, within a zealously guarded framework of freedom and liberty, Americans of every faith and economic status have worked vigorously together to create this great Keystone State. By virtue of its climate, its topography, its natural resources, its running waters, and its peoples' resourcefulness and high aspirations, Pennsylvania rapidly rose during colonial times, and following the Revolution, to become the Nation's leading commercial and industrial State. It has maintained that supremacy to a certain extent, Mr. President.

With such a history, Pennsylvania might excusably be regarded as mature in terms of American civilization. That is true only so far as it applies to certain mature elements that promote its stability, but Pennsylvania is fundamentally a State of continual progress. It is still growing, building, expanding on the sound foundations created by Providence and ably exploited by the able men and women who have flocked to the area during the days since the era of William Penn.

Frankly, Mr. President, I am more surprised than ever that the Members of the Committee on Corporations and the Members of the Committee on State Government seem to feel that industrial development activities within this Commonwealth are of questionable value. There can be no rebuttal to that because their inactivity for a period of almost one year indicates their thinking. Persons familiar with industrial development in the southwest have always spoken about Pennsylvania as the outstanding example in the Country of a State that has done a good job in this field of attracting industry, and action by the State was always felt to be one of the biggest factors of its success. Only the State, in its position to promote the advantages of the Commonwealth as a whole, is capable of actually doing the job.

Mr. President, I do not believe that anyone could disagree with me when I say that in western Pennsylvania, especially, we are badly in need of industrial development. It can only be done by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If it means spending money to do the job, I, for one, will vote to spend the money. We must have an industrial development authority in western Pennsylvania to put our men to work. There were days when all they had to do was to walk out and go into a steel mill or go to a coal mine and they would be employed, but those days are past. Natural gas has supplanted coal and we, in western Pennsylvania, now have a great natural resource which we cannot utilize due to the fact that natural gas has received a lot of advantages by legislation and today it is apparently tax free while coal is considered real estate and is being taxed every day by the cities, the boroughs, the school districts and the counties.

I say to you, Mr. President, that there is a laxity here in this Senate if we adjourn and do not do something about industrial development. I will say that we will have to answer to the people. I want to call it to the attention of the Membership here today that I feel this Session is going to close up in a matter of a month or two and if we close up without doing something to bring about industrial development in Pennsylvania, we are lax in our duty.

Mr. President, I do not say that we should try to gild the lily. I do not say that we should try to pass some half-hearted measure. You are not going to raise any money in distressed areas to promote industrial development. The cash is going to have to come from the State coffers. I think that those who are in the distressed areas will agree with what I say. We must have the cash here in Pennsylvania to put out to the political subdivisions to do the job of constructing plants. All our men want is the opportunity to earn a decent living. I would say that all of us will agree that they are entitled to their birthright.

Therefore, Mr. President, I call upon the Membership of both committees to take into consideration this legislation. I also want to inform them that I have no pride of authorship. If they feel they can find legislation which can do a better job than mine to promote industrial development in Pennsylvania, I am all for it. Go ahead and kill my bills, but I do want something done. I will be glad to appear before these committees and give them my ideas because we in Pennsylvania, especially in the western part of the State, are actually facing a crisis on unemployment and we want to put our men to work. I know this, that once these men are at work they will be willing to pay their way. You never hear the coal miners of western Pennsylvania crying about their taxes or crying about any other State levy. They pay their income taxes and they are the men who go out on the front lines when we are at war. They are good citizens, and they are men who are the salt of the earth. We want to give them an opportunity—all these young men who need work—to go to work. Right today they are journeying as far as Detroit and other places, working out there and living from hand to mouth, keeping two families. They cannot afford to do this.

Mr. President, it seems to me that in this great State of Pennsylvania we should not sit back and let those things happen. No wonder we are losing our population. The younger element in western Pennsylvania can find no opportunities and, therefore, they are moving away. It is the wrong thing, because they are the sons and daughters of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania should help them.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to note that it has been unusually warm and close in this Chamber today. If there is something wrong with the air conditioning system, somebody should look after it and see that it is taken care of. The easiest way to get on the sick list is to sit in this hot Chamber and then go out in the cold and wind up with the flu or something else.

I say again that if there is something wrong with the air conditioning system, it should be repaired so that it will be comfortable in this room.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, in reply to my colleague, Senator Lane, I wish to state that the Senate has passed a redevelopment bill, patterned exactly after a bill passed at the last Session of the New York Legislature. That bill is over in some committee in the House.

I, like Senator Lane, am interested in promoting industry in the Commonwealth. I think that he must know that two bills are pending in the Congress to promote industry in areas where there is a great lack of employment and that the Administration has prepared a bill, which I have agreed to co-sponsor. I was requested by the Secretary of Commerce to join in that bill. I think that if Congress acts, and I feel certain that it will, if the Administration bill passes, and I feel that it will, and if the bill that all of us here voted for becomes law and of which, I believe, Senator Lane was a co-sponsor, we will certainly do something to promote industry in Pennsylvania.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD TO CONCLUDE CONSIDERATION FOR DIRECT SCHEDULED AIR TRANSPORTATION BETWEEN CERTAIN PENNSYLVANIA CITIES AND DETROIT, MICHIGAN

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE, on behalf of Messrs. DENT and BLASS, offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 6, 1956.

Erie and numerous other cities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are presently without the benefit of direct scheduled air transportation to the major industrial center of Detroit, Michigan.

The Civil Aeronautics Board currently has under consideration in its Docket Number 6927 proposed authorization for direct scheduled air service between these Pennsylvania cities and Detroit. These Pennsylvania cities are engaged in determined efforts to strengthen and supplement their industrial facilities.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is actively engaged in a program of economic development designed to support and facilitate the efforts of these cities.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania cities of Erie, Bradford, Williamsport, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Franklin, Oil City, Clearfield, Philipsburg, Bellefonte have urged upon the Civil Aeronautics Board in Docket 6927 the importance to their economic development programs of authorization of direct air service from their cities to Detroit; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that the Civil Aeronautics Board is hereby adjured to conclude its consideration of the proposed authorization for direct scheduled air transportation between these Pennsylvania cities and Detroit, Michigan in Docket Number 6927, as expeditiously as possible, and with full consideration of the imperative economic need for such authorization; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be sent to the Secretary of Commerce of the United States and the Chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1406, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 30, 1937 (P. L. 115) entitled "The First Class City Permanent Registration Act," increasing compensation of the chairman and other members of the registration commission.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1947, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, February 7, 1956, at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:59 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, February 7, 1956, at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, February 6, 1956.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O God, Who rulest the world from everlasting to everlasting, we acknowledge that there is a very great and grave difference between what we are and what we ought to be as we come face to face with Thee.

Lord, we do not ask for any easy task. We do not ask that all barriers shall be broken down. We only pray that we may have strength to do our jobs. May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with us all. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals Monday, January 16, Tuesday, January 17, Wednesday, January 18 and Monday, January 23, 1956? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, February 1, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. ANDREWS, READINGER, CHARLES C. SMITH and JOHNSON. RESOLUTION No. 151.

In the House of Representatives, February 1, 1956.

Whereas, Act No. 259 (P. L. 595—Session of 1943) authorizes the Department of Property and Supplies to provide for the maintenance in the main capitol building of a restaurant or cafeteria: "For the proper accommodation of state administrative, legislative, judicial personnel and capitol visitors," and

Whereas, The Capitol Cafeteria now maintained in the main capitol building has been operated on an accommodation basis, and

Whereas, Operation which makes possible the type of operation compatible with the proper accommodation of those served, is incompatible with any plan designed to operate on a profit basis, and

Whereas, The type of management now in effect has served to create a friendly atmosphere that cannot be created by a commercially-minded organization, and

Whereas, The present type of management has provided capable personnel and has provided food of top quality, and

Whereas, The Members of this House have received word that the Secretary of Property and Supplies intends to discontinue the present operating methods and place the operation of the capitol cafeteria in the hands of a commercial concern.

Therefore be it Resolved, that this House respectfully inform the Secretary of Property and Supplies, through this resolution, that it favors the continuance of the present method of operating the capitol cafeteria, it being the conviction of the Members of this House that only through such a type of management can the purposes for which the cafeteria was established be served.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PETITIONS

SUPPORTING MENTAL HEALTH AND LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on a number of occasions the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, inquired as to when the checks would go out for the subsidies due the fourth class school districts.

I am very happy to announce to the House that the vouchers are going over to the Auditor General today and the checks should be in the mail within forty-eight hours.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure the announcement by Mr. Polen will bring gladness into the heart of every school teacher in Pennsylvania, and will set at rest the mind of the average school director who has been subjected to a tremendous amount of worry and travail over not having received this appropriation.

I would like to repeat as positively as I can that I can see no reason why—and I am sure everybody on this side of the House feels the same way about it and I think the average school director feels the same way about it—it could not have been done last October just as well as now.

I am very pleased that we are finally getting the checks out to the schools, but I say, if you will read in the Journal the remarks I have made in regard to this education problem and what other leaders on this side have said, it could have been done on a cooperative basis last October instead of now.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I can agree with the gentleman the checks could have gone out at the time he specified if we would have had the appropriation bill on the books. However, it was not on the books at that time.

He mentioned the other day that it was time to throw caution to the winds. I cannot agree that it was a time to throw caution to the winds.

Furthermore, while the checks could have gone out, I wonder what would have happened if we would have had payless paydays here and the contractual obligations of the Commonwealth were not met. In delaying this, much as I regret it was delayed, it was to insure the financial stability of the Commonwealth and enable them to meet fixed obligations which could not be delayed.

We are even advancing the payment a little because the bids on the tax anticipation notes will be opened on the 15th, and we feel we are far enough along on that program that we can reduce the cash balance by $43 million-plus and send these checks out.

I cannot agree the amounts could have been paid in October, or even in December, without endangering the financial stability of the Commonwealth. I think the action taken by the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth was proper and, while it delayed the checks to the school districts, it insured that we would not make any defaults and that the contractual obligations of the Commonwealth could be met.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS Nos. 445, 1898, 1915, 1916 AND 1922

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 1916, Printer's No. 1225, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 25, 1933 (P. L. 1050) entitled 'An act creating and establishing a fund for the care maintenance and relief of aged retired and disabled employees of the bureau of fire in cities of the second class creating a board for the management thereof providing the mode and manner of payment to beneficiaries and for the care and disposition of its funds and providing for the transfer and payment of all moneys and securities in existing funds in similar boards superseded by the fund and board herein created' changing the amounts of payments to certain beneficiaries."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 1, 1956.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 1922, Printer's No. 1226, entitled "An Act reenacting and amending section 4 of the act of May 28, 1915 (P. L. 596) entitled 'An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions' increasing the amount of pensions in certain cases."

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

APPROVAL OF HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 73

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 3, 1956.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Resolution No. 73 requesting that the Department of Highways shall erect along the highway suitable tablets and markers and shall carry out suitable landscape development to perpetuate this resolution but shall not replace the officially designated route number of the highway hereby designated as the "Colonel Drake Highway."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

The SPEAKER. At the request of the respective Floor Leaders the Chair will shortly declare a recess until 4:00 o'clock.

Also at the request of the respective Floor Leaders the Chair announces that there will be a Republican and a Democratic Caucus at 2:30 o'clock promptly. It is supremely important that every Member be present at the caucuses. There are vital matters to be determined, and the more quickly they are determined the better we will serve the Commonwealth and the better we will stand with the people back home.

We do not know how many Members are on their way detained by icy roads. It is supremely important all Members attend the caucuses so that a counting of noses will be made possible and a check made as to those who are en route to Harrisburg.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair now declares a recess until 4:00 o'clock. The Chair hears none.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. ANDREWS, READINGER, CHARLES C. SMITH and JOHNSON. HOUSE BILL No. 2006.

An Act amending the act of May 12, 1943 (P. L. 595), entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to establish operate and maintain self-sustaining restaurants, as herein defined, in the State Capitol; creating a revolving fund for this purpose, to be known as The State Restaurant Fund; providing additional duties for the State Treasurer and the Department of Health in connection therewith; and appropriating the necessary funds for these purposes," changing provisions relating to the operation of restaurants in the basement of the Main Capitol Building.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 724.

An Act to further amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by requiring the payment of money withheld from State appropriations to pay default in rent to a municipality authority or nonprofit corporation

SENATE BILL No. 834.

An Act validating and confirming certain contracts heretofore entered into by municipality authorities for the construction of a school building project or projects and for relevant service contracts as a part of the construction when there is no evidence of fraud or conspiracy and authorizing or ratifying payments on such contracts or parts of contracts by the municipality authority upon approval thereof by the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Justice.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. LOPRESTI, McCANN, McCORMACK, CIOFFI, McGEE, HEAVEY, STANK and KAMYK.

In the House of Representatives, February 6, 1956.

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the House of Representatives that Dr. James C. Charlesworth, the Secretary of Administration in a recent address in Philadelphia before the Federation of Community Councils, has expressed himself in favor of denying the exercise of the franchise by citizens of this Commonwealth to persons "illiterate, indifferent, and cynical," and of limiting said exercise to persons "competent" to vote; and

Whereas, the House of Representatives is of opinion that the remarks of Dr. Charlesworth in no way reflect the views of its members, or of any of the elected representatives of the citizens of the Commonwealth, or of the Administration holding office, Now Therefore be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of the House of Representatives that the right of suffrage by all adult citizens of this Commonwealth, without regard to formal educational attainments, is a right which is guaranteed by Article I, Section 3, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, it is a right inherent in a free society; that any attempt to limit or abridge this right, to make it available only to a special class of citizens, or to convert it into a privilege available only to a few, it violative of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and of the oath of any administrative officer sworn to uphold same; that the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as well as that of the United States, is founded on the proposition that the just powers of government stem only from the consent of those governed, which consent can be expressed only through exercise of the franchise; that any attempt to subvert the right to vote is the first and most dangerous step toward subverting our government of liberty under law; that representative government assumes and assures the right of the poorest and most humbly stationed citizens to participate, or not to participate, as he pleases, in the governmental process, by exercising his vote; and that it ill becomes any administrative official in this Commonwealth's employ to express himself publicly in opposition to those principles which the citizens of Pennsylvania so deeply cherish and for the defense of which they and their sons have and will again gladly shed their blood. And be it further

Resolved that the General Assembly unanimously deplores the tenor of the remarks made by Secretary Charlesworth, and suggests to his superiors that they either silence him or appoint a successor.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, February 7, 1956 at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to and (at 6:28 p. m.) the House adjourned.

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 7, 1956.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH: Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the opportunity today to serve Thee and our fellowmen. We pray that Thou wilt give us the wisdom and the heart to do the things that we know to be right.

We also thank Thee for this week, when we honor the Boy Scouts. We thank Thee for the thousands of men and women who have dedicated their lives to the training of more than 24,000,000 of our boys in the last forty-six years. We pray that this great work may continue so that we may build better men. In the Master's Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. MADIGAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. WATSON, due to illness.

An Act to further amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "Fish Law of 1925" by permitting aliens to obtain licenses to fish.

which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 96, RE-REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, returned to the Senate, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 96, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

"FRONTIER FORTS OF PENNSYLVANIA" TO BE ISSUED AS A BENJAMIN FRANKLIN MEMORIAL

In the Senate, January 23, 1956.

Today the 250th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin on January 17, 1706 is being commemorated throughout Pennsylvania and throughout the world by all those societies and institutions which have benefitted from his great contributions to the enlightenment of mankind.

Pennsylvanians have reason to remember and honor a special contribution of Benjamin Franklin, two hundred years ago during the French and Indian War. When the defeat of Braddock's army left frontier farms and homes defenseless and exposed to the raids of the French and Indians, Benjamin Franklin was one of the Provincial Commissioners who took the first active steps to establish a system of defense. He helped to plan a chain of frontier forts and to raise troops for garrison and patrol duty. After the force assigned to protect old Northampton County was routed by the Indians on the first of January, 1756, Franklin himself went to reorganize and complete the defenses of that important sector, and remained there until February 5th, building Fort Allen and supervising the building of three other forts.

Franklin's great achievements in other fields have tended to obscure his part in the planning and building of frontier forts. This service to Pennsylvania meant even more in terms of the political background of that day. Franklin was the leader of the popular party in the Assembly of Pennsylvania, and his party had been described to British officials as likely to oppose and hinder efforts to defend the Province. By his vigorous action in the crisis, Benjamin Franklin headed off any attempt to use the war emergency as an excuse for lessening the powers of the Assembly and restricting the number of voters. Thus he protected Pennsylvania's freedom in a double sense when he built frontier forts two hundred years ago, and we should be especially mindful of these services today; therefore be it

Resolved, That the new edition of "Frontier Forts of Pennsylvania" shall be issued as a Benjamin Franklin Memorial Edition with a suitable portrait of Franklin's as frontispiece and with an appropriate introductory essay on Franklin's services in this critical period of Pennsylvania history; and that the Committee on Appropriations is hereby urged on this significant date to report out the bill authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to publish "Frontier Forts of Pennsylvania," so that the Benjamin Franklin Memorial Edition may be issued at the earliest possible moment.

and re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. PROPERT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 969, entitled:

A Supplement to the act of June 2, 1915 (P. L. 736) entitled, as amended, "The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act," providing for the payment of compensation to auxiliary police or their dependents.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, not since 1929 were there any laws passed concerning zoning. To use slang expressions, building is now booming, mushrooming, snowballing and whatnot. Yet, the rules governing zoning, because of that terrific expansion, are now archaic.

In Philadelphia, we are confronted with a situation where five learned pundits, using this law, in many instances hamper progress and expansion. When an appeal is to be made, there are no transcribed notes of testimony. Furthermore, many times reports are made on the basis of a sketchy and superficial investigation.

Mr. President, the purpose of my bill is twofold. One is to make it mandatory to have the notes of testimony transcribed and placed in the record and, second, making it mandatory, at least, to have two members of the board to personally visit the premises in question, prepare a report, transcribe it and attach it to the record, too.

Mr. President, I am presenting this bill on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Mullin, Senator Camiel and myself.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STIEFEL, MULLIN and CAMIEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 970, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 6, 1929 (P. L. 1551), entitled "An act authorizing cities of the first class to adopt and enforce zoning ordinances; . . .," further regulating the duties and functions of the board of adjustment in cities of the first class.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Messrs. KESSLER, SEYLER, WAGNER, RUTH, DIEHM and WADE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 971, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 22, 1955 (Appropriation Acts No. 29A), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Department of Public Instruction for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five . . .," increasing the amount of the appropriation for state teachers colleges.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, just one year ago today, I arose in this Chamber and made sensational charges about the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Dallas, Texas. I spoke at length and placed before this Senate living people who were told that they just had to die. They were treated successfully by the Hoxsey treatment. I pointed out that night to my colleagues that Harry M. Hoxsey, a Naturopath, from Dallas, Texas, had concosted a therapy known as chemotherapy, a composition of drugs and chemicals that were very effective in the treatment of cancer.

Some five or seven years ago I wrote many articles in papers, that I have been writing for during the last twenty years, pertaining to chemotherapy. The medical world, as a whole, made small of my term "chemotherapy." In fact, the entire Universe made small of my many, many remarks. Since a year ago today, I have been persecuted and prosecuted. I spent thousands upon thousands of dollars defending myself in courtrooms. I have undergone a lot of physical punishment, only because I was leading a crusade on behalf of suffering humanity. That crusade shall go on just so long as my good Maker spares me.

Mr. President, since a year ago today, we have opened up in Portage, Pennsylvania a clinic, and thanks to my colleagues in this Senate, who passed a resolution making it possible for me to hire the services of qualified physicians, qualified nurses and qualified technicians. Gentlemen, it was your resolution that made that possible and I shall be forever grateful for your kind deeds. Since that date, thousands of people have come to our doors. They were not only from America, but from all parts of this world. Only this week, an Army nurse flew in from Congo, West Africa, for treatment after she was told that she had to die. People are coming to Portage from all parts of the globe as their last hope, their last chance. They want to live.

Mr. President, I am going to give to you a prepared speech, the first one I have ever prepared in my twenty-two years in the State Legislature, only because I do not want to take up the time of this Senate. I promised my colleagues last year that I would not make a habit of talking on cancer at length.

However, Mr. President, before I do that, I want to point out that today it is somewhat a different story. The battle I carried on for seven years is now coming to light and the Hoxsey treatment is becoming a reality, even though they may change the name.

I have before me a letter, Mr. President, from the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, signed by Doctor I. S. Ravdin, who is appealing to the Members of this Body to pass Senate Bill No. 231. It is very pleasing to me, to say the least, to note that he points out that now we are on the brink of a great discovery known as chemotherapy for cancer. I am happy to know now that the medical world is beginning to realize that my battle was not futile.

Lo and behold, last night I went down to the railroad station and I found the U. S. News and World Report. I trust you will all buy it. On the cover appears this question, "Is a Cancer Cure Near?" I trust that every person in America will read this issue of the U. S. News and World Report. I shall only read the caption of the article, Mr. President. It is written by a man whom I have admired for many, many years, Doctor C. P. Rhoads, the noted Director of Cancer Research of the Sloan-Kettering Foundation. This article appears in the issue of February 10, 1956. It states as follows:

"Major clues toward curing cancer with chemicals are being discovered now by medical science.

"Some victims of the disease are being helped by man-made drugs—drugs still experimental and only partly effective.

"But scientists now know how those chemicals work. They have the means, says one of the country's leading authorities, for making others that are 'potentially better.' In time, he adds, chemicals will bring under control a disease for which surgery and radiation can, at best, be only a partial answer.

"This hope for victory over the nation's No. 2 killer is held out by Dr. C. P. Rhoads, director of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research. In the interview that follows, he tells the story behind that progress."

Mr. President, the world is now beginning to realize that chemotherapy is the only answer to this dreadful disease. I do not care whether it is Hoxsey's chemotherapy or anybody else's. I am interested in humanity. When the hospitals of our Nation adopt the chemotherapy method as standard, I shall be the happiest person in this world to turn the key at the Hoxsey Clinic in Portage, Pennsylvania, and go into retirement and spend the balance of my days by helping those hospitals to save humanity.

Before I close, I want to read only a part of a letter that came in only five minutes ago by airmail from Canada. It is only one of the several hundred thousand that I have received since last February 7th. I have in my possession over 200,000 communications and they are almost all parallel with this letter. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Senator Haluska:

"No doubt you will be somewhat surprised to get a letter from a very ordinary citizen of the smallest Province of Canada. Recently my wife who has passed her 55th birthday had gone to her Medical Doctor for a check-up as she had not been feeling up to par. She was then sent to Hospital for x-ray and after nothing showed upon the plates she was prepared for an operation for suspected cancer. It appears the diagnosis had been correct. Surgeons made an incision, and sewed her up. We have been told there is no hope."

Mr. President, this is the kind of letter I receive every day. The letter goes on and asks me about this woman coming to our clinic. Only those people who were told they have to die have come to us. What I say means little; what counts is actual results. They have been phenomenal, unbelievable. I hope, Mr. President, that the Members of this Body will take time out some day to see for themselves just what I have been doing on behalf of these poor innocent victims. I wish they would come down and check our reports, talk to the patients and see for themselves what we have done. The Members of the Senate have done a marvlous job by helping me. In conclusion, you can do more.

Mr. President, we are about to adjourn sine die, I hope, within a few weeks. I note in the Governor's program that he has recommended to this Body an appropriation of $265,000 for cancer research. I have, therefore, put in a bill, Senate Bill No. 894, and I have written to all the Members of the Senate, individually, asking them to be kind enough to consider taking part of this appropriation, $50,000, and give it to the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic to be used in conjunction only with outstanding laboratories. We have working connections with laboratories in Hartford, Connecticut, New York City and in Philadelphia. We have some of the best chemists and best medical men in the Country doing research for us. Our funds are limited.

Now that the medical world agrees that the answer must be found in chemotherapy, gentlemen, you can do your Country and your God no more good than by bringing this bill out of committee and try to make it possible for us to continue. Every dollar that is given us will pay great dividends to the peoples of this world. I do not know whether the Governor will sign this bill. I do not know whether the House will pass this bill. I know the Department of Health has been prejudiced. I say this Body has the courage to bring that bill out of committee and put it to a vote and pass it. Mr. President, there is nothing they can do better in serving humanity. Nothing can they ever do that will means more to their consciences and to those poor people whom we are saving every day.

Mr. President, again I want to thank my colleagues for the resolution they passed which made it possible for us to operate.

I want to place into the record a prepared speech, criticizing no one. It is a speech that I trust every Member will read. Within this speech you will find evidence whereby eminent physicians go on record. I shall read only one paragraph which is very, very brief.

"Back in 1922, Dr. Robert Bell wrote a story which appeared in the New York Medical Record, March 18, 1922, when he stated, 'Cancer definitely is a blood disease and must be treated by chemotherapy.'"

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the Senator from Cambria, together with his prepared speech, will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

(Following are the prepared remarks requested to be spread upon the record by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. HALUSKA:)

Mr. President, just one year ago, I arose in place and informed the members of this august body of my interest in the Hoxsey treatment pertaining to cancer suffers.

February the 7th, 1955 will, no doubt, go down in history as a "red-letter day" in Pennsylvania. It was on that date that I brought to this Chamber that outstanding humanitarian, Dr. Harry M. Hoxey of Dallas, Texas.

It was on that day that I spoke of young Richard Metzger of Erie, Pennsylvania, who was doomed to an early death. This young man was afflicted with Hodgkin's Disease at the age of seventeen. This was in 1946. Medical science said there was no further hope for him and he was placed on a morphine diet and doomed to an early grave.

It was at this point that Mr. Metzger, Sr. decided to take Richard to the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Dallas, Texas. The records now show, ten years later, that this young man has since graduated from Miami University. He has been a captain in the Air Force and is today leading a normal life, symptom-free.

It was on that night that I presented my beloved baby sister, Mrs. Verne Haluska Kielbowick of Patton, Pennsylvania, who was told by medical science that nothing further could be done for her. She was diagnosed by outstanding physicians at the Miners' Hospital at Spangler, Pennsylvania. A biopsy was taken by Dr. Brumbaugh, who at that time served at the Miners' Hospital at Spangler Pennsylvania, and the Mercy Hospital in Altoona, Pennsylvania.

After surgical and x-ray treatments she was sent to the McGee Hospital of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was opened up and simultaneously closed, and was told that nothing further could be done for her; that she should be placed on a morphine diet until death finally came which, they said at that time, would be within several weeks.

As a last resort, I insisted that she submit to the Hoxsey treatment which she did. Today, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I am happy to report to you that she is as well as any person I know of. She works at the Hoxey Clinic at Portage, Pennsylvania, drives fifty-four miles each day, to and from work, and is as normal and happy as any person on earth. She is raising a family of four children and taking an active part in civic, social and political affairs. All of this, after she was told back in 1953 that she had several weeks to live.

Then again permit me to point out to you the case of Mrs. Oscar Feather, of 1108 Allegheny Street, Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania, who, back in 1949, was told by her family physician at the Altoona Hospital that her leg had to be amputated up to the hip immediately if she wanted to prolong her life.

Not being satisfied with her doctor's decision, her husband drove her to the Cleveland Clinic at Cleveland, Ohio for a check-up. Again, there she was informed that the biopsy taken of her at Altoona was correct; that the left leg had to be amputated up to the hip immediately, and even then her chances of survival were 50-50.

It was then that Mr. and Mrs. Feather decided to take that last chance, because Mrs. Feather stated definitely that she would rather die than live with such a handicap. They drove to the Hoxsey Clinic at Dallas, Texas where she submitted to the Hoxsey treatment.

Mr. President, I invite any person in this Chamber, or this Nation, to contact Mrs. Feather and learn directly from her of her sad experience, the thousands of dollars that she spent with medical doctors and hospitals, only to be told that her case was hopeless. The Hoxsey treatment not only saved her leg, but saved her life. The beautiful lady is today running a big store in Hollidaysburg, is back of the counter every day and is being contacted by people from all over the universe asking her whether or not the story they hear about her is true.

Mr. President, I could stand here tonight and give you hundreds upon hundreds of bona fide cases of men, women and young children, who were told they just had to die, who had submitted to the so-called orthodox method of treatment, who had undergone radical surgery, who had received deep therapy treatments, cobalt and radium. Then after their body failed to respond to any further treatments, they were told to go home and die.

As a last resort, they submitted to the Hoxsey treatment and today are back in society, happy and thanking their God daily that those interested in the Hoxsey treatment will be able to carry on their noble work on behalf of suffering humanity in the days to come.

Now please understand, Mr. President, I am not trying to make you or my colleagues believe that the Hoxsey Clinic at Dallas, Texas or Portage, Pennsylvania possesses a panacea or a cure-all. I am not trying to make you believe that all we need to do is wave a magic wand and a person responds immediately. No, Mr. President, that is not my thought. I would rather die on this floor than to deceive those poor innocent victims who are suffering from this most dreadful disease. I would rather die than give them false hope.

I am leading this crusade because I firmly believe in it and, despite the fact that I sincerely believe that the Hoxsey Chemotherapy treatment is the most efficacious treatment in the universe, we cannot replace an organ that has been cut away. We can not replace any part of the body that has been burnt to a crisp by deep therapy treatments. But we have proven definitely that we have prolonged the lives of thousands of people, even though they had subscribed to the above therapies and were given up to die.

I believe, Mr. President, there is a place for limited surgery where cancer is involved. I further believe there is a place for limited therapy treatments, provided however, that after these treatments cancer is arrested and the Chemotherapy method is quickly applied to attack the source of this dreadful disease.

Cancer just is not formed internally or externally like an apple on a tree, and then after being removed, make believe that the patient is cured. Cancer is a disease that, in my humble opinion, starts in the blood stream. A disorderly cell goes on a rampage and multiplies into great quantities, forming a tumor and nourishing upon the ingredients that should go to a healthy part of the body.

You cannot cut away the blood stream because that is life in itself. So to treat this most dreadful disease successfully, you must attack the body chemistry with proper medication, chemicals and drugs, or combinations of them for different cases, which is known to medicine as the Chemotherapy treatment.

Take for instance, Mr. President, the plumbing in your house springs a leak, let's say a pipe line running between the floors, and you wake up some morning and find your parlor or kitchen floor completely covered with water. If it is a slow leak, your first duty will be to clean up the mess, which we call the object. Secondly, you no doubt will call a plumber immediately to try to determine the cause of this steady dripping from your ceiling because unless you find the source of the leakage, tomorrow morning you will find the same condition all over again.

So it is with cancer. Cutting away the object without determining the cause is just futile because, sure enough, the object will appear in another part of the body very shortly.

This is as plain as I can put it, Mr. President, so that the ordinary person can definitely understand what I am driving at. You must attack the body chemistry and the blood stream before you ever hope to treat a cancer sufferer successfully.

For quite some time, it appeared that I was alone in this field of thought, but recently outstanding medical men are sharing the same belief. Take for instance, Dr. George Crile, Jr., noted Cleveland Clinic surgeon, who stated, "Operations on certain kinds of highly malignant tumors do more harm than good and a handful of Top American surgeons are mutilating some cancer patients in attempting the impossible."

Then such eminent doctors as Dr. Stanley Reimann, who, after conducting research on cancer in Pennsylvania, reported to Congress that, "Those who receive no surgery, radium, and x-ray treatments live a longer period of time than those who did and that more harm than good was done by the use of radium and x-ray to the average cancer patient." To verify this statement made to Congress, please check Senate Bill 1875, 79th Congress, July 1, 2, 3, 1946.

Then that eminent Dr. C. Everett Field, Director of the Radium Institute of New York, said: "Blindly, we have been attacking cancer in its advanced stage with surgical effort, only to find prompt recurrence after removal."

Again we find that Dr. W. A. Dewey, former professor of medicine at the University of Michigan, said: "In a practice of nearly 45 years, I have yet to see a single case of cancer cured by surgery, x-ray, or radium."

Back in 1922, Dr. Robert Bell wrote a story which appeared in the New York Medical Record, March 18, 1922, when he stated: "Cancer definitely is a blood disease and must be treated as such."

I could go on, Mr. President, and quote any amount of outstanding medical men who belong to that great monopoly known as the A.M.A., who share my thoughts and agree that cancer must be treated through the blood stream if the patient is to survive. But I will not take up the time of the Senate because you gentlemen have been very kind to me, and I use those words very modestly, Mr. President, because had it not been for the action taken by the Members of this Body, there probably never would have been a cancer clinic established in this great Commonwealth.

It was through your actions, your good deeds, and wholesome thoughts, that on February the 14th, 1955 you passed a resolution in the State Senate making it possible for the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, Pennsylvania to hire the services of bona fide, qualified physicians, technicians and nurses. Your resolution and your vote assured those people they would be free from coercion and embarrassment, and by virtue of the fact that this Senate of Pennsylvania would send a copy of this resolution to the Pennsylvania Department of Health, the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare, the Pennsylvania Medical Association, the Registered Nurses Association, and the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, is the one reason why this clinic, which opened its doors on March the 7th, 1955, is functioning and never has been closed one day, despite the rumors that have spread throughout the Country that the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic of Portage is no longer in existence.

Mr. President, there were forty-eight Members present in the Senate the day that this resolution came to a vote, and the records show that forty-eight voted for it and none against it. That was a great tribute in itself to me and those of us who are crusading on behalf of millions of poor innocent victims who are afflicted with the Nation's most dreadful disease.

Mr. President, since we opened our doors, we have treated thousands of people who come to our institution daily from the four corners of America and, yes, even from foreign countries. We have given new life, new hope, a new lease on life to these many thousands who were told that they just had to die, but who did not want to die.

We have invited, and the invitation still remains open to you Members of this Senate, to any group of qualified physicians or pathologists, the American Medical Association, the Damon Runyon Fund, the American Medical Society, or the U. S. Public Health Service to come to our institution any day of the week without any prior arrangements and talk with patients who are being treated and are now living, but were told a year ago they just had to die.

We invite all of you to come in and check our pathological reports, watch our treatment, and then determine for yourself whether or not you believe that we are rendering a public service, which may seem unbelievable unless you see it firsthand. We have no secrets. We hide nothing. Our clinic is open to any lay person, any physician or to any governmental agency. We are serving God and Country and we do so proudly.

I hope, Mr. President, that before I pass away from this earth that the Hoxsey treatment will be made available to all the people of this great universe. I hope that interested parties, civic-minded leaders and people with a conscience will make it possible to some day learn the truth about the Hoxsey treatment. It is not enough for some physician to go into a courtroom and under oath, and probably under pressure, tell the judge that in his opinion he feels that the Hoxsey treatment is worthless. The thirty million cancer sufferers in America, who are doomed to die, are no longer interested in opinions. They are, however, interested in bona fide facts and results.

We stand ready to prove to America, and to the whole world, that we are achieving phenomenal results; that we are treating thousands upon thousands of cancer sufferers successfully. We are putting them back into society and sending them back home with their loved ones many, many years after they were told that their cases were hopeless.

So, Mr. President, in conclusion, I want the world to know that the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, located at Portage, Cambria County, Pennsylvania, is open six days a week, that patients are being admitted without any prior arrangements and that no one is deprived of our treatment regardless of any race, color or creed because they lack the worldly goods that usually one must have before being admitted to any hospital.

Senator John J. Haluska

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, in our more than year-long discussions revolving primarily around the budget, taxes and the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth, we have from time to time I am afraid not placed the proper amount of emphasis on other worth-while legislation that is pending before us. One of the things is that we have at least temporarily overlooked the appointment of members to the State Board of Censors and the confirmation of Governor Leader's appointees, as well as an appropriation to carry on the work of the Board of Censors.

I think any Pennsylvanian, and particularly mothers and fathers in this State, is quite concerned about the fact that at the moment we do not have an operating Board of Censors. Too much has been written on this problem and on the effect which salacious moving pictures, lewd pictures and comic books might have on the minds of our young for me to expound at any great length on it today. It seems to me that all of us will admit that some effort must be made, and should be made, by this Commonwealth to provide, as in the past, a Board of Censors for the motion picture industry. I personally believe that the Board's power should be expanded so that they would have jurisdiction over comic books, these cheap magazines which luridly display sex and many other forms of indecent and salacious literature and whatnot that we see cluttering our news stands around the Commonwealth today.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am hopeful that before long some effort will be made on the part of this Body to get into the question of the Pennsylvania Board of Censors.

At this time I would like just to read into the record a summary of the situation up to now which appeared last week in the Catholic Light, the official newspaper of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Scranton, which is quite a good summary I think of the situation as it is today. This article goes on to say:

"On March 16, 1955, House Bill 675 was introduced into the House of Representatives by Representatives Hamilton and Polaski."

Mr. President, if I may deviate for just a moment, for the second day in a row I am competing against the Senator from York. To get back to the subject, this article goes on to say:

"This bill was prepared by the Justice Department on the express order of Governor George M. Leader and is especially designed to meet any possible court objections."

Mr. President, if I might say as an aside, this is, of course, of paramount importance because we all know that the old Pennsylvania act was declared invalid and unconstitutional by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals some years ago. There has been some discussion among various Members of the Senate, myself included, as to the exact effect of this court decision. Some believe that the entire act was invalidated and that the State is precluded from making any effort to censor motion picture films of any type or any censorship in any manner whatsoever. I think a careful reading of that decision does not support that conclusion, and I think that is pointed out here in this article. I will return now to the article and quote from it:

"The United States Court of Appeals in the third circuit at Philadelphia on September 5, 1950, found, in a unanimous decision written by Justice Biggs and concurred in by Justices Morris and Goodrich, that one section of P. L. 534 of Pennsylvania, the legislation which had authorized a Board of Censors for forty-one years was unconstitutional. The United States Supreme Court confirmed in February 1951, by refusing to review.

"Governor Leader, taking this as a warning and well aware that the courts in recent years have found certain sections of various State laws unconstitutional, directed the lawyers in the Department of Justice to write new legislation. House Bill 675 was the result and was passed by the Democratically controlled House on June 14, 1955.

"On June 20, 1955, House Bill 675 went to the Senate and was referred to the Committee on Law and Order. It has been pigeonholed in that committee ever since.

"Last March, also, Governor Leader sent to the Senate Committee on Executive Nominations the names of Mrs. Louise M. John of Westchester, Mrs. Helen K. Massock of Washington, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Clara S. Black of Harrisburg to comprise the Board of Censors in this State. To this day the committee has failed to approve these nominations.

"Several weeks ago an appropriation of $235,000 for the Board of Movie Censors was lopped from a $566,000,000 general education bill approved by the Legislature. On January 17, Representative Stephen McCann and Representative Dean Polen, introduced House Bill 1974 calling for an appropriation especially for the Board of Movie Censors equal to the sum dropped from the education bill, $235,000. This bill was reported out of the House Committee on Appropriations and is now up for a vote before the House.

"There is speculation in some quarters of Harrisburg and outside as to why, after forty-one years, there should now appear strong opposition in some quarters to censorship of motion pictures in the Commonwealth. Even allowing for the fact that the Legislature is locked in a debate over taxes and in the midst of the longest session in its history, they find it difficult to fathom the reasons for the delay in setting up the Board.

"They note, too, that the battle for and against Censorship appears to have a definite political hue.

"If the Legislature recesses without passing legislation setting up a Board of Movie Censors and appropriating money for such a Board, then the way would appear open, according to informed sources, for the exhibition in this State of every type of objectionable film."

Mr. President, I am certain that there is no Member of this Senate who wants to see the way opened in Pennsylvania for unlimited distribution and showing of lewd, lascivious and sexy motion pictures. I am sure that before long here, reasonable heads will prevail and we will be able to work out between ourselves, in spite of whatever other differences we might have on other subjects, some means by which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can keep from inside its borders salacious literature and motion pictures of all description.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to assure Senator McMenamin that we on this side of the aisle will be happy to cooperate with him in trying to work out the difficulties concerning this legislation, and try to work out some legislation which will be in line with the Supreme Court decision which he has referred to. Once in a while I have the opportunity of going down to Florida, and I have talked with my wife about the pictures that they show down there in the theatres which she takes my little boy to. She says that they allow some terrible pictures to be shown to the children in the State of Florida. We certainly do not want to have anything like that in the State of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, if we can work out something which will be in line with the law of the Federal Courts and will protect our children and the people of Pennsylvania from having to go to shows and witness pictures of questionable character, I think we all want to join in that effort.

If Senator Lane does not have something to say, I would suggest that we recess for lunch.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I just wanted to say that I appreciate very much Senator Mahany's attitude. I think all of us know that, from the beginning, he is always in the ranks of those who are interested in good government.

MISS LUCY VALERO, PRESIDENT OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have a very pleasant task to perform here today. All of you have heard me talk many, many times about the accomplishments and the virtues of the great County of Washington and the great County of Greene.

Mr. President, today we have in the Hall of the Senate a young lady of whom the people of Washington County are extremely proud. We are proud of the fact because today this young lady is the new President of the P.S.E.A. She happens to be an elementary teacher in the California schools and has dedicated most of her life to the cause of education.

It is with great pleasure that I present to this body here today the new President of the P.S.E.A., Miss Lucy Valero, of California, Pennsylvania. Miss Valero is in the rear of the house. Will you please stand, Miss Valero?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to say that we are very honored and happy to have this distinguished guest here with us today.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. YOSKO, KOPRIVER, JR., McMENAMIN and VAN SANT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 972, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "The Third Class City Code," by further regulating the sale of forests and watersheds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes, for the purpose of having lunch.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, one of the finest traditions in the Senate of Pennsylvania has been the fact that each biennium we have commemorative exercises on the birthday of our martyred President, Abraham Lincoln.

Therefore, true to the tradition of the Senate of Pennsylvania, I am presenting this resolution and hope it will be immediately adopted. The resolution is being offered on behalf of Senator Chapman, Senator Blass, the eminent historian from Erie, and myself.

SENATE RESOLUTION

ABRAHAM LINCOLN COMMEMORATIVE CELEBRATION

Messrs. STIEFEL, CHAPMAN and BLASS offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 7, 1956.

Resolved that, on Monday the thirteenth day of February, 1956, the Senate of Pennsylvania shall hold its traditional exercises in commemoration of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, since the actual date of his birth falls on Sunday the twelfth of February; and be it further

Resolved that the President pro tempore shall appoint two members to arrange and conduct suitable exercises paying tribute to the memory of the great martyred President who, by family and other connections, had many close ties with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, yesterday afternoon I spoke briefly on the recent large number of escapes, twenty-seven to be exact, from the Farview Hospital for the criminally insane. It has just been brought to my attention that the Secretary of Welfare has issued a press release on the Farview situation, which I will not go into in detail, but there are a couple of points in it which I would like to comment on and point up for the Senate's consideration at this time.

I also want to say that I have asked the Reference Bureau to prepare a resolution calling for an investigation of the situation, but it has not been prepared and handed to me. So at this time, because I am fearful that the day will be over before we can get into an investigative resolution, I would like to quote just one sentence from the Secretary's press release. To the best of my knowledge this sentence is not taken out of context. This sentence would stand by itself and mean by itself exactly what it means in its context in the paragraph in which it is now placed.

Mr. President, the Secretary of Welfare goes on to say, in the first page of the release, the following:

"The facts disclose that none of the escapees were the type of patients who should be locked up, and some of them escaped even though they were under temporary security."

Of the twenty-seven people who have escaped from there in eight or nine months, a great many of them were murderers and one of them was a triple murderer. If a triple murderer is not the type of patient who should be locked up, then I do not know why we bother to have cells and bars and locks on any jail, penitentiary or institution in Pennsylvania.

One other thing, Mr. President, there are some recommendations made by the leadership of the Department of Welfare which, of course, call for more money. One recommendation is as follows.

"The present salary scale of attendants, which is $3414 to $3900, should be increased to a State pay scale of from $4000 to $4500."

There is more discussion on the difficulty the Department has had in securing anybody to work at present wages as a guard in this institution. It also recommends that thirty more attendants be put at Farview immediately.

Mr. President, if the Department of Welfare has had trouble getting people to work at Farview, I would like to suggest that they come and see me because my phone has been rung off the wall the last year by people seeking jobs and a great many of them want jobs at Farview as attendants at $300 a month. I can furnish the department, without any delay, a list of at least 200 people to fill the thirty vacancies and any other vacancies that are discussed by the Secretary.

SENATE BILL No. 284, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 284, which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 284

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 284, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929," creating the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction.

passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 3 (Section 1310), page 9, line 11, by striking out "said" and inserting: "licensing."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE BILL No. 285, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 285, which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 285

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 285, entitled:

An Act relating to the practice of Chiropody; conferring powers and imposing duties on the State Board of Chiropody Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction; and providing penalties.

passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

"Section 18 Display of license and certificate Every holder of a license or certificate of registration shall display the same in a conspicuous place wherein such person shall practice chiropody

"Section 19 Injunction or Other Process The Board, upon the advice of the Attorney General may maintain an action in the name of the Commonwealth for an injunction or other process against any person to restrain or prevent his practicing the profession of chiropody in a public or private capacity. Any such action shall be instituted in the court of common pleas in any county where the alleged unauthorized practice was committed. The court may issue a temporary restraining order or injunction under this act but shall determine any such action on its merits as soon as convenient whether in term time or in vacation. Appeals from any final decision of the court to the Superior or Supreme Court shall be as in similar cases. No bond shall be required of and no costs shall be taxed against the board on account of any such action. No action brought under the provisions of this act shall prevent the prosecution or institution of any civil or criminal action provided by this act for violation thereof or of any rule or regulation of the board promulgated thereunder.

"Section 20 Records All records and documents pertaining to persons licensed to practice chiropody shall be transferred to the Board"; Amend page 6, line 4, by striking out "8" and inserting: "21"; Amend page 6, line 11, by striking out "9" and inserting: "22"; Amend Section 9, page 6, line 13, by inserting after "repealed" "as amended."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DENT, WAGNER, SCOTT, HALUSKA, McMENAMIN, YOSKO, LANE, FLACK, HAYS, DERK, BARR, STEVENSON, MALLERY, BERGER WOLFE and WHALLEY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 973 entitled:

An Act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth by the reduction of unemployment in certain areas of the Commonwealth determined to be critical economic areas; providing for the establishment of industrial development projects in such areas; creating The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to allocate funds for and make secured loans to industrial development agencies for the payment of a part of the cost of industrial development projects in critical economic areas; authorizing the Authority to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency or industrial development agency; empowering the Authority to take title to sell, convey and lease industrial development projects where necessary to protect loans made by the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority on industrial development projects; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth, its municipalities or political subdivisions shall be incurred in the exercise of any powers granted by this act; and providing for the examination of the accounts and affairs of the Authority; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 7, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

A new Bill providing construction loan assistance on industrial development projects in our distressed area communities is being introduced in the Pennsylvania Senate today. The Bill is sponsored by a group of Senators from both parties—which is in keeping with its purposes, and reflects the manner in which it has been drafted.

The new Bill is a revision of the Industrial Development Authority proposal submitted to the General Assembly last Spring (S.B. 276 and H.B. 1588).

In the regional hearings on industrial development which I held at Erie, Johnstown and Wilkes-Barre last Fall, dozens of community leaders from areas suffering prolonged and severe unemployment filled the record with heartening stories of successful community industrial development programs, and with a plea for assistance from the Commonwealth on those programs.

They reported on the more than eighty manufacturing plants now operating in Pennsylvania, which were built by a combination of community fund-raising and first mortgage loans, mainly from local banks. This is an impressive record of local bootstrap-lifting. It has involved the active participation of commercial establishments, local industries, professional people, labor, educators, local governmental officials, Republicans, Democrats—everyone.

It has by no means "licked" the unemployment problem in these areas, but it has provided thousands of new jobs in industry.

These community leaders are sure they have the right formula. They believe that they can rent or sell many, many more such plants, if only they can find a way to finance them.

However, they stated, repeatedly, that they tend to run out of money, or credit, or both. Money already raised locally is "tied up" in existing plants. It becomes difficult, or impossible, to return too frequently to the citizens on "drives" for additional money. Local banks, with a fine record of progressive financing in this field, find it difficult to extend additional, large, first mortgage loans of this type.

Most all of these community industrial development leaders asked for financial help from the Commonwealth.

Such help, they said, would make local fund-raising easier, would release a portion of the funds already tied up in existing plants for the construction of still more plants, would reduce the size of first mortgage loans needed from the banks and insurance companies—take out some of the "risk." Finally, they said, such help would leave the initiative, the evaluation of the prospect industry, and the basic tests of financial feasibility right in the community itself, and with the cooperating banks and other financial institutions.

Upon my return from those Fall meetings I directed my staff to explore, in consultation with finance and legal experts experienced in Pennsylvania community industrial development programs, a new approach to legislation on this general matter.

These discussions have been going on almost continuously since that time, and a whole series of drafts and re-drafts prepared and considered. The result is the Bill now being presented for action in the General Assembly.

It is based on the conventional, proven pattern of community industrial development financing in Pennsylvania, and would provide what local organizations, themselves, believe to be the type of assistance the Commonwealth can most appropriately, and most effectively, extend.

As the result of years of urgent pleading, the problem of these areas of chronic unemployment has now won national recognition in the Congress and in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government.

In July Senator Paul Douglas and a number of his associates introduced a "Depressed Areas" Bill in the United States Senate, proposing a series of special measures, including a loan program for industrial construction, aimed at correcting economic maladjustments in those areas. A companion Bill was introduced in the House by Congressman Daniel J. Flood, of Wilkes-Barre.

A few weeks ago, in submitting his Economic Report to the Congress, President Eisenhower had this to say on the subject:

"To cope with chronic unemployment which has persisted in some communities, despite the attainment of practically full employment in the Nation at large, a new Area Assistance Program is recommended."

That program, as submitted to the Congress, also proposes, among other things, a system of Federal loans for industrial construction in distressed area communities, and calls for state and local participation.

The proposed Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority Bill makes explicit provision for gearing in with whatever Federal industrial construction loan program emerges from the present Congress, in connection with distressed area legislation.

I want to express my own gratitude, and that of my associates, for the many thoughtful letters and many hours of consultation received on this matter from key men in industrial development work in such areas as Altoona, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Hazleton, Pottsville, Erie, Lewistown, Tamaqua, Berwick, Uniontown.

The work of those and other similar Pennsylvania groups, it should be pointed out, is outstanding, nationally. No other state can boast of the kind of record they have made. It was made—is being made—in the face of difficulties and discouragements which would easily kill the ardor of less determined civic leaders. This community movement is a key resource for the economic development of our distressed areas and, thus, for the economic growth and stability of the entire Commonwealth. Through this new industrial development financing proposal, we can greatly strengthen that resource and put it to its fullest use.

The basic provisions of the Bill are these:

(1) It would create a Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, composed of a board of eleven members—four ex-officio, the Secretaries of Labor and Industry, Internal Affairs, Banking, and of Commerce, the latter to serve as Chairman; seven representing the public, to be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate;

(2) The Authority would be empowered to provide loan assistance to industrial development agencies in any municipality, group of municipalities, county or group of counties or region of the Commonwealth having had not less than 6 per cent of its labor force unemployed for a period of not less than three years, or 9 per cent for not less than eighteen months, immediately prior to an official finding by the Authority;

(3) The Authority's financial assistance would take the form of second mortgage loans to non-profit industrial development agencies of up to 30 per cent of the construction cost of industrial or manufacturing plants and facilities, provided:

a. The local industrial development agency provides from whatever source, not less than 20 per cent of the cost of the project;

b. The local agency has a firm commitment from responsible financial sources for the balance of the loan funds needed, such funds to be secured by a first mortgage;

c. The local agency shows evidence of a firm commitment from a responsible tenant or buyer to provide the machinery and equipment and to occupy and operate the project.

(4) The Authority could make loans to local industrial development agencies, subject to the above ratios, on projects they have already financed, provided the funds thus released from existing projects are used for the construction of additional projects;

(5) Interest rates and other terms of the Authority's loans could be fixed at the discretion of the board;

(6) The Authority could not make loans which would cause the removal of a plant from one area of the Commonwealth to another area of the Commonwealth;

(7) As an initial appropriation of $5,000,000 is sought for the present biennium, to establish the Authority's Industrial Development Fund. I will be prepared to recommend an additional $5,000,000 for each year of the coming biennium. Loan repayment and interest revenues of the Authority would return to the Fund, to be used on a revolving basis.

This, I submit, is a proposal which merits wide support in the General Assembly.

Scores of Pennsylvania communities are suffering chronic and severe unemployment—in the anthracite area, in many of the bituminous areas and the railway centers of western Pennsylvania, in areas of northern Pennsylvania where lumbering and wood-working industries once flourished, and where they may flourish again.

Roughly twenty per cent—a fifth, of the population of the Commonwealth lives in areas of substantial labor surplus. Their economic plight means a serious drain on State and local funds for public assistance and unemployment compensation. Young people are forced to leave home in search of employment. Population declines. The local tax base—and, thus, the tax base of the Commonwealth, itself, is impaired.

Accordingly, this is not merely a local problem. It is a Commonwealth problem, also. Until the economic maladjustments behind it are rectified, Pennsylvania will not keep pace with the economic growth of her neighboring states. Indeed, it is that kind of consideration which has led President Eisenhower, and Congressional leaders from both political parties in Washington to focus their attention on it. They regard it as a National problem.

The new Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, in my judgment, provides the means for an effective, joint, community-State-Federal attack on this problem. It is a problem beyond the scope of any one of them, alone, to deal with successfully.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

The PRESIDENT. Copies of this message are being placed on the desk of each Senator. The message is in connection with the bill just introduced.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution relative to returning Senate Bill No. 192, Printer's No. 246, to the Governor without amendment.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

RETURNING TO THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 192 WITHOUT AMENDMENT

In the Senate, January 23, 1956.

Resolved (the House concurring), That Senate Bill No. 192, Printer's No. 246, entitled "An act providing for and regulating the licensing and practice of practical nursing; imposing duties on the State Board of Nurse Examiners and imposing penalties," which was recalled from the Governor December 28, 1955, for the purpose of amendment, be returned to the Governor without amendment.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, this bill originally was passed by the Assembly and sent to the Governor's Office. When it reached the Governor's Office, this body was in recess over the holidays for about a month. The recommendation of the Attorney General was that the bill was a harmful bill and was so reported to the Governor and the Governor was considering a veto. I had some interviews with the Governor's Legislative Assistant, and because this Body was out of session at the time and rather than veto it, we discussed amending the bill. The Governor then sent it back here for possible amendment. The bill, in its present form, provides an impossible task of 1500 hours of sustained education to become licensed under this section.

Mr. President, the type of person who goes in for practical nursing is the type of person who has to earn a living. It is quite impossible for them to put in these hours. As a matter of fact, if they can put in four or five hours per week they are being taxed to their utmost, both physically and financially.

Under the provisions of this bill, Mr. President, they may now do the very same thing by going to public schools, vocational schools under the Department of Public Instruction, and get the very same thing in Philadelphia and other parts of the State. In the past they have averaged about seventy students a year. The sixteen private schools, which train ninety per cent of all of the practical nurses in Pennsylvania, train over 2,000 a year, between 2,000 and 3,000. There is a very severe, acute shortage of nurses of this type.

This bill would, in effect, put these schools out of existence. I presented an amendment and I sent each Member of this Body a copy. This amendment would not affect the present provisions of the bill. It would merely provide, in a measure, the existence of these schools and provide some regulations which would allow them to continue in business. This amendment would provide that the practical nurse in the private school must have "satisfactorily completed a course of not less than 100 hours in practical nursing in a private practical nursing school licensed for three years by the Department of Public Instruction and has been actively engaged in nursing as a practical nurse as herein defined for a period of one year upon submission of proof of such practice satisfactory to the board."

This amendment was refused by the proponents of this bill. The proponents of the bill are the registered nurses. There is no really organized group of practical nurses because they are not the type and the business is not established as such where they would want to organize. However, there is a paper organization to make it appear that there is a group in favor of this bill among practical nurses, but the sham is easily taken off or exposed when, at a meeting a couple weeks ago of the registered nurses of Philadelphia, they asked their members to write the Senators up here in charge of this bill but not to write the name "Registered Nurse" or put "R. N." after their name to make it appear that somebody else other than the registered nurses were in favor of this bill.

Mr. President, the real persons who are going to be hurt by sending this bill back to the Governor, if he should sign it, are the people of Pennsylvania who need practical nursing services. When these schools go out of business, we will not have any more schools training practical nurses. The group of people who are trying to enter into this field of practical nursing who, as I said, run into the thousands every year, are going to be hurt by this bill.

Mr. President, I have attended a certificate distribution, or what might be called a distribution of certificates, at one of these schools. It happened that about 2,000 people attended that occasion at the Baptist Temple in Philadelphia, filling it up. I am certain if any Senator here had attended that occasion and had seen the type of people and the importance to which they attach their duties, they would certainly listen to them when I come on their behalf and ask you not to drive this industry out of business.

All of the teachers in these institutions are registered physicians and registered nurses. They do not have any lay teachers at all. They are all registered physicians and nurses. The type of people who take this course are very serious-minded people and they take their job very seriously and I speak on their behalf. Two of these schools in Philadelphia are entirely colored. The other schools are about fifty percent colored in Philadelphia. It is this type of people who will not get a voice. I venture to say that if you are going to turn this over to the hospitals, which it is intended to be, there will be very few persons registered to be practical nurses in these hospitals.

It seems to me, and I have had doctors tell me, that hospitals are run by registered nurses; that doctors come in for a little while and disappear but the registered nurses are there all the time and they practically run the institution, and they will try to keep out anybody who desires to be a practical nurse from getting into these hospitals. I am sure that this is their only purpose in being for this bill. They do not want anybody to learn anything, especially anything which concerns their profession. This type of attempt to maintain exclusive control of a profession or of any source of knowledge, in my opinion, is very dangerous. It is so dangerous and so vicious that it reminds me of the type of student that is down in the University of Alabama, making a drive on one woman who is going to that school because she is of a different color. I venture to say that there is a lot of that among these nurses. There is a lot of that feeling among them. They do not want this economic opportunity to go to certain individuals in our society.

Mr. President, I certainly ask all of my colleagues not to vote for this resolution, but rather to consider an amendment in line with what the Governor has requested. The Governor probably would not have sent this bill back had we not been out of session. He probably would have called us in there and called our attention to the fact that we are cutting off a supply of help in a field where there is great need. That is the only reason for the Governor sending the bill back here.

I ask my colleagues not to pass this resolution, but consider some amendment to it of the nature and in line with what I have read here; some amendment which will allow these private schools to live.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not intend to debate the bill again, nor do I intend to debate the proposed amendments which Senator Mullin feels that he wants to offer to the bill. I feel that when this bill was before us on a previous occasion, Senator Mullin had an opportunity to introduce amendments. I believe he did attempt to introduce his amendments at that time and they were voted down. The Senate acted on this bill and it acted on it in the form that it now is in. The House also concurred in it and we sent it to the Governor's desk.

It is usually a policy for the Governor to either sign the bill into law or veto it, if he feels it is a bad bill. If there is some technical thing wrong with it or it needs some technical change in its language, then the Governor asks us to recall it from his desk so that we may put in those technical changes so that it will conform with the law, the decisions and the statutes of Pennsylvania. We usually go along with the Governor's requests for recalls to put in such technical amendments. However, it is not our policy to bring a bill back before us which we have acted on previously just in order for a Senator to have another opportunity of introducing the same amendments which we defeated on a previous occasion, and to change the intent of the legislation.

Mr. President, we, in the Legislature, felt that we were doing a good job. The Practical Nurses Association was for the bill. They feel that this will protect the public if this bill is enacted into law. They feel the public needs this type of legislation for its protection. These schools, which Senator Mullin referred to, are not doing the type of job which they feel should be done. It is not our purpose to keep schools in business if they do not do the type of job which it is felt they should do to protect the public. They will either have to improve their curriculum or else go out of business. As another alternative, if this bill becomes law, Senator Mullin may amend the law to include his schools and introduce a bill which will accomplish what he now says he would like to do.

I merely say, as a matter of policy, this Senate and this General Assembly should not bring back from the Governor a bill just in order to give a Senator another crack at it after he was defeated before on his proposals. The only reason we should bring a bill back from the Governor's desk is in order to introduce amendments of a technical nature which are usually recommended by the Department of Justice in order to make the bill conform with the law.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that we vote to send the bill back, vote for this resolution which would put the bill back on the Governor's desk for either his approval or his disapproval. If he decides to veto the bill, I will find no objection with his right to do so. If he decides to sign the bill into law, I will congratulate him and say that he has done a good job in improving the law of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Mahany, did you say that this is entirely a new precedent and that this has never been done before?

Mr. MAHANY. I said it usually is not done. It has been my understanding that our purpose in recalling bills from the Governor's desk is in order to introduce amendments of a technical nature and not to change the intent. You might be able to dig back in the dark recesses of some past performance and find some instance, which is an exception. I do not know about that. Perhaps, you can dig up something like that.

Mr. BARR. Thank you very much.

I am going to dig an instance up and I will not have to go very far back. There was a bill that became rather famous here, two years ago, which was the Barr-Walker bill. It was an amendment to the Election Code and how the vacancies should be filled in the selection of judges for the Supreme Court. There was an amendment which was inadvertently left out in the Election Code that passed in 1937. The bill was drawn up by Justice Jones of the Supreme Court. He talked at the Governor's Mansion—it was then Governor Fine—and he told the Governor about it. The Governor told him to get the bill prepared and he would be happy to sign it.

This is a case where a Legislature wanted to amend it, but that was a case where the Attorney General and the Governor could not agree. The Attorney General, then Bob Woodside, now Judge Woodside, prepared the recall resolution. It was read out on the other side and they agreed to recall the bill. The bill stayed here for quite a number of weeks and then we started to get a lot of calls from Justice Jones and then I would get in touch with the Governor, et cetera. He said if I would get that bill back to him, he would gladly sign it. Finally, it took us until the last week of the Session to return the same bill, without a comma or a dot changed, to the Governor's Office and he signed the bill.

Mr. President, this is not a new precedent and it is not a change in policy. It was just done on the Barr-Walker bill a few years ago.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, as a co-sponsor of this measure and recalling some of the difficulties that we encountered in passing this bill in the Senate, I want to make a few remarks in reply to my good friend,—and I say that in all sincerity—Senator Mullin. I think the only time that he and I ever argued about anything was about this bill. He has a personal interest in it and I admire him for his stand and his fight. Maybe there was a Barr and Walker bill that was recalled from the Governor, and Senator Mullin is able to go to Governor Leader and get one recalled. However, I do not think that I was ever close enough to any Governor to have a bill recalled for the purpose of putting in a whole bunch of new amendments. Be that as it may, I would like to correct Senator Mullin.

The purpose of this bill is to have better trained practical nurses so that they can take care of the public. If the schools in which Senator Mullin is interested want to raise their standards of teaching, as we want to raise the standards of practical nurses, there is nothing in this bill that will put them out of business. What this bill will make these schools do is to raise their standards so that these practical nurses can pass this examination, and so that they will be able to perform the duties they are going to be required to do, not only in homes but in hospitals.

Senator Mullin made the remark that there is no organized Practical Nurses Association. He certainly should know that there is, because we are all familiar with seeing the President and her royal queens, or princesses, on either side in here for months and months.

Certainly, the Keystone Practical Nurses have an association and I think there is still another. Maybe they are united. The only place where I can see that the registered nurses have come into this picture is that they have realized there is an urgent need for better trained practical nurses in order for them to be relieved of some of the duties they have to do in the hospitals. I do know that the registered nurses have sent a letter, or their lobby sent a letter, to every Member of this Legislature urging the passing of this bill. I have talked to some of their officers and they favor this bill because there is an urgent need. I have talked to a great number of doctors who think that our practical nurses should be better trained. More and more people are going into hospitals; more and more people are requiring nurses' services.

Originally, Senator Mullin opposed this measure and these very schools about which he spoke, week after week, sent out large brochures and, in many cases, telling half-truths about what was going to happen if this bill were enacted. They opposed the bill then and now they got Senator Mullin to front for them again in trying to kill this bill.

I say this; if the Governor feels he should veto this bill, as Senator Mahany said, that is what he should do. He has that prerogative; he has that right. Of course, if he passes it I will commend him, as the rest of us who have endorsed this legislation. I think it is a thing that we need. It is the same thing that my profession went through. The doctors have gone through it. At one time, doctors were trained in somebody's office. Now they must go to a school that is accredited. That is what we want to happen to practical nurses. I am sure we will get better services from them as a result of this bill.

Mr. President, there is one more thing that I want to say and that is that Senator Mullin said the type of persons who take up practical nursing must be working persons. Every nurse, every doctor, every dentist works. We all work. We are all working people. There are many boys, and I am one of them, who went through dental school working. I had to work my way through. I worked from 5:00 o'clock until 11:00 o'clock as a room clerk in a hotel in order to pay for my tuition and go to school. I do not see why practical nurses should not do it. I know any number of doctors who are physicians, who are lawyers, who had to work their way through school. There is no sin about that. However, there is no reason if I cannot afford to go through an accredited school to become a good dentist, that I should go to some school that is not willing to meet the requirements of the law.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, as an original co-sponsor of this bill, I find myself in a very peculiar position. I can agree with many of the things that have been said by both the opponents and proponents of this particular bill and its amendments. However, I disagree with any statement that might infer that the so-called private schools have not done some good and to infer that the private schools are a blight on the educational scene. I do believe that most of us who have ever had any experience at all with practical nursing, especially those of us who come from small communities, will find ourselves in an embarrassing position if all of those who are now so-called practical nurses and those who are to come on in the future find themselves unable to practice practical nursing because they have been unable to attend some hospital service for fifteen hundred hours or more.

Mr. President, I do believe this and I am sincere in it. I think both sides of this argument have a very definite position in the picture. There are such things as technically trained practical nurses who operate and work in hospitals. There are the other type of practical nurses who operate in small communities, in the homes of those who need someone to take care of their children while they go out and earn a livelihood when the mother has died or is incapacitated. I do believe that the schools should be permitted to operate. I know nothing about them, so I cannot tell you whether their curriculum is up to the par that it should be or whether the training they give is up to the par that it ought to be. However, we do have a Department of Public Instruction. It does license these institutions. If it allows them to operate on a sub-par basis, then the fault lies with our own Department of Public Instruction over the last years.

I do believe that what we should do—and I am going to advise Senator Mullin to this effect and whether he follows the advice or not, I do not know—is pass this bill back to the Governor. I would not be presumptuous if I say that the Governor ought to sign it. I do believe that Senator Mullin has a problem that should be resolved by this Legislature. I believe that if it takes a raising of the standards of the private schools, we should go into that. However, we ought not to eliminate them by action in this Legislature in such a manner that they lose their usefulness. There are many of the graduates of these schools who never work in hospitals, but who do do the menial labor jobs around the homes of persons less fortunate than some of us and need that kind of help.

I know what raising the standards does. I have seen it come up the line over many years. I watched the barbers; I have watched the so-called semi-professionals come in and get legislation. You have before you legislation that will license and professionalize the plumbers. You have legislation before you that will license and professionalize the bricklayers. You have had much of that kind of legislation which has been proposed in the odd years that I have been here. In the future, it will become even more aggravating. You will have different types of groups coming in here asking for legislation coverage into a closed shop proposition. For many years the working people went out and performed their operation of getting organized or getting represented in raising their standards the hard way. They organized into unions and tried to develop some kind of rules and regulations and processes for training under apprenticeships in order that they would protect their particular skilled trade, as it were.

Now, Mr. President, we are stepping further. We are having these groups come into us and wanting us to pass legislation that blankets their group in and excludes all others. Any Member of this General Assembly can tell you of the heart-breaking incidents before the different boards of licensure. They can tell you of the hundreds upon hundreds of young fellows and young women who have graduated from accredited schools in the Commonwealth in the various professions. Then they had to take an examination and an examining board, because it did not like the color of their hair or the glint in their eyes or some other reason, failed them. Although they have spent anywhere from four to eight years in the accredited schools of this Commonwealth, they are not permitted to earn a living in the chosen field that they have trained themselves in. Are we setting up barriers in this particular—not this bill. It is not really that serious a proposition. However, it is that type of a step which has caused many of the problems that we are faced with today in dentistry, in law, in the medical profession. I know instances of young men who have tried to become C.P.A.'s, and, who have taken four examinations and five examinations. I found that some of them were in the highest graduating average of their classes. However, when they face up to an examination, they find that they are eliminated. Those who pass smirk because they feel, "Well, we passed it, why can't they?" I would hate to be the one to say that political purpose had something to do with it. However, sometimes when you lie awake at night, you get a little suspicious.

I want to say to all the Members of this Senate that there must be an accompanying piece of legislation to this bill to see to it that these schools are allowed to operate. If their standards are low, let us raise them. If the Department of Public Instruction is allowing these schools to operate when they are not giving the proper training, then it should be chastised and reprimanded. There is a place in our everyday scheme of life where practical nurses can get their training either in a hospital or in a school. Yes, I know you say that if they get their training in a public vocational school then they are permitted to take this examination. The thing I cannot get through my thick skull is this. How can a person attend four years of college—I am not talking about this bill; I am talking in a general field—and then four years of graduate school, pass all the necessary requirements of examinations, and then take an examination before a so-called impartial board of licensure and all they have learned in the eight years of schooling is negated and they cannot practice the profession they were trained to perform?

If these universities of ours are not training students in order that they are qualified to take their place in their chosen profession, then let us get into the schools and raise their standards and make them perform their duties in such a manner that when a boy or girl, whose parents have probably sweated and sacrificed to send them through, graduates from these schools they will be equipped to follow their chosen profession. Senator Pechan said that he worked through the years that he went to school as an attendant or room clerk in a hotel. Senator Pechan, would it not have been a disgraceful situation if after you had passed all of the qualifying demands of your school, if you had graduated with honors from your school, and had come before a board of licensure and they refused you the right to practice dentistry because they said you could not pass the examination? I want to say that once you graduate from a school, that ought to be the last and final examination.

Mr. President, if a child is sent through college to become a doctor and graduates from a properly accredited medical school, why do they still have to hop another hurdle before they are permitted to practice? Why should a young man who studies law for eight years, four years in college and four years in graduate school, have to hop another hurdle? I know a case where a young man, who graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in the upper fifth of his class, was refused permission to even take the bar examination by the local bar group because they said they had proof that his father at one time had been a bootlegger. You think that is farfetched, but that is God's truth.

Are we establishing here another set of rules and regulations far beyond any that any labor union ever attempted to set up. I have heard condemnation of labor unions on the floor of the United States Congress, upon the floor of this Senate, wherein they say that labor unions restrict the freedom of exercise of a person's individual rights, because they say that a man cannot be a machinist unless he belongs to the union or he cannot be an engineer unless he belongs to the union. What are we saying here? At least the unions set up their systems of apprenticeship and training and once you have come out of the apprenticeship, you do not have to take another qualifying examination which can or cannot be prejudice in its determinations.

Mr. President, I say to you right now that I will go along with this particular bill as it is and send it to the Governor because I am for raising standards; but I am not for raising standards in such a way that you bar from activity a great multitude of American citizens who want to participate in that particular field of endeavor and who, because of their financial circumstances, just cannot make the sacrifice and the grade that would be demanded by this legislation.

I say that the schools ought to operate and that they ought to be given a definite credit for the time they go to these schools. Whether it is six months credit towards their eventual licensure or a year or nine months or three months, I am not a judge of that, but I do believe that we ought to sit down with Senator Mullin, and his group, and we ought to try to work out some reasonable setup whereby they, too, can exist.

Therefore, I want to say to the Chair and to the Members of the Senate that I will go along with this bill, but I will also go along with Senator Mullin, if he so desires, and co-sponsor additional legislation which will give credit where credit can be given in order that the students who do graduate from these schools can get some credit for the time they have spent.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President. I just want to add this; that I agree with Senator Dent. If Senator Mullin is interested in his schools and in raising their standards, I am over on this side, Vince, to assure you that I will co-sponsor your bill.

I agree, too, with Senator Dent. I would like to read from page 3, beginning on line 14, of the bill where it says:

"Has satisfactorily completed a course in practical nursing prescribed and approved by the board in a school hospital or other institution of not less than fifteen hundred hours and within a period of not less than nine months"

Mr. President, I want to say here, publicly, that I agree with anybody who says that it is not right for that last line, where it says that the fifteen hundred hours shall be performed in not less than nine months because I do not believe there is any school, whether it be law, whether it be dentistry, whether it be medicine or whether it be engineering that says you have to complete your course, if it is a four year course, in four concurrent years.

My education was interrupted because I was financially embarrassed, but I received credit for the work that I had done in previous years. I do not think this nine month limit could hold up by providing that you must go nine months or start all over.

I agree with Senator Dent, and I will agree with Senator Mullin and I will go along and co-sponsor a bill if your motive is going to be to raise the standards of the schools which are to educate these practical nurses. In your bill, Senator Mullin, I hope you correct the very flagrant error which appears on line 17, page 3, of the bill and I will go along.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, there is one portion of this bill which we think is very good. The bill provides for an examination. In addition to the fifteen hundred hours, the students of the private schools go through an examination. We never questioned any examination. These students in the private schools will stand up with any other school in taking that examination. If that were part of the bill and the licensure board would set up an examination, there would be no question at all in this case.

Mr. President, I also want to let Senator Pechan know that I am not personally interested in these private schools. These private schools present a problem, and I am interested in the problem which is going to be created by this bill and that is the extent of my interest.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MALLERY. Senator Pechan, in the event that the Governor should veto this bill, would that put the schools which Senator Mullin is interested in out of business?

Mr. PECHAN. If the Governor vetoed the present bill as we passed it, would it put them out of business?

Mr. MALLERY. Yes, that is the question.

Mr. PECHAN. No.

Mr. MALLERY. Are you of the opinion that it would be better to have no bill at all than to have the bill amended so that the schools which are presently licensed could continue in business?

Mr. PECHAN. Well, practical nurses, as you know—

Mr. MALLERY. To help you answer, it has always been my thought that if I could not get everything I wanted and I got most of what I wanted, I would be content for the time being.

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Mallery, I have been absent and this bill has been emasculated both in the Senate and in the House while I was away. It is nothing like the bill that we originally introduced.

I think the people who are interested in this legislation, the practical nurses, have certainly made a lot of concessions. I think that, in speaking to them just as late as yesterday, they said they would rather have no bill. The schools which Senator Mullin is interested in just do not adhere to any definite program. They take these people who may come to school for a couple of hours and the schools credit them and give them a certificate, but they are never licensed.

Mr. MALLERY. Granted that that is so, the killing of this bill will not remedy the situation one iota.

Mr. President, my interest in this bill stems from the fact that in my opinion it would afford the opportunity to many people, not only in my Senatorial Districts but in other districts of the rural sections of Pennsylvania, living at least over 100 miles from schools that have been licensed, to become practical nurses. The closest school from my District is a school which is located in Pittsburgh and in Harrisburg. Now the people who would want to become practical nurses in my District could not afford to come to Harrisburg or go to Pittsburgh several times a week. That fact was the reason why I became interested and spent a great deal of time, along with Senator Bane and other Members of the Senate, in working this bill out.

I personally know nothing about the standards of the schools in Philadelphia. If people want to attend those schools, so far as I am concerned they can attend them. Even though people in my District wanted to attend, they would not be able financially to go there.

As I say, Mr. President, if the practical nurses are going to be insistent that they have everything they want and they want this bill to die, that is all right with me. However, I would prefer to salvage something from the bill.

Those who are insistent on having the standards raised in the schools in Philadelphia should, in my opinion, introduced a bill to do just that thing and nothing else. I would be sorry if, after all the work that has been done on this bill, the Governor would feel impelled to veto it.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, in the amendment which I submitted, the schools do submit themselves to regulations. Strange as it may seem, the regulations are to be made by the Registered Nurses Practical Nursing Board which has jurisdiction over this. They can make any reasonable regulations they so desire. We have also submitted a course of 100 hours. That is approximately what they are getting in these schools. There is one school that requires 114 hours and another school requires ninety some hours. They have an excellent course and the teachers, as I said before, all are registered physicians and registered nurses. Nobody else practices on their staff.

I do not think that Senator Pechan ought to belittle these schools unless he takes a trip there. I am sure he would be a welcome guest down in Philadelphia to see them in operation, which I do not think has happened.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, as one of the co-sponsors of this bill I would like to state that I favor the passage of this resolution. I believe a most concise reason for the passage of it was given by the Majority Leader. There is no other bill in the history of this Senate that went through so many changes. I think there were five amendments to the bill from the time it was originally introduced. This bill spent much time on the Calendar, going on and off of it so many times. There was no other bill, as I said, that went through all the hazards that this bill went through. This is nothing but a rehash of the arguments which took place prior to the fact that both houses passed this bill and sent it to the Governor. Mr. President, I feel that the bill should go back to the Governor in the form in which it passed.

I might add that I have a letter here from Sister Margaret Fry, Director of Nursing at The Passavant Hospital, of Pittsburgh, in which she states:

"The present amendments would jeopardize the safe effective nursing care we are striving to give the public."

Likewise, I have a letter here from the Nursing Council of Metropolitan Philadelphia, asking that this bill go back to the Governor. I have a telegram here received from the Visiting Nurses Association of Pittsburgh, asking that this bill be returned to the Governor without any amendment.

Mr. President, I ask those who are in favor of seeing that the standards of nursing are increased to vote that this bill be returned to the Governor and he be asked to sign it as we passed it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. MULLIN. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. McCREESH. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MULLIN and Mr. McCREESH and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

Berger,	Kessler,	McMenamin,	Silvert,
Blass,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Chapman,	Lane,	Pechan,	Wade,
Dent,	Madigan,	Probert,	Wagner,
Flack,	Mahany,	Ruth,	Whalley,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Schmidt,	Wolfe,
Hays,	McGinnis,	Seyler,	Yosko,

NAYS—0

Barr,	Camel,	McCreesh,	Mullin.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR FRANK KOPRIVER, JR. AND SENATOR W. J. LANE

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate that one of my colleagues from Allegheny County is celebrating his birthday today, and I realize that he is trying to get home for a birthday party. I know that we all want to extend to Senator Koprivier best wishes for a very happy next year, up until November 7th or whenever election day is.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I also want to join with my colleagues in the Senate in wishing Senator Koprivier a very happy birthday. I hope his luck will continue throughout the year an despecially on election day of this year.

Because Senator Koprivier would like to go home and join others who are going to celebrate his birthday, his thirty-ninth birthday, as I understand it, I would like to call up—I just now learned that Senator Koprivier and Senator Lane have something in common. Today is also Senator Lane's birthday.

I would like to join my colleagues in wishing Senator

Lane a very happy birthday and good luck throughout the year. I wish him all the blessings that are possible to be bestowed upon him, with no exceptions of any kind whatsoever.

SENATE BILL No. 231 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, so that Senator Koprivier may leave the Senate—he would like to stay here until we consider Senate Bill No. 231—I now call up out of order, from page 7 of today's Second Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 231, Printer's No. 486, for consideration at this time.

CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 231, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1921 (P. L. 522) entitled as amended "Dog Law of 1921" regulating and in certain cases prohibiting impounding and killing of unclaimed dogs not bearing proper license tags and providing that in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh they shall first be offered for sale to medical schools hospitals laboratories or other scientific or educational institutions.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I have here in my hand a telegram that I just received from an old lady, in regard to Senate Bill No. 231. She is awfully upset because she had a number of lawyers who tried to read the bill and she does not understand it. She has a dog that she picked up two or three years ago and he is a companion for her blind sister.

Mr. President, I would ask that this bill go back to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare so that we can sit down and write out a bill that the poor people of the State of Pennsylvania will understand. There is no reason why we cannot do that. We have plenty of time. We could do it at night or early in the morning.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any lawyers on that committee?

Mr. McCREESH. Yes, but we did not get a chance to attend the last meeting because it was called for 9:00 o'clock in the morning and it was a blistery morning and so forth. I would like to attend the next committee meeting. I am a member of that committee. I hope that Senator Chapman will allow me to be present.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCREESH. Therefore, Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 231, on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, at this time I rise in opposition to this motion. I believe it was just two weeks ago that this same motion was made, at which time it was proposed to send this bill back to committee for the purpose of amendment. This bill did go back to committee and amendments were made in committee. Then the bill came out, as was promised by the chairman of that committee, to the floor of this Senate. It is now before us for Second Reading.

Gentlemen, let us be fair about this thing, as one of my former colleagues in the House used to say. Let us be fair with ourselves. I consider this motion a motion in order to avoid what may appear to some people to be an unpleasant task. To some people this bill is political dynamite. Some may say to me, "Yes, Senator Schmidt, you do not run for election this year and, therefore, you can stand before this microphone and make the type of address that you are making." I cannot say to you that I wish I were running for office this year; I am not. However, I can say to those of you who know me that what I am saying, I would say if I were a candidate this year for re-election to office.

Mr. President, I do not fear the political possibilities or implications of this bill. I have enough confidence in the people of Pennsylvania that they are much more concerned about the health and welfare of the entire community of Pennsylvania than they are in the political welfare of one particular candidate, or candidates, for the State Senate or for the House of Representatives or whatever it may be. I do not think there is a single person on the floor of this Senate who can conscientiously deny the fact that whatever advances have been made in the arts of medical science—not only for human beings, but for animals as well—were the result of experimentations over the years with the use of animals, among which, of course, are dogs. They have contributed greatly to the advance in science. For us to be in any way made fearful of letters and telegrams received from people—I do not say that they are not sincere. A lot of them are sincere; I will say that a great majority of them are sincere. However, they are led by their emotions, and their emotions have been stirred up by a lot of propagandists who know that many of the things they are passing off as truths are not even half-truths.

Mr. President, I know from my own experience that I have a son today who will soon celebrate his fifteenth birthday. At the age of seven, he was fortunate that there had just been developed, some six months before he reached his seventh birthday, a drug as a result of research with animals that prevented a double mastoid operation at the time. He was severely ill. They were actually only experimenting at that time, but had it not been for this drug, my son might have undergone a double mastoid operation. With a week's treatment with this drug, we brought him back home, safe and sound and without having to go through the hazards of an operation. I can enumerate many, many instances. There are many men sitting on this floor today who owe their presence here to the fact that science had made research to advance its knowledge and learning of the arts of medicine.

Today, we think nothing of pneumonia and its treatment and care. People get pneumonia and a week later they are out on the streets. Years ago, without the use of drugs, pneumonia was considered fatal. I know there are others here who are more qualified to talk. I know that Senator Ruth, sitting here today, can tell you something that he has met in his experience that would make you think of the youth of Pennsylvania and the youth of America, because the research that is taking place in the Mellon Institute, alone, in Pittsburgh, is insuring to the benefit not only of the youngsters of Pennsylvania, of the United States but of the world. To repeat again today, the Salk Vaccine is a result of medical research.

Mr. President, this is only a guise; this is only a temporary measure to get it off the Calendar so that those of you who think it an unpleasant task, politically, can avoid meeting your duty. I appeal to you all, to your sense of good fellowship, your sense of citizenship and your respect for humanity, to vote this motion down and that you give those of us an opportunity to express our final vote tomorrow, or next week when we come back here, on this bill. You have the privilege, if you so feel at the time when this bill will be on Third Reading, to vote "no." I feel quite sure that many of you who would like to see this bill go back to committee, when this bill comes up for Final Passage, will hesitate when it come time to say "no."

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I am not running for election this year and, therefore, I am not worried about who is going to win. I have never yet seen any person come back from an operation and tell you whether it was because of a dog or a cat that effected a good cure. This very noble Senator of ours is talking off the bill altogether. We are not asking that the bill be killed. We are asking that the bill be amended so that the poor people of the State of Pennsylvania can know how to seize their dogs and keep them inside and what to do in regard to grabbing their dogs off the streets. Certainly, Mr. President, it will be a good bill when it is passed and when it is fixed correctly so that the people will know what it is all about.

The letters that I receive are mostly from the Senator's District. Maybe they are not anxious to write to the Senator, knowing that he is against the bill. However, I would say to you here today that if you amend this bill and do it properly so the people will know what it is all about, then you can pass it when we come back next week.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I seconded the motion made by Senator McCreesh for one definite reason and that was to send this bill back to committee to stay there. Whether I am up for election or not is not relevant.

You hear some of the queerest reasons for passing bills, one of them being that someone went to a lot of trouble around here and, therefore, let us pass the bill. I think the criterion of a good bill is whether it is necessary and serves a good purpose. I understand some of these people have been around here for ten and twenty years trying to get bills passed. That does not give the bill any more merit, whether they have been here or not. They just do not get the bill passed because it is not the proper kind of legislation. I do not think that this is proper legislation because I understand that they can get all the dogs they want, but they can get them cheaper with this bill. Whether or not people in my District are moved by their emotions, or whether they are moved by some other reason, I do not think makes any difference. The point is that they are against it. I have at least 2,500 pieces of literature against this bill.

I have received about fifteen or twenty letters for it. Most of them are from medical schools. That is the only reason why they have a direct interest in the bill. However, the 3,000 people who wrote me letters are interested in humanity, and I think that is a very worthy cause to be interested in.

Mr. President, I ask that the Senate recommit this bill. And the question recurring, Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, is it my understanding that the motion made by Senator McCreesh was to recommit the bill to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare for the purpose of amendment?

The PRESIDENT. That is the motion as stated by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh.

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Mullin said that he seconded the motion, but that he meant for the bill to go back to committee for keeps. In order that there be no misunderstanding, this bill is coming to my committee and I am going to look to Senator McCreesh for a clarifying amendment. As I understand it, he is for the bill if a clarifying amendment is proposed and the bill is acted upon favorably in committee.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have a proposed amendment from I. S. Ravdin, of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. He is one of the outstanding surgeons in this Country. I have other amendments which I hope this committee will consider because, definitely, the bill could be put into very much better shape than what it is in now.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHMIDT and Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Berger,	Kessler,	McCreesh,	Wade,
Blass,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Mullin,	Wagner,
Camiel,	Lane,	Pechan,	Whalley,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Propert,	Wolfe,

NAYS—11

Barr,	Hays,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Chapman,	McGinnis,	Schmidt,	Weiner,
Dent,	McMenamin,	Seyler,

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 223, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to reimburse school districts for interest paid on loans necessitated by deferment of Commonwealth appropriations.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 826, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to edit illustrate and publish its new report on the Frontier Forts of Pennsylvania providing for the distribution and sale thereof and making an appropriation.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATION

Mr. WOLFE asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nomination reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WOLFE and Mr. DIEHM, That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nomination reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

The nomination was read as follows:

MEMBER OF THE STATE FOREST COMMISSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 20, 1955.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following person for appointment as member of the State Forest Commission, to serve until the third Tuesday of January 1959, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified:

Reginald D. Forbes, R. D. 1, Ambler, Montgomery County, vice Thomas H. Golden, Pottsville, whose term expired.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

A motion was made by Mr. WOLFE and Mr. DIEHM, That the Senate do advise and consent to said nomination.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—45

Barr,	Silvert,	McMenamin,	Taylor,
Berger,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.,	Van Sant,

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, due to the fact that several Senators have gone home at the present time with the feeling that there was no further controversial legislation coming up, if it is all right with the other side, I will withdraw my motion on this.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 215, Printer's No. 466, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 686, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 7, 1935 (P. L. 130) entitled "An act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresident owners or a resident who becomes a nonresident and conceals his whereabouts of aircraft operated within or above the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such an aircraft within or above the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the agent of the said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit" making the consent deemed to have been given by a nonresident operator or owner of an aircraft involved in an accident or collision within this Commonwealth for appointment of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as his agent for service of process irrevocable and binding upon his personal representative providing for service of process when the nonresident operator or owner has died prior to the commencement of an action and making changes to conform with existing laws

Section 1 The title and sections 1, 2 and 3 act of May 7, 1935 (P. L. 130) entitled "An act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresident owners or a resident who becomes a nonresident and conceals his whereabouts of aircraft operated within or above the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such an aircraft within or above the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the agent of the said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit" are amended to read

An Act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresidents owners or a resident who becomes a nonresident and conceals his whereabouts of aircraft operated within or above the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such an aircraft within or above the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as the agent of said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit

Section 1 (a) Be it enacted &c That from and after the passage of this act any nonresident of this Commonwealth being the operator or owner of any aircraft who shall accept the privilege extended by the laws of this Commonwealth to nonresident operators and owners of operating an aircraft or of having the same operated over or above the lands and waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of using its aviation facilities or both or any resident of this Commonwealth who shall subsequently become a nonresident or shall conceal his whereabouts shall by the operation of an aircraft over or above the lands and waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania make and constitute the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania his her or their agent for the service of process in any civil suit or proceeding instituted in the courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or in the United States courts in Pennsylvania against such operator or owner of such aircraft arising out of or by reason of any accident or collision occurring within or above the Commonwealth in which such aircraft is involved

(b) A nonresident operator or owner of an aircraft which is involved in an accident or collision within or above this Commonwealth shall be deemed to have consented that the appointment of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as his agent for the service of process pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be irrevocable and binding upon his personal representative executor or administrator Where the nonresident operator or owner of aircraft has died prior to the commencement of an action brought pursuant to this section service of process shall be made on the personal representative executor or administrator of such nonresident operator or owner of aircraft in the same manner and on the same notice as is provided in the case of a nonresident operator or owner of aircraft Where an action has been duly commenced under the provisions of this section by service upon a defendant who dies thereafter if the personal representative executor or administrator of such defendant does not voluntarily become a party he may be substituted as a party under the applicable Rules of Civil Procedure and service of process shall be made in the same manner and on the same notice as is provided in the case of a nonresident operator or owner of aircraft

Section 2 Such process shall be served by the officer to whom the same shall be directed upon the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by sending by registered mail postage prepaid at least fifteen (15) days before the return day of such process a true and attested copy thereof and by sending to the defendant by registered mail postage prepaid a like true and attested copy with an endorsement thereon of the service upon said Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth addressed to such defendant at his last known address The registered mail return receipts of the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth and of such defendant shall be attached to and made a part of the return of service of such process

Section 3 The officers serving such process upon the Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth shall pay to said Secretary at the time of service a fee of [two dollars ($2.00)] five dollars ($5.00) which fee shall be taxed as costs in the case The Secretary of [Revenue] the Commonwealth shall keep a record of each such process and the day and hour of the service thereof upon him which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 728

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 728, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" authorizing the lease or grant of real estate under the jurisdiction of the Department of Forests and Waters in the City of Philadelphia for the purpose of aiding the establishment of parking services and facilities within State Park areas situate within the city.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the Report of the Committee of Conference?

MOTION THAT THE SENATE ADOPT REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 728

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 728.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION THAT THE SENATE ADOPT REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 728 WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my motion that the Senate adopt the Report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 728, and request that it go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, wish to withdraw his second to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I do not know the reason for this Conference Report going over, but I want to say one thing. I have been most pliable and most agreeable to the wishes of the Chairman of the Conference Committee, Senator Watkins, of Delaware. Senator Propert is here and we were all in full accord. This Conference Report is the result of a complete understanding.

This is the bill dealing with the underground garage—near the Independence-Mall in Philadelphia. Why this is going over in order, I do not know but I do not see any reason behind it. So far as I am concerned, I do not withdraw anything.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I understand that the "Baron of Brandywine" will be here on Monday and he wants to vote for this bill, too, and being his great admirer I bow to this phase of the matter and I withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you very much. The Chair is very confused.

Mr. STIEFEL. The "Baron of Brandywine" is my friend, Robert Watkins, from Delaware County.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 728 go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 949, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for courses of study in first aid to be included during the last four years of any complete high school program

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, this bill would permit school boards to include in the curriculum in high school a course of study in first aid.

Now, Mr. President, this sounds like a good idea and a worthy cause, but it seems to me that there are a lot of worthy causes. I have noticed in the time that I have been down here in the Senate that from time to time we have bills introduced, some of them come before us for a vote and some of them have been adopted, which provide either that the school districts or the superintendents of schools shall or may add certain subjects to the curriculum of our schools. Most of these bills are for worthy projects and I have seen them for driver training, home economics, teaching girls how to set tables; I believe some folk dancing bills have been introduced, bills which would require the teaching of citizenship, Pennsylvania history and a number of subjects. I am just wondering if, in our good intentions on each of these individual bills, the net result is going to be that soon we are going to load the curriculum of our high schools in Pennsylvania with so many subjects mandated by the Legislature that the schools will not have time to teach the things which schools were primarily set up to provide, the basic subjects such as reading writing and arithmetic.

It is not an answer to an objection to this bill to say that it is what we call "may" bill. I understand that originally this bill said "shall" and by amendment in the course of its passage through the Legislature, the "shall" was amended to "may." Some people say that when an objection to a bill is expressed, the answer is that it is only a "may" bill.

It seems to me that a bill is good or bad, Mr. President. If it is bad, its passage is not justified by this Legislature because it is not mandatory, only permissive. Similarly, if it is a good bill it should be "shall" and it should not be left to the discretion of the numerous school districts in the State of Pennsylvania. I am told, but I am sure I do not believe it, that with a great many of these "may" bills, in many instances in various of local government, they always find somebody who is a deserving soul, who is already on the payroll and who can use a little bit better job with maybe not such strenuous duties attached to it. I am sure if by indirectly creating cushy jobs we might well need a supervisor in some of our school districts for the first aid courses if this bill passes. That again would be a new job and would probably carry a pretty good salary with it. It is by this little by little wearing away of our system that we are adding to the cost of our schools and I think adding to the general degeneration of our school curriculum.

For these reasons then, Mr. President, although I am certain in my own mind that it would be worth-while if everybody in high school did know something about first-aid, I am going to vote against this bill. Courses of first-aid are being taught by the Boy Scouts, many industrial concerns and whatnot. However, I am going to vote against this bill because I think it is time that maybe we ought to stop and re-examine what we have been doing here to the schools and the school legislation by bills of this nature, and maybe it is time we got back to a curriculum which teaches reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling and a few of the basic essentials and not so many of these, what may be called, luxury items.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, when this bill originally came from committee, I was against it just as vigorously, if not more so, than my friend, Senator McMenamin. I certainly agree with him that it is entirely wrong for the Legislature to place specific courses into the curriculum. We hear the complaint now that not enough mathematics, not enough English or not enough history or some other basic subject is taught.

It is pretty obvious that since we do not increase the length of the school day or the length of the school year every time we put a course in, we must reduce the amount of time we put on some of the more normal subjects. However, the way the bill is now amended, it does, as the Senator says, make it a "may" bill. The only practical effect of this bill, as I see it, will be to instruct the Superintendent of Public Instruction to prepare a course of study so that when schools decide to put in such courses, they will have the guidance of that course of study to follow, prepared by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

In other words, Mr. President, there are schools putting in courses of first aid. Now first aid may be, in the mind of the Senator, something which is not essential. I may agree with him and many people here might agree with him, but there are school boards in the Commonwealth that do not agree with him and they are putting such courses in now. All this bill would do is say that the Superintendent of Public Instruction should draw up a model course for the guidance of any school district which decided to put such course of instruction into their curriculum.

Mr. President, I do not think it is such a bad bill and I would suggest that, since we have such a small number of Senators on the floor at this moment, we agree to pass this bill over for today so that we may have a more representative vote on it, because I believe there are some Senators who would like to defend it at least by their votes. There must be some because it came out of the Education Committee.

I would suggest, if Senator Mahany and Senator McMenamin are in agreement, that we pass this bill over for today.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SEYLER. Accordingly, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 949, Printer's No. 1351, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1773, Printer's No. 1347, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, February 7, 1956.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend V. E. Maybray, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, DuBois, guest of the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. O'Neil, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, we need Thy blessing. We ask Thee to forgive us the sin of asking Thy blessing if we are not willing to obey Thy voice. Deliver us, Oh God, from inviting Thy presence and then proceeding as though Thou didst not exist. Help us to believe there is a Divine solution to the vexing problems that confront our Commonwealth.

Bless, we beseech Thee, these men and women who guide and mold the destinies of our state. Preserve and keep their families in their absence. Grant unto them healthy bodies, clear minds, pure hearts. Grant unto those of us whom they seek to serve that we may refrain from criticising their solutions unless we, too, have faced the problems.

These favors we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord and our Savior. Amen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, please come to the desk?

The Speaker is requesting the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, to preside temporarily.

Mr. JOHNSON IN THE CHAIR.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, February 6, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 6, 1956.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene Monday, February 13, 1956, at a time to be fixed by the Senate, and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene Monday, February 13, 1956, at a time to be fixed by the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment:

Amend Line 4 of the resolution by striking out "Monday, February 13" and inserting in lieu thereof "Tuesday, February 14."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the matter of when we should meet next week was considered earlier today and in view of the fact that we will probably be here, many of us, until Friday, we thought it would be wiser not to meet until next Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. I am, therefore, asking the membership to vote for this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution as amended?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 7, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

A new Bill providing construction loan assistance on industrial development projects in our distressed area communities is being introduced in the Pennsylvania Senate today. The Bill is sponsored by a group of Senators from both parties—which is in keeping with its purposes, and reflects the manner in which it has been drafted.

The new Bill is a revision of the Industrial Development Authority proposal submitted to the General Assembly last Spring (S.B. 276 and H.B. 1588).

In the regional hearings on industrial development which I held at Erie, Johnstown and Wilkes-Barre last Fall, dozens of community leaders from areas suffering prolonged and severe unemployment filled the record with heartening stories of successful community industrial development programs, and with a plea for assistance from the Commonwealth on those programs.

They reported on the more than eighty manufacturing plants now operating in Pennsylvania, which were built by a combination of community fund-raising and first mortgage loans, mainly from local banks. This is an impressive record of local bootstrap-lifting. It has involved the active participation of commercial establishments, local industries, professional people, labor, educators, local governmental officials, Republicans, Democrats—everyone.

It has by no means "licked" the unemployment problem in these areas, but it has provided thousands of new jobs in industry.

These community leaders are sure they have the right formula. They believe that they can rent or sell many, many more such plants, if only they can find a way to finance them.

However, they stated, repeatedly, that they tend to run out of money, or credit, or both. Money already raised locally is "tied up" in existing plants. It becomes difficult, or impossible, to return too frequently to the citizens on "drives" for additional money. Local banks, with a fine record of progressive financing in this field, find it difficult to extend additional, large, first mortgage loans of this type.

Most all of these community industrial development leaders asked for financial help from the Commonwealth.

Such help, they said, would make local fund-raising easier, would release a portion of the funds already tied up in existing plants for the construction of still more plants, would reduce the size of first mortgage loans needed from the banks and insurance companies—take out some of the "risk." Finally, they said, such help would leave the initiative, the evaluation of the prospect industry, and the basic tests of financial feasibility right in the community itself, and with the cooperating banks and other financial institutions.

Upon my return from these Fall meetings I directed my staff to explore, in consultation with finance and legal experts experienced in Pennsylvania community industrial development programs, a new approach to legislation on this general matter.

These discussions have been going on almost continuously since that time, and a whole series of drafts and re-drafts prepared and considered. The result is the Bill now being presented for action in the General Assembly.

It is based on the conventional, proven pattern of community industrial development financing in Pennsylvania, and would provide what local organizations, themselves, believe to be the type of assistance the Commonwealth can most appropriately, and most effectively, extend.

As the result of years of urgent pleading, the problem of these areas of chronic unemployment has now won national recognition in the Congress and in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government.

In July Senator Paul Douglas and a number of his associates introduced a "Depressed Areas" Bill in the United States Senate, proposing a series of special measures, including a loan program for industrial construction, aimed at correcting economic maladjustments in these areas. A companion Bill was introduced in the House by Congressman Daniel J. Flood, of Wilkes-Barre.

A few weeks ago, in submitting his Economic Report to the Congress, President Eisenhower had this to say on the subject:

"To cope with chronic unemployment which has persisted in some communities, despite the attainment of practically full employment in the Nation at large, a new Area Assistance Program is recommended."

That program, as submitted to the Congress, also proposes among other things, a system of Federal loans for industrial construction in distressed area communities, and calls for state and local participation.

The proposed Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority Bill makes explicit provision for gearing in with whatever Federal industrial construction loan program emerges from the present Congress, in connection with distressed area legislation.

I want to express my own gratitude, and that of my associates, for the many thoughtful letters and many hours of consultation received on this matter from key men in industrial development work in such areas as Altoona, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Hazleton, Pottsville, Erie, Lewistown, Tamaqua, Berwick, Uniontown.

The work of these and other similar Pennsylvania groups, it should be pointed out, is outstanding, nationally. No other state can boast of the kind of record they have made. It was made—is being made—in the face of difficulties and discouragements which would easily kill the ardor of less determined civic leaders. This community movement is a key resource for the economic development of our distressed areas and, thus, for the economic growth and stability of the entire Commonwealth. Through this new industrial development financing proposal, we can greatly strengthen that resource and put it to its fullest use.

The basic provisions of the Bill are these:

(1) It would create a Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, composed of a board of eleven members—four ex-officio, the Secretaries of Labor and Industry, Internal Affairs, Banking, and of Commerce, the latter to serve as Chairman; seven representing the public, to be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate;

(2) The Authority would be empowered to provide loan assistance to industrial development agencies in any municipality, group of municipalities, county or group of counties or region of the Commonwealth having had not less than 6 per cent of its labor force unemployed for a period of not less than three years, or 9 per cent for not less than eighteen months, immediately prior to an official finding by the Authority;

(3) The Authority's financial assistance would take the form of second mortgage loans to non-profit industrial development agencies of up to 30 per cent of the construction cost of industrial or manufacturing plants and facilities, provided:

- a. The local industrial development agency provides, from whatever source, not less than 20 per cent of the cost of the project;
- b. The local agency has a firm commitment from responsible financial sources for the balance of the loan funds needed, such funds to be secured by a first mortgage;
- c. The local agency shows evidence of a firm commitment from a responsible tenant or buyer to provide the machinery and equipment and to occupy and operate the project.

(4) The Authority could make loans to local industrial development agencies, subject to the above ratios, on projects they have already financed, provided the funds thus released from existing projects are used for the construction of additional projects;

(5) Interest rates and other terms of the Authority's loans could be fixed at the discretion of the board;

(6) The Authority could not make loans which would cause the removal of a plant from one area of the Commonwealth to another area of the Commonwealth;

(7) An initial appropriation of $5,000,000 is sought for the present biennium, to establish the Authority's Industrial Development Fund. I will be prepared to recommend an additional $5,000,000 for each year of the coming biennium. Loan repayment and interest revenues of the Authority would return to the Fund, to be used on a revolving basis.

This, I submit, is a proposal which merits wide support in the General Assembly.

Scores of Pennsylvania communities are suffering chronic and severe unemployment—in the anthracite area, in many of the bituminous areas and the railway centers of western Pennsylvania, in areas of northern Pennsylvania where lumbering and wood-working industries once flourished, and where they may flourish again.

Roughly twenty per cent—a fifth, of the population of the Commonwealth lives in areas of substantial labor surplus. Their economic plight means a serious drain on State and local funds for public assistance and unemployment compensation. Young people are forced to leave home in search of employment. Population declines. The local tax base—and, thus, the tax base of the Commonwealth itself, is impaired.

Accordingly, this is not merely a local problem. It is a Commonwealth problem, also. Until the economic maladjustments behind it are rectified, Pennsylvania will not keep pace with the economic growth of her neighboring states. Indeed, it is that kind of consideration which has led President Eisenhower, and Congressional leaders from both political parties in Washington to focus their attention on it. They regard it as a National problem.

The new Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, in my judgment, provides the means for an effective, joint, community-State-Federal attack on this problem. It is a problem beyond the scope of any one of them, alone, to deal with successfully.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

(k) Reportable disease (a) Any communicable disease declared reportable by regulation (b) any unusual or group expression of illness which in the opinion of the Secretary may be a public health emergency and (c) such now communicable diseases and conditions for which the Secretary may authorize reporting to provide data and information which in the opinion of the Advisory Health Board are needed in order effectively to carry out those programs of the Department designed to protect and promote the health of the people of the Commonwealth or to determine the need for the establishment of such programs

(1) Secretary The State Secretary of Health

Section 3 Responsibility for Disease Prevention and Control

(a) Local boards and departments of health shall be primarily responsible for the prevention and control of communicable and non-communicable disease including control in public and private schools in accordance with the regulations of the Board and subject to the supervision and guidance of the Department

(b) The Department shall be responsible for the prevention and control of communicable and non-communicable disease in any municipality which is not served by a local board or department of health including disease control in public and private schools

(c) If the Secretary finds that the disease control program carried out by any local board or department of health is so inadequate that it constitutes a menace to the health of the people within or without the municipalities served by the local board or department of health he may appoint agents of the Department to supervise or to carry out the disease control program of the particular local board or department of health until he determines that the menace to the health of the people no longer exists and that the local board or department of health is able to carry out an adequate disease control program. The Secretary shall require that any reasonable expenses incident to the administration of a local disease control program under this subsection which are incurred by the Department shall be paid to the State by the local board or department of health or by the municipalities or counties which it serves

Section 4 Reports

(a) Every physician who treats or examines any person who is suffering from or who is suspected of having a communicable disease or any person who is or who is suspected of being a carrier shall make a prompt report of the disease in the manner prescribed by regulation to the local board or department of health which serves the municipality where the disease occurs or where the carrier resides or to the Department if so provided by regulation

(b) The Department or local boards or departments of health may require the heads of hospitals and other institutions the directors of laboratories school authorities the proprietors of hotels roentgenologists lodging houses rooming houses or boarding houses nurses midwives householders and other persons having knowledge or suspicion of any communicable disease to make a prompt report of the disease in a manner prescribed by regulation to the local board or department of health which serves the municipality where the disease occurs or to the Department if so provided by regulation

(c) Local boards or departments of health shall make reports of the diseases reported to them to the Department at such times and in such manner as shall be provided for by regulation

(d) Every physician or every person in charge of any institution for the treatment of diseases shall be authorized upon request of the Secretary to make reports of such diseases and conditions other than communicable diseases which in the opinion of the Advisory Health Board are needed to enable the Secretary to determine and employ the most efficient and practical means to protect and to promote the health of the people by the prevention and control of such diseases and conditions other than communicable diseases the reports shall be made upon forms prescribed by the Secretary and shall be transmitted to the Department or to local boards or departments of health as requested by the Secretary

Section 5 Control Measures

Upon the receipt by a local board or department of health or by the Department as the case may be of a report of a disease which is subject to isolation quarantine or any other control measure the local board or department of health or the Department shall carry out the appropriate control measures in such manner and in such place as is provided by rule or regulation

Section 6 Financial Assistance to Typhoid Fever Carriers and to Persons Subject to Isolation and Quarantine

(a) Any person who is found by the Department or by a local board or department of health to be a carrier of typhoid fever shall be eligible for financial assistance if the restrictions imposed pursuant to regulation prevent such person from earning a livelihood in the occupation in which he is customarily engaged or in which he has been trained and as a result he is in need of assistance to enable him to maintain for himself and his dependents a decent and healthful standard of living

(b) Any person who is isolated or quarantined by the Department or by a local board or department of health shall be eligible for financial assistance if as a result of the isolation or quarantine he becomes unable to maintain for himself and his dependents a decent and healthful standard of living during the period of isolation or quarantine

(c) The assistance program under this section shall be administered by the Department in accordance with regulations issued by the Board in consultation with the State Department of Public Assistance setting forth the standards of eligibility the amount and duration of assistance and any other relevant matters. Any local board or department of health may make recommendations to the Department for the granting of assistance to any person who is a resident of a municipality served by the local board or department of health

(d) The Secretary may on the basis of his own findings or upon recommendations of a local board or department of health suspend or terminate the assistance under this section if the recipient fails to comply with any of the restrictions imposed by regulation

(e) The Support Law of June 24 1937 (P L 2045) as amended and any reenactment thereof shall not apply to the assistance granted under this section

Section 7 Examination and Diagnosis of Persons Suspected of Being Infected with Venereal Disease Tuberculosis or any other Communicable Disease or of Being a Carrier

Whenever the Secretary or a local qualified medical health officer has reasonable grounds to suspect any person of being infected with a venereal disease tuberculosis or any other communicable disease or of being a carrier he shall require the person to undergo a medical examination and any other approved diagnostic procedure to determine whether or not he is infected with a venereal disease tuberculosis or any other communicable disease or is a carrier. In the event that the person refuses to submit to the examination the Secretary or the local qualified medical health officer may (1) cause the person to be quarantined until it is determined that he is not infected with a venereal disease tuberculosis or any other communicable disease or of being a carrier or (2) file a bill in equity in the court of common pleas of the county in which the person is present to compel him to submit to the examination. The court immediately shall order the person to undergo an examination which may be performed by a physician of his own choice at his own expense. The examination shall include physical and laboratory tests performed in a laboratory approved by the Secretary and shall be conducted in accordance with accepted professional practices and the results thereof shall be reported to the local health board or health department on forms furnished by the Department of Health. Any person refusing to undergo an examination as herein provided may be committed by the court to an institution in this Commonwealth determined by the Secretary of Health to be suitable for the care of such cases.

Section 8 Venereal Disease

(a) Any person taken into custody and charged with any crime involving lewd conduct or a sex offense or any person to whom the jurisdiction of a juvenile court attaches may be examined for a venereal disease by a qualified physician appointed by the Department or by the local board or department of health.

(b) Any person convicted of a crime or pending trial who is confined in or committed to any State or local penal institution reformatory or any other house of correction or detention may be examined for venereal disease by a qualified physician appointed by the Department or by the local board or department of health.

(c) Any such persons noted in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section found upon such examination to be infected with any venereal disease shall be given appropriate treatment by duly constituted health authorities or their deputies or by the attending physician of the institution if any.

Section 9 Diagnosis and Treatment of Venereal Disease

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section the Department shall provide or designate adequate facilities for the free diagnosis including blood and other tests of venereal disease and for the free treatment of persons infected with venereal disease when necessary for the preservation of the public health.

(b) Upon approval of the Department any local board or department of health may undertake to share the expense of furnishing free diagnosis and free treatment of venereal disease or the local board or department of health may take over entirely or in part the furnishing of free diagnosis and free treatment of venereal disease with or without financial assistance from the Department.

Section 10 Sale of Drugs for Venereal Diseases The sale of drugs or other remedies for the treatment of venereal disease is prohibited except under prescription of physicians licensed to practice in this Commonwealth.

Section 11 Persons Refusing to Submit to Treatment for Venereal Diseases

(a) If the Secretary or any local health officer finds that any person who is infected with a venereal disease in a communicable stage refuses to submit to treatment approved by the Department or by a local board or department of health the Secretary or the local health officer may file a bill in equity in the court of common pleas of the county in which the person is present to commit such person to an appropriate institution designated by the Department or by the local board or department of health for safekeeping and treatment until the disease has been rendered non-communicable.

(b) Any county jail or other appropriate institution may receive persons who are isolated or quarantined by the Department or by a local board or department of health by reason of a venereal disease for the purpose of safekeeping and treatment. The Department or the local board or department of health shall reimburse any institution which accepts such persons at the rate of maintenance that prevails in such institution and shall furnish the necessary medical treatment to the persons committed to such institution.

Section 12 Premarital examination for syphilis

(a) No license to marry shall be issued until there shall be in the possession of the clerk of the orphans' court a statement or statements signed by a duly licensed physician of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any other State or Territory or any commissioned medical officer in the United States Army Navy or Air Force or any physician of the Public Health Service of the Federal Government that the applicant within thirty days of the issuance of the marriage license has submitted to an examination to determine the existence or nonexistence of syphilis which examination has included a standard serological test or tests for syphilis and that in the opinion of the examining physician the applicant is not infected with syphilis or if so infected is not in a stage of the disease which is likely to become communicable. The physician's statement shall be accompanied by a statement from the person in charge of the laboratory making the test or from some other person authorized to make such statement setting forth the name of the test the date it was made the name and address of the physician to whom a report was sent and the exact name and address of the person whose blood was tested but not setting forth the result of the test.

(b) Any applicant for a marriage license who has been denied a physician's statement as required by this section shall have the right of appeal to the Department for a review of the case and the Department shall after appropriate investigation issue or refuse to issue a statement in lieu of the physician's statement required by subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The statements required of the physician who examined the applicant and of the person in charge of the laboratory which made the serological or other test shall be uniform throughout the State and shall be upon forms provided by the Department or upon any comparable forms provided by other states. These forms shall be filed by the clerk of the orphans' court separately from the applications for marriage licenses and shall be regarded as confidential by any and every person whose duty it may be to obtain make transmit or receive such information or report.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any applicant for a marriage license physician or representative of a laboratory to misrepresent any of the facts prescribed by this act or for any licensing officer failing to receive the statements prescribed by this act of having reason to believe that any of the facts therein have been misrepresented nevertheless to issue a marriage license or for any person to disregard the confidential character of the information or reports required by this act or for any other person otherwise to fail to comply with the provisions of this section.

(e) Any judge of an orphans' court within the county in which the license is to be issued is authorized and empowered on joint application by both applicants for a marriage license to waive the requirements as to medical examination laboratory tests and certificates and to authorize the clerk of the orphans' court to issue the license if all other requirements of the marriage laws have been complied with and the judge is satisfied by affidavit or other proof that the examination or tests are contrary to the tenets or practices of the religious creed of which the applicant is an adherent and that the public health and welfare will not be injuriously affected thereby.

Section 13 Prenatal Examination for Syphilis

(a) Every physician who attends treats or examines any pregnant woman for conditions relating to pregnancy during the period of gestation or at delivery shall take or cause to be taken unless the woman dissents a sample of blood of such woman at the time of first examination or within fifteen days thereof and shall submit the sample to an approved laboratory for an approved serological test for syphilis. All other persons permitted by law to attend pregnant women but not permitted by law to take blood samples shall unless the woman dissents likewise cause a sample of the blood of every such pregnant woman attended by them to be taken by a physician licensed to practice in this Commonwealth and submit it to an approved laboratory for an approved serological test. In the event of dissent it shall be the duty of the physician to explain to the pregnant woman the desirability of such a test. The serological test required by this section shall be made without charge by the Department upon the request of the physician submitting the sample if he submits a certificate that the patient is unable to pay.

(b) In reporting every birth and fetal death physicians and others required to make such reports shall state upon the certificate whether or not the blood test required by this section was made. If the test was made the date of the test shall be given if the test was not made it shall be stated whether it was not made because in the opinion of the physician the test was not advisable or because the woman dissented

Section 14 Diagnostic Tests for Venereal Diseases For the purpose of this act a standard or approved test procedure for each of the venereal diseases shall be a test approved by the Department and if a laboratory test is part of the approved procedure it shall be made in a laboratory approved to make such tests by the Department

Section 15 Confidentiality of Reports and Records State and local health authorities may not disclose reports of diseases any records maintained as a result of any action taken in consequence of such reports or any other records maintained pursuant to this act or any regulations to any person who is not a member of the Department or of a local board or department of health except where necessary to carry out the purposes of this act State and local health authorities may permit the use of data contained in disease reports and other records maintained pursuant to this act or any regulation for research purposes subject to strict supervision by the health authorities to insure that the use of the reports and records is limited to the specific research purposes

Section 22 General Repealer

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Sarraf.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf consent to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, what is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, this bill was presented to me by the Department in order to increase, or lessen the possibility of people with communicable diseases, especially syphilis, from propagating the disease by marrying and having defective children.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, isn't it a fact that on page 16 of this bill the purpose is exactly the opposite?

The bill provides that any Judge of an Orphans' Court can waive the blood test, and the result of this will be to make it possible for people who suffer from syphilis or other diseases to get a license without a test.

I will read from page 16.

Any Judge of an Orphans' Court within the county in which the license is to be issued is authorized and empowered on joint application by both applicants for a marriage license to waive the requirements as to medical examination.

Isn't that true, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SARRAF. I am reading the section that the gentleman speaks of, page 16, section (E). Only where it is contrary to a religious creed can they do this, Mr. Speaker. There are some faith-healers who are asking this particular option or grant in this matter. We inserted this because of their religious belief.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Sometime ago the House adopted a bill passed by the Senate, which allowed individuals to obtain marriage licenses even though they had been suffering from a communicable disease, such as syphilis. I understand that bill has been called to the attention of the Governor and since that time has been recalled.

Now, for the enlightenment of the Members of this House, the general Act was passed at the suggestion of the United States Health Department many years ago, I believe by Dr. Thomas Parran of Pittsburgh, who was the leader of that department. The purpose was to prevent the spread of disease, and for us to pass a bill of this character, which would allow an individual who says it is against his religious tenets to have a medical examination, would be defeating the purpose of the legislation we have had on our books. I think it is bad legislation and would tend to increase disease in Pennsylvania. We should make everybody submit to a blood test.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, because of this particular amendment, which deals only with the Christian Science believers, I think it is very poor policy to pick that one section out and not pass this bill, because this bill, for the greater part of the state and the greater part of the people throughout the state, does not break down any of the procedure that we already have in taking blood tests, and making sure of containing syphilis in our people and in marriages. I see no reason why, because of the amendment which deletes a portion and allows those people this privilege, we should let the bill fall.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOCKER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, what do the Rules of this House say in regard to a roll call on a controversial bill such as the last two that were just passed?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In answer to the gentleman's inquiry, the request for a roll call at length comes too late with respect to those two bills. Had he requested slow roll calls, they would have been granted at that time. With respect to those two bills, the gentleman's request is too late.

Mr. HOCKER. That is not my question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will please restate his question.

Mr. HOCKER. The question was, what do the Rules of this House say in regard to a roll call on a controversial bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In answer to the gentleman, the Rules state that the roll shall be called at length in full.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I don't object to taking a short roll call on a bill which is not controversial, but when you have half of this House standing up and counting noses, then I object to it. I think you are going pretty far afield.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1864

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1864, Printer's No. 1125, entitled:

"An Act amending 'The Vehicle Code' approved May 1, 1929, (P. L. 905) further regulating the use of registration plates warning devices and flags and clarifying the designation of 'No Passing Zones'".

was defeated on final passage, Monday, January 30, 1956, be reconsidered.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1644 as follows,

An Act providing for the construction transportation installation maintenance making use and inspection of tanks and containers for liquefied compressed gases except liquefied petroleum gas prohibiting the filling or refilling of the tanks and containers unless designed for the purpose authorizing the Department of Labor and Industry to prescribe uniform regulations for the carrying out of the provisions of this act requiring fees for permits and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair might inform the House that the reason some of these bills are being passed over is because of the fact that the Republican Members have not had an opportunity to caucus on them.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1756, Printer's No. 1359;

House Bill No. 1757, Printer's No. 1360;

House Bill No. 1782, Printer's No. 1114;

House Bill No. 1829, Printer's No. 1203;

House Bill No. 1839, Printer's No. 1120 and

House Bill No. 1854, Printer's No. 1362

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1859, entitled as follows,

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," making a further exception to ineligibility for compensation.

Section 202 Settlement of Small Estates on Petition When any person dies domiciled in the Commonwealth owning property (exclusive of real estate and of wages [or] salary or any accrued pension payable under section 201 but including personal property claimed as the family exemption) of a gross value not exceeding [one thousand] fifteen hundred dollars the orphans' court of the county wherein the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death upon petition of any party in interest in its discretion with or without appraisal and with such notice as the court shall direct and whether or not letters have been issued or a will probated may direct distribution of the property (including wages [or] salary or any accrued pensions not paid under section 201) to the parties entitled thereto The decree of distribution so made shall constitute sufficient authority to all transfer agents registrars and others dealing with the property of the estate to recognize the persons named therein as entitled to receive the property to be distributed without administration and shall in all respects have the same effect as a decree of distribution after an accounting by a personal representative Within one year after such a decree of distribution has been made any party in interest may file a petition to revoke it because an improper distribution has been ordered If the court shall find that an improper distribution has been ordered it shall revoke the decree and shall direct restitution as equity and justice shall require

Section 211 When Allowable The spouse of any decedent dying domiciled in the Commonwealth and if there be no spouse or if he has forfeited his rights then such children as [form a part of the decedent's] are members of the same household as the decedent may retain or claim as an exemption [and as a reasonable requirement for support during the settlement of the estate] either real or personal property or both not theretofore sold by the personal representative to the value of seven hundred and fifty dollars The surviving husband or wife shall be a competent witness as to all matters pertinent to the issue of forfeiture of the right to the exemption

Section 301 Proper County Letters testamentary or of administration on the estate of a decedent domiciled in the Commonwealth at the time of his death shall be granted only by the register of the county where the decedent had his last family or principal residence If the decedent had no such domicile in the Commonwealth letters testamentary or of administration may be granted by the register of any county wherein property of the estate shall be located and when granted shall be exclusive throughout the Commonwealth If the decedent had no such domicile in the Commonwealth and had no property located therein and service of process is to be made in the Commonwealth upon his personal representative as authorized by law then letters testamentary or of administration on his estate may be granted by the register of any county of the Commonwealth and when granted shall be exclusive throughout the Commonwealth

Article IV

Inventory [and Appraisal]

Section 401 Duty of Personal Representative

(a) General Assets Within three months after his appointment every personal representative shall file with the register an inventory [and appraisal] verified by his affidavit of all real and personal estate of the decedent except real estate outside of the Commonwealth Provided That an ancillary personal representative shall include therein only assets for which he is responsible

(b) Real Estate Outside of Commonwealth The inventory shall include at the end a memorandum of real estate outside of the Commonwealth The memorandum at the election of the personal representative may indicate the value of each item of real estate included therein but the values so fixed shall not be extended into the total of the inventory or included as real estate in subsequent accountings

Section 402 Valuations [Appraisers] The personal representative shall determine and state in figures opposite each item of the inventory its fair value as of the date of the decedent's death [based upon a just appraisal of each item made by two or more appraisers who shall be sworn well and truly and without prejudice or partiality to appraise the assets of the estate to the best of their skill and judgment]

Section 403 Supplemental Inventory Whenever any property not included in the inventory [and appraisement] comes to the knowledge of the personal representative he shall file within thirty days of its discovery a supplemental inventory [and appraisement] thereof with the register

Section 3 Article IV of the act is amended by adding after section 404 a new section to read

Section 405 Objections to Inventory Objections to the inventory may be made by any party in interest at any time up to and including the time fixed by rule of court for making objections to the first account of the personal representative Such objections in the discretion of the court may be heard at the audit of the account Objections to the inventory also may be made in the form of objections to the account

Section 4 Sections 613 and 731 of the act are amended to read

Section 613 Statutes of Limitations Claims Not Barred at Death The death of a person shall not stop the running of the statute of limitations applicable to any claim against him but a claim which otherwise would be barred within one year after the death of the decedent shall not be barred until the expiration of one year after his death Nothing in this section shall be construed to shorten the period which would have been allowed by any applicable statute of limitations if the decedent had continued to live

Section 731 Estates Not Exceeding [One Thousand] Fifteen Hundred Dollars When the gross real and personal estate of a decedent does not exceed the value of [one thousand] fifteen hundred dollars the personal representative after the expiration of one year from the date of the first complete advertisement of the grant of letters may present his petition to the court with an annexed account showing the administration and proper distribution of the estate Thereupon the court upon satisfactory proof of notice to all known parties in interest may order the discharge of the personal representative and his sureties from future liability without the expense of proceedings as in a formal account The court may discharge only the surety from future liability and may allow the personal representative to continue without surety upon condition that no further assets shall come into the possession of the personal representative until he files another bond with sufficient surety as required by the register

Section 5 Section 732 of the act amended August 17, 1951 (P. L. 1258) is amended to read

Section 732 At Risk of Personal Representative

(a) Rights of Claimants Against Personal Representative A personal representative at his own risk and without the filing audit or confirmation of his account may distribute real or personal property [or real estate] and such distribution shall be without liability to any claimant against the decedent who has not given notice of his claim as provided by this act within one year after the first complete advertisement of the grant of letters to [him] such personal representatives or thereafter but prior to such distribution [Except on liens of record existing at the time of death no claimant who has not given such notice shall have any claim as to the property so distributed]

(b) Rights of Claimants Against Distributed Property

(1) Personal Property No claimant shall have any claim against personal property distributed by a personal representative at his own risk pursuant to subsection (a) hereof unless such claimant has given notice of his claim to the personal representative as provided by this act within one year after the first complete advertisement of the grant of letters or thereafter but prior to such distribution

(2) Real Property No claimant shall have any claim against real property conveyed by a personal representative in distribution at his own risk pursuant to subsection

(a) hereof unless such claimant within one year after the decedent's death files a written notice of his claim with the clerk Such claim against real property shall expire at the end of five years after the decedent's death unless within that time the personal representative files an account or the claimant files a petition to compel an accounting

(3) Liens and Charges Existing at Death Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting any lien or charge which existed at the time of the decedent's death on his real or personal property

Section 6 Article VII of the act is amended by adding after section 736 a new section to read

Section 737 Award to Nonresident Beneficiary When the court believes that a beneficiary who is not a resident of the United States its territories or possessions would not have the actual use enjoyment or control of the money or other property distributable to him the court shall have the power and authority to direct the personal representative (1) to make only such payments to the beneficiary as the court directs or (2) to convert the distributive share into cash and pay it through the Department of Revenue into the State Treasury without escheat to be held for the benefit of such beneficiary The court which directed payment to the State Treasury upon petition of the person entitled to such funds and upon being satisfied that petitioner will have the actual possession benefit use enjoyment or control thereof shall enter a decree directing the Board of Finance and Revenue to make repayment with interest at two per centum per annum from the date the money was paid into the State Treasury to the date of repayment were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

In order that the membership of the House may be fully informed concerning the planned procedure for the balance of the week, I would like to state that tomorrow will probably be a consent calendar.

A lot of the Members at the moment either have not come back for today's session or will not be here tomorrow for one reason or another, but the tax bills which have been introduced and which will be reported from Committee today and be read for the first time will be before this House for final passage on Thursday of this week.

When the resolution for reconvening next week was adopted sometime ago, you noted we are fixing next Tuesday as the time to come back, instead of Monday. We are doing that because if we don't have the Members of this House here on Thursday when we go into session at 1:00 o'clock, we are going to send for the Members; we are going to stay here until they are brought in so that they may vote on these tax bills.

We certainly hope the need of doing that does not arise, but all these who are not here today or tomorrow, or those we cannot contact personally today, will be contacted by telephone, wire or some other way so they know we mean business about voting on these bills Thursday.

We hope we can finish the session on Thursday no later than 6:00 o'clock so that most of you can go home and not return until the following Tuesday. Also, if we know by Thursday of this week that there is no impelling reason why all the membership should be here next Tuesday, we will so inform you and have a consent calendar on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. We will do that, if possible, but we ask your cooperation on Thursday of this week we may have everybdy present who is not ill, or kept away through a death, or some other very important reason.

RESOLUTION

COMMEMORATING LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1956.

February 12, 1956, is the one hundred forty-seventh anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States, who is frequently known as the "Great Emancipator."

President Lincoln is well known for several great accomplishments. His Gettysburg Address is often called the peak of American eloquence. Reference in the address to "government of the people, by the people, and for the people" is still the best of all descriptions of the United States system of government.

President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation was his final accomplishment in his long opposition to human slavery. It showed his deep respect and appreciation of all men.

Mr. Lincoln's rise to the presidency from an humble beginning by hard work and honest effort has long inspired youth the world over. It is a true example of what can be accomplished in this country by the combination of great ability and the willingness to work hard for success; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby respectfully acknowledge the great deeds and accomplishments and the inspiring leadership of our sixteenth president, Abraham Lincoln on the anniversary of his birth.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, probably this should be addressed to the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

Mr. AUKER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. I would like to ask, since a consent calendar has been announced for tomorrow, whether all bills that have been passed over today will also be passed over tomorrow, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I can hardly answer that question for the reason that some of the bills passed over today were at the request of the Minority Leader. I believe the minority has not had an opportunity to caucus on certain ones. If during the rest of the day or before tomorrow they find there is no opposition at all on the minority side, I would be inclined to move such bills.

However, if the gentleman does not want to be here and will specify the numbers of the bills he wants passed over, we will certainly pass them over.

Mr. AUKER. Very well, Mr. Speaker, I shall give my Leader all the bills on which I would like to be recorded as voting "no." What you do with the rest of them, I don't care.

CONDOLENCE

Mr. GAFFNEY, Mrs. REIBMAN, Messrs. PACCHIOLI and BUCCHIN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1956.

Henry K. VanSickle, 54, former Northampton County district attorney and assemblyman, died on January 16, 1956 at his residence, 1602 Ferry Street, Wilson, Pennsylvania. Although he had been in failing health for more than a year his death was unexpected and shocked many people.

Mr. VanSickle was born in Easton on July 8, 1901, a son of the late Joseph S. and Olive Reich VanSickle. He was educated in Easton public schools and was graduated from Lafayette College in 1924, and Dickinson Law School at Carlisle in 1928. He was admitted to the bar on September 8, 1928.

The young lawyer started his association with the Smith-Paff law firm before he went to law school as a clerk and practiced with the firm until 1946 when he became a member of the firm known as Smith, Paff, VanSickle and Cafford. The firm was dissolved after Smith died December 22, 1953 and Paff died September 23, 1955.

Mr. VanSickle's law practice was curtailed somewhat in the last year of his illness but he continued to go to his office frequently and practiced in court as recently as last month. He had been a member of the Northampton County Bar since 1928.

The most notable cases prosecuted while he was district attorney were the Easton vice cases, in which nine leaders of a vice ring were convicted. The cases were appealed to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court but the convictions were upheld and the power of the vice ring in Easton and eastern part of the county was broken.

Mr. VanSickle was a Democratic assemblyman from the county's second district for two terms, from 1934 to 1938 and was district attorney from 1940 to 1944. In the House of Representatives he was very active being Chairman of the Manufactures Committee, member of the powerful Appropriations and Ways and Means Committees and of the Judiciary General, Public Utilities and Welfare Committees.

He was a member of the County Board of Viewers, a member of the Easton Lions Club and St. Jane Frances de Chantal Church in Wilson. He formerly was associated with a number of political organizations.

Mr. VanSickle is survived by his widow, the former Sarah McCormick, a daughter, Mrs. William Russo and two grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Ada Reilly.

The life of Henry K. VanSickle was a model of diligence, honesty, humility and self-sacrifice. His wise and valuable counsel, both as an individual and attorney, was sought by his associates in all walks of life. His generosity and kindness to others was evidenced by his extensive and relentless efforts to help his fellow citizens and the community on every possible occasion; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends its heartfelt sympathy and condolences to his widow Mrs. Sarah McCormick VanSickle and her family; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the bereaved widow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1956

The House met at 2:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God whose wise providence watches over every human event, be a light and a counsel to these representatives here assembled. Give them courage above anything else. Courage to stand up for their convictions before men. Courage against unkindness, mockery, contradictions, against troubles and temptations. Strengthen them with Thy love and Thy grace. O Lord, help us all in the right fulfillment of our duties. We beseech Thee to direct every moment and action of our living.

Forbid that anyone of us should treat freedom too lightly. Call to our memory the ever faithful heroic souls who have fought and died that freedom might not perish from the earth. Conquer every evil power with Thine all pervading Spirit that would destroy this last best hope of men.

God grant us peace in our day. May all our words and actions be such as makes for peace. Speak so loudly of Thy way and will that even the dumbest of us can hear. In the name of Jesus we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, February 7, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

Printer's No. 1202, on page 5 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MIHM asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Cities—Counties—Second and Second Class A to meet during the session of the House.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the Hall of the House of a very distinguished former Member, Judge Brown of Allegheny County.

We are sorry, Judge, that there are not more Members of the House present, but we would like to have you say a few words of kindly greetings to those of us who are here.

REMARKS OF HONORABLE HOMER S. BROWN

JUDGE BROWN. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, and my friends around the dais here, let me assure you I am not here, and this is for my good friends of the Press, lobbying for any increase in the pay of the judges.

I am here, so that you might not misunderstand my presence, to attend a meeting of the Governor's new Commission on crimes and penal affairs, to which I have the honor to have been appointed by him very recently. I hope that will set your mind at rest that I am not lobbying for any pay increases.

However, if there are those who are somewhat so inclined, and knowing the temper of the House and especially our good Speaker of years gone by, I am not so sure that we are in safe hands. But times have changed.

I simply want to say to you, I could not come to Harrisburg when the House is in session without coming here. Fifteen years of my life were spent here in this very Hall, fifteen years of full life. As I get the cards and the well wishes of the Members, and as I communicate and as I go out throughout the state, see the Members who are present here and the Members who are not here at the present time, and then as I think back upon the memory of those who have passed on, you must know that I have the most pleasant recollections.

It is a great honor, as I have said time and time again to be a Member of a legislative body. In my brief public career I have had the honor to be a Member of the legislative body. I have had the honor to be for a short time a Member of the judiciary, as a Member of the School Board of the City of Pittsburgh, and other organizations, somewhat related to the executive, I have been in an administrative capacity.

But let me assure you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that there is nothing in my mind that so excels, that so challenges a man to think, as is being a Member of the House. For you are the lawmakers. We of the judiciary are the ones who sit and discuss and decide whether you have made laws consistent with the Constitution. The administrative branch enforces the law that you make. Therefore, if you do not make the laws, there would be nothing for the judiciary and probably nothing for the administrative department to do. Then in the making of the laws you have only your conscience to guide you, except when you are guided by the spotlight of the Constitution.

Even the spotlight of the Constitution does not always guide you in wisdom, for, as you well know, the judiciary cannot inquire into the wisdom of the Legislators, we can only inquire into the fact as to whether or not your legislation, as I have said before, is consistent with the Constitution.

I simply say that, so that I may tell you what I feel is the most important part of our democratic structure. That is the legislative body.

I am particularly proud of the fact that the House of Representatives is the people's forum. I always thought of that when I was here, when our Members would want to fly over across the hall to the Senate. I, of course, sat here for fifteen years and thought I should go over there, too. But as I look back upon it, as I look historically upon why we have these two divisions of the legislative body, the House and the Senate, I feel that I was compensated in not going to the Senate by staying in the people's forum.

Why do I say that? I say that because this is the forum that must originate the taxes for the Commonwealth—and by the way, I shall not get on that subject.

Let there be no impression that I am speaking upon the present matter in controversy. You and you alone can initiate the power to impeach a public official, whoever he may be in the government. Nobody else can.

I think historically the people did not want to trust, and I say this perhaps because there are historians who sometimes dispute this, and perhaps historians and educators are not so much in liking now anyway, but, nevertheless, from what I read in the papers—that is just in parenthesis—I see you don't understand what I am speaking about. But I think the educators who are the historians tell us that the people felt that as long as the House of Representatives was close to them, they had no fear of oppressive legislation.

Mr. Speaker, let me assure you that I feel kindly toward you in giving me this opportunity. I hope I shall have the pleasure of meeting my many friends before I leave. May I wish for you all that is best in life, in health and prosperity, but above all may I wish for you the satisfaction that whatever you attempt, whether the courts will strike it down or not you do it with the full knowledge that you are the conscience of the people, and as the conscience of the people you will let nothing trespass upon your right to determine free and untrammelled what is best for the people of Pennsylvania.

Thank you very much.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2009, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax on the sale use storage or other consumption of certain tangible personal property * * *.

Article I was read.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, I am happy to announce that the checks for the fourth class school districts are now being mailed, 400 checks totalling approximately $8 million are in the mail today, 800 checks totalling $17 million will be in the mail tomorrow and the balance will be in the mail on Friday.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I again want to congratulate the gentleman on the announcement, but what shall I reply to this school district at Port Allegany which is in very bad financial distress, a third class district? They said, "We understand the fourth class districts are getting their money. How about the third class districts? When will they get their money?"

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I would state that if the State Treasury is going to be bulging with money, as he stated the other day, it will not be too long, I am not in agreement that it will be bulging, but I will say just as soon as the funds are available the payments will be made.

We anticipate during the month of March and April heavy payments under the corporation net income tax will be made, and I believe it will be possible at that time to take care of the third class districts and then the first and second class. I would state, however, that as early as it can be done the checks will be prepared.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, has any consideration been given to releasing from Committee immediately the $110 million tax anticipation borrowing bill which has been sent back to committee? Have you given any consideration to the immediate passage of that bill so the money could be borrowed immediately to pay the third, second and first class districts, rather than forcing them to wait until after March 15th or April 15th?

Mr. POLEN. Consideration has been given to that matter, Mr. Speaker, but we believe at this time to place additional borrowings of approximately $100 million would not be a very good thing to do until such time as we are going to have a better picture of the tax situation.

We are borrowing against taxes and we are now up to the limit we can borrow under the current act when the additional $27 million borrowing is made.

We feel with the money coming in and anticipated to come in it will be possible to make the payments without further encumbering the revenues that are now on the tax books.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, when we consider the fact that eventually over a billion dollars will come into the State Treasury, because everybody knows that eventually we are going to pass a tax program which will be fairly adequate to handle the needs of the Commonwealth, does not the gentleman think in view of the tremendous resources of the Commonwealth and the urgency of the other school districts getting their money, despite the statements of the fiscal officers of the state, that it would be wise to borrow another $100 million? Does not the gentleman think that is being too frugal and cautious at this time, in view of the great amount of money which will come in during the two year period?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from McKean is asking for my personal opinion, and I am not speaking for anyone else, I would answer him that I believe it would not be good policy to borrow $100 million at this time. The amount of time that would elapse in the preparation of the necessary papers and the prospectus which must be made in connection with borrowing under tax anticipation notes and the time that ensues in the advertising and the awarding of the certificates, I believe it will be possible to have the funds without resorting to that.

I would say, however, it is not a certainty. That is a matter to which we are giving consideration.

I might further state in connection with the school districts he mentions, such as Port Allegany, I am suggesting, I have suggested, and I intend to pursue it further, that it may be possible to make selective payments to school districts of the third class which are in a serious financial situation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased again with what Mr. Polen has said about the possibility of making emergency payments to school districts that are very much in distress. I just mentioned the Port Allegany School District in my county because I believe the teachers have not been paid for two months. They have borrowed all the money they can within the seven per cent borrowing limitation. I certainly would beseech the Department of Public Instruction to investigate that particular community and grant them an emergency loan.

I do feel that many of the school districts who are borrowing now are paying six per cent interest. It certainly would be cheaper for the Commonwealth to borrow more money to pay the schools at anywhere from one and one-half to two per cent interest than for these school districts to be forced to pay four, five and six per cent interest.

I think it would be wise and good business to immediately pass the $100 million increase in the borrowing power of the Commonwealth on tax anticipation notes. I believe it would only take two weeks to prepare a prospectus, offer the bids and get the money so that the schools could be paid early in February, certainly not later than the 20th of February, rather than waiting until March 15th or April 15th.

During the month of March the only corporate payments that will come in will be the payments on the capital stock tax of corporations, which of course is quite a large sum of money, but perhaps will not be enough money to make a payment to the first, second and third class school districts. On April 15th sizeable checks will come in from the corporate net income tax, and I believe the balance will come in May 15th.

Therefore, it seems to me it is very urgent that we make a temporary borrowing on the state level so that these schools can be paid, because there is not any question but what eventually in the not too distant future an adequate tax program will be passed by this Legislature to run the Commonwealth during this biennium.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the borrowing on tax anticipation notes, it cannot be done in two weeks, as the gentleman stated. Possibly the minimum length of time which would ensue would be at least six weeks. As I stated before, the matter is being given consideration.

I might also state that the matter of borrowing from the Motor License Fund is under consideration.

When I spoke of making selective payments to distressed third class districts, I did not have in mind making loans to them. What I was speaking about was where we have a school district of the third class which is in a distressed condition, we would selectively pick out those school districts and if we had the funds available we would make payments to those school districts which are in the most serious condition.

The gentleman mentioned that a particular school district had exhausted its borrowing power under the limitation of the seven per cent. I would say since Senate Bill 785 was passed and became law that school district has additional base to borrow outside of that limitation because they can borrow against the amount of their appropriation.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Thursday, February 9, 1956 at 11:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:02 p. m.) the House adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1956

The House met at 11:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Honorable Harry R. McInroy, a Member of the House of Representatives from Tioga County, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we humbly bow before Thee this morning. Help us to feel Thy presence, and to know beyond the shadow of a doubt, that Thou art not far behind some distant cloud, but that Thou art standing close by each one of us this morning, closer than our nearest neighbor, and that we have but to reach out and touch Thy loving hand.

Lord, this is an important day in the history of our beloved Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Like Solomon of old we humbly ask Thee today for wisdom, that we may know what is best for us to do in these problems which confront us, particularly of taxation. Thou didst say "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Help us not to be thinking of how many votes we will gain or how many votes we will lose but what is best for Thy people. Strengthen our backbones and weaken our wishbones. As Thou knowest, Father, we are confronted by conflicting views on these questions. We have certain groups back home, and certain men and women here, who seek to impress on us their opinions. But, oh Father, help us to listen only to Thee, as the true fountain of wisdom, as the Greatest Lobbyist, the only real Teacher, Physician and Leader in the world—yesterday, today, and forever more. Give us the courage to be like Daniel when confronted by almost sure death, he took his stand for Thee. Help us to shoulder our part of the burden, our share of the responsibility, as we so solemnly promised with our hands on Thy Holy Bible when we became full fledged members of this General Assembly, that we may leave this room today holding our heads erect, knowing that we have done our duty.

And so wilt Thou take us by the hand, as Thou didst take Peter by the hand that day so many years ago when he started to sink beneath the waves on the Sea of Galilee, because he suddenly lost his faith in his power and in Thy power. Wilt Thou lead us through the fog and smoke of petty politics and of honest differences of opinion to help attain the right goals that Thou hast set for us—an honest and a just program of taxation and a right settlement of some of these other perplexing problems confronting us this day and the rest of this session.

Then, when that last day comes, sooner or later, when our weary hearts are slowly ticking out their last beats on this old earth, and our breaths are getting shorter and shorter, wilt Thou again take us by the hand and lead us safely over the Great Divide into that Eternal Home Thou hast provided for us, where someday we may sit quietly together and look back through the mists of the years upon these memorable days spent in these hallowed halls of this great Commonwealth.

Father, have mercy upon us, and help us this day and for ever more. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, February 8, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mrs. MUNLEY, Messrs. REIDENBACH, WARGO and NEEDHAM. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 153.

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1956.

Three inmates classified as "dangerous" recently made their escape from Farview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane. The escape of this trio brings the total to twenty-seven Farview inmates who have broken out of the Institution since June, 1955. Of the six who escaped last October, two have never been apprehended and one of them, a triple killer, is regarded by the F. B. I. as so dangerous that he was placed on its list of "most wanted" criminals. The present or future escape of inmates poses a constant threat to the safety and security of the people of the Farview area and to all the people of this Commonwealth since past experiences show that the fleeing fugitives will not tolerate interference with any one who blocks their path of escape.

Reliable information indicates that the reason for the intolerable situation of escaping criminally insane inmates is the relaxed security rules which were put into effect last year under the orders of Secretary of Welfare Shapiro. Under this "relaxed security plan" guards are forbidden to lock cell doors on the ground that such action would be "inhumane restraint." It is probably true that the State Mental Health Act makes no distinction between inmates at Farview and other State mental institutions where noncriminal inmates are under treatment. If no distinction is made between such inmates, then something must be done to amend the law for it must not be forgotten that every inmate behind the walls of Farview is a criminal and but for the fact that the inmates were adjudicated insane, they would have been confined in a county or State prison.

To the people in Northeastern Pennsylvania, Secretary Shapiro will have great difficulty in justifying the policy he has put into effect. To them the frequent escape of inmates cast serious doubts as to the soundness of such policy. The people of this area demand an immediate, vigorous, impartial and realistic investigation into the conditions at Farview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane; therefore be it Resolved (the Senate concurring) That in the interest of fair play the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint six members of the House, three of whom shall be Republicans and three Democrats, and the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint six members of the Senate, three of whom shall be Republicans and three Democrats, who together shall constitute a Joint Commission and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all the charges made and to hear all suggestions of an enlightened and progressive program for the proper operation of this institution.

The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before them. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation at the earliest possible date before the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. MARKLEY and Mrs. MUNLEY.

RESOLUTION No. 154.

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1956.

The State has the right to protect its citizens from the threats of moral corruption and obscenity with the same force that it has the unquestioned right to protect them from physical harm.

To protect the young and impressionable from immoral and obscene movies and other entertainment and shows which instigate to crime and promote the use of habit forming drugs is a problem which faces the community. To permit the impact upon our youth of immoral, obscene and criminally provocative shows, movies and entertainment, and which advocate use of habit-forming drugs, without any attempt to control or prohibit them, would be the mark of irresponsibility and carelessness in meeting the obligation to provide good government and other wholesome influences for the development and growth of our youth.

The State Board of Censors is the only governmental body within this Commonwealth qualified to meet the challenge of maintaining a wholesome standard of entertainment for the Commonwealth and its inhabitants. If this legislative assembly does not meet this challenge, the effects will be disastrously far-reaching.

House Bill No. 1974 and House Bill No. 675, which are respectively written for the purposes of providing funds for the State Board of Censors and to strengthen, clarify and make corrections in the law governing the board, should be enacted into legislation for the benefit of the residents of this Commonwealth, particularly the young people who look to government to provide legal means of insuring them wholesome and clean shows, movies and other entertainment; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives urges all factions, all parties and all members of the General Assembly to assist in enacting legislation to provide the State Board of Censors with funds to preserve its existence and pay its salaries and expenses and to provide it with necessary power to properly censor movies, shows, and other entertainment.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. JOHNSON. (Concurrent)

RESOLUTION No. 155.

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1956.

The General Assembly requires for its use, comprehensive factual information concerning the numerous problems of school and school administration, and the problems of budgets, taxes financial matters and transportation in so far as they relate to education as well as the problem of enacting school legislation; therefore be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the problems of schools and school administration, and the problems of budgets, taxes, financial matters and transportation in so far as they relate to education, with particular emphasis upon the aid which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may be able to render to school districts in successfully resolving such problems; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the feasibility and practicability of legislation making mandatory upon the General Assembly the priority of treatment of all bills concerning the public schools, and that all educational bills concerning any phase of the public schools in the Commonwealth should be considered by themselves separate and apart from all other legislation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 844, Printer's No. 1382 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1002 as follows:

An Act relating to conditional sales made prior to July 1 1954

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Definitions As used in this act

(1) "Uniform Conditional Sales Act" means the act of May 12, 1925 (P. L. 603) entitled "An act concerning conditional sales and to make uniform the law relating thereto" as amended from time to time while the act was in effect

(2) "Conditional sale" means any contract for the sale of goods made and filed prior to July 1, 1954 and which either was filed prior to that date pursuant to the Uniform Conditional Sales Act or was shown before that date on a certificate of title for a motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer pursuant to the vehicle code of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) as amended under which possession was delivered to the buyer and the property in the goods was to vest in the buyer at a subsequent time upon the payment of part or all of the price or upon the performance of any other condition or the happening of any contingency

(3) "Buyer" means the person who bought the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of the person

(4) "Filing district" means the subdivision of the State in which conditional sale contracts or copies thereof were required to be filed by the Uniform Conditional Sales Act or are permitted to be filed by this act

(5) "Goods" means all chattels personal other than things in action and money and includes emblements industrial growing crops machinery and equipment attached to real estate and things attached to or forming a part of land which were agreed to be severed before sale or under the conditional sale

(6) "Performance of the condition" means the occurrence of the event upon which the property in the goods is to vest in the buyer whether the event is the performance of an act by the buyer or the happening of a contingency

(7) "Purchase" includes the creation of a security interest

(8) "Purchaser" includes a person in whose favor there is a security interest

(9) "Seller" means the person who sold the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of the person

(10) "Filing officer" means a person in charge of the office for filing conditional sale contracts in a filing district

Section 2 Filing Records The filing officer shall continue to keep the separate book which he was required to keep by the Uniform Conditional Sales Act in which he was required to enter the names of the seller and buyer the date of the contract the day and hour of filing a brief description of goods the price named in the contract and the date of cancellation thereof

Section 3 Refiling The validity of a filing or refiling pursuant to the Uniform Conditional Sales Act or this act may be extended for successive additional periods of five years from the date of refiling in the proper filing district a copy of the original contract within six months preceding the expiration of each period with a statement attached signed by the seller showing that the contract is in force and the amount remained to be paid thereon The copy with statement attached shall be filed and entered in the book kept by the filing officer and shall be indexed in the index of financing statements maintained by the filing officer pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code of April 6, 1953 (P. L. 3) showing the buyer as the debtor and the seller or his assignee as the secured party and noting in the index in place of the file number and addresses of such parties the book and page number where the conditional sale was originally entered the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of two dollars ($2)

Section 4 Cancellation of Contract Any contract filed in the office of the prothonotary may be cancelled by satisfaction noted on the docket in the same manner as judgments at law are satisfied In lieu of satisfaction after the performance of the condition upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer or any other person having an interest in the goods the seller shall execute acknowledge and deliver to the demandant a statement that the condition in the contract has been performed If for ten days after demand the seller fails to mail or deliver a statement of satisfaction he shall forfeit to the demandant five dollars ($5) and be liable for all damages suffered Upon presentation of the statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall file it and note the cancellation of the contract and the date thereof on the margin of the page where the contract has been entered For filing and entering the statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of seventy-five cents (75¢)

Section 5 Prohibition of Removal or Sale Without Notice Unless the contract otherwise provides the buyer may without the consent of the seller remove the goods from any filing district and create a security interest in the goods or sell or otherwise dispose of his interest in them but prior to the performance of the condition no buyer shall remove the goods from a filing district in which the contract or a copy thereof is filed except for temporary uses for a period of not more than thirty days unless the buyer not less than ten days before the removal shall give the seller personally or by registered mail written notice of the place to which the goods are to be removed and the approximate time of the intended removal nor prior to the performance of the condition shall the buyer create a security interest in the goods or sell or otherwise dispose of his interest in them unless he or the secured party or the person to whom he is about to sell or otherwise dispose of the same shall notify the seller in writing personally or by registered mail the name and address of the secured party or the person to whom his interest in the goods is about to be sold or otherwise transferred not less than ten days before the creation of a security interest or sale or other disposal. If any buyer does so remove the goods or does so create a security interest in them or sell or otherwise dispose of his interest in them without notice or in violation of the contract the seller may retake possession of the goods and deal with them as in case of default in payment of part or all the purchase price. The provisions of this section regarding the removal of goods shall not apply however to railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock.

Section 6 Refiling on Removal When prior to the performance of the condition the goods are removed by the buyer from a filing district in this State to another filing district in this State in which the contract or a copy thereof is not filed the reservation of the property in the seller shall be void as to any purchaser from or creditor of the buyer who without notice of the contract purchases the goods or acquires by attachment or levy a lien upon them unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof shall be filed in the filing district to which the goods are removed within ten days after the seller has received notice of the filing district to which the goods have been removed. The provisions of this section shall not apply however to railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock. The filing shall be valid for a period of three years. The provisions of section 3 regarding the necessity for refileing and the duration of the validity thereof shall apply to contracts or copies which are filed in a filing district other than where the goods are originally kept for use by the buyer after the sale.

Section 7 Fraudulent Injury Concealment Removal or Sale When prior to the performance of the condition the buyer maliciously or with intent to defraud shall injure, destroy or conceal the goods or remove them to a filing district where the contract or a copy thereof is not filed without having given the notice required by section 5 or shall sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of the goods under claim of full ownership he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than one year or to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or both.

Section 8 Retaking Possession When the buyer shall be in default in the payment of any sum due under the contract or in the performance of any other condition which the contract requires him to perform in order to obtain the property in the goods or in the performance of any promise the breach of which is by the contract expressly made a ground for the retaking of the goods the seller may retake possession thereof. Unless the goods can be retaken without breach of the peace they shall be retaken by legal process but nothing herein shall be construed to authorize a violation of the criminal law.

Section 9 Notice of Intention to Retake Not more than forty nor less than twenty days prior to the retaking the seller may serve upon the buyer personally or by registered mail a notice of intention to retake the goods on account of the buyers default. The notice shall state the default and the period at the end of which the goods will be retaken and shall briefly and clearly state what the buyer's rights under this act will be in case they are retaken. If the notice is so served and the buyer does not perform the obligations in which he has made default before the day set for retaking the seller may retake the goods and hold them subject to the provisions of sections 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 regarding the sale but without any right of redemption.

Section 10 Redemption If the seller does not give the notice of intention to retake as provided in section 9 he shall retain the goods for ten days after the retaking within the state in which they were located when retaken during which period the buyer upon payment or tender of the amount due under the contract at the time of retaking and interest or upon performance of any other condition as may be named in the contract as precedent to the passage of the property in the goods or upon performance or tender of performance of any other promise for the breach of which the goods were retaken and upon payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storage may redeem the goods and become entitled to take possession of them and to continue in the performance of the contract as if no default had occurred. Upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer the seller shall furnish to the buyer a written statement of the sum due under the contract and the expense of retaking keeping and storage. For failure to furnish the statement within a reasonable time after demand the seller shall forfeit to the buyer ten dollars ($10) and also be liable to him for all damages suffered because of such failure. If the goods are perishable so that retention for ten days as herein prescribed would result in their destruction or substantial injury the provisions of this section shall not apply and the seller may resell the goods immediately upon their retaking. The provision of this section requiring the retention of the goods within the State during the period allowed for redemption shall not apply to railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock.

Section 11 Compulsory Resale by Seller If the buyer does not redeem the goods within ten days after the seller has retaken possession and the buyer has paid at least fifty per centum of the purchase price at the time of the retaking the seller shall sell them at public auction in the State where they were at the time of the retaking the sale to be held not more than thirty days after the retaking. The seller shall give to the buyer not less than ten days' written notice of the sale either personally or by registered mail directed to the buyer at his last known place of business or residence. The seller shall also give notice of the sale by at least three notices posted in different public places within the filing district where the goods are to be sold at least five days before the sale. If at the time of the retaking five hundred dollars ($500) or more has been paid on the purchase price the seller shall also give notice of the sale at least five days before the sale by publication in a newspaper published or having a general circulation within the filing district where the goods are to be sold. The seller may bid for the goods at the resale. If the goods are railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock the parties may fix in the conditional sale contract the place where the goods shall be resold.

Section 12 Resale at Option of Parties If the buyer has not paid at least fifty per centum of the purchase price at the time of the retaking the seller shall not be under a duty to resell the goods as prescribed in section 11 unless the buyer serves upon the seller within ten days after the retaking a written notice demanding a resale delivered personally or by registered mail. If the notice is served the resale shall take place within thirty days after the service in the manner at the place and upon the notice prescribed in section 11. The seller may voluntarily resell the goods for account of the buyer on compliance with the same requirements.

Section 13 Proceeds of Resale The proceeds of the resale shall be applied (1) to the payment of the expenses thereof (2) to the payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storing the goods and (3) to the satisfaction of the balance due under the contract. Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of the claims shall be paid to the buyer.

Section 14 Deficiency on Resale If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the expenses thereof and also the expenses of the retaking keeping and storing the goods and the balance due upon the purchase price the seller may recover the deficiency from the buyer or from any one who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer.

Section 15 Rights of Parties Where There is No Resale Where there is no resale the seller may retain the goods as his own property without obligation to account to the buyer except as provided in section 17 and the buyer shall be discharged of all obligation.

Section 16 Election of Remedies After the retaking of possession as provided in section 8 the buyer shall be liable for the price only after a resale and only to the extent provided in section 14. Neither the bringing of an action by the seller for the recovery of the whole or any part of the price nor the recovery of judgment in such action nor the collection of a portion of the price shall be deemed inconsistent with a later retaking of the goods as provided in section 8 but the right of retaking shall not be exercised by the seller after he has collected the entire price or after he has claimed a lien upon the goods or attached them or levied upon them as the goods of the buyer

Section 17 Recovery of Part Payments If the seller fails to comply with the provisions of sections 10 11 12 13 and 15 after retaking the goods the buyer may recover from the seller his actual damages if any and in no event less than one-fourth of the sum of all payments which have been made under the contract with interest

Section 18 Waiver of Statutory Protection No act or agreement of the buyer before or at any time of the making of the contract nor any agreement or statement by the buyer in the contract shall constitute a valid waiver of the provisions of sections 10 11 12 13 and 15 except that the contract may stipulate that on such default of the buyer as is provided for in section 8 the seller may rescind the conditional sale either as to all the goods or as to any part thereof for which a specific price was fixed in the contract If the contract provides for rescission the seller at his option may retake such goods without complying with or being bound by the provisions of sections 9 to 17 inclusive as to the goods retaken upon crediting the buyer with the full purchase price of those goods So much of this credit as is necessary to cancel any indebtedness of the buyer to the seller shall be so applied and the seller shall repay to the buyer on demand any surplus not so required

Section 19 Validity of Conditional Sales Refiled on or after July 1 1954 Every provision in a conditional sales reserving property in the seller shall be valid as to any purchaser from or creditor of the buyer who after the effective date of this act purchases the goods or acquires by attachment or levy a lien upon them if the filing of the contract was valid under the uniform conditional sales act at 12:01 a m on July 1 1954 by reason of (1) having been filed (i) during the period beginning July 1 1951 and ending three years prior to the effective date of this act or (ii) in the case of railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock during the period beginning July 1 1939 and ending fifteen years prior to the effective date of this act or (2) having been last refiled during the period beginning July 1 1953 and ending July 1 1954 and if the contract or a copy thereof was refiled on or after July 1 1954 and prior to the effective date of this act pursuant to the method prescribed by the Uniform Conditional Sales Act or is refiled within sixty days after the effective date of this act pursuant to the method prescribed by section three hereof any such refiled prior to the effective date of this act shall be valid for a period of one year from the date of refiled or sixty days from the effective date of this act whichever is longer any such refiled after the effective date of this act shall be valid for a period of five years from the date of refiled

Section 20 Effective Date This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we are planning to call up the tax bills and make a special order of business of them some time this afternoon. Since we will probably be in session until at least six o'clock, I am suggesting that we now have a recess until approximately 1:30 p. m. or whatever time the House desires, so that the members may have a chance to eat. I urge all Members to come back at the time fixed by the Speaker for the end of the recess as we intend to start taking up controversial bills as soon as the recess is ended.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 1:30 p. m. The Chair hears none, a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Helm for Mr. HEWITT because of death in the family.

Mr. Helm for Mr. VAUGHAN because of illness.

Mr. Johnson for Mr. TOMPKINS for today's session because of illness.

Mr. Hass for Mr. LAWYER because of illness.

Mr. Musto for Mr. CURWOOD because of death in the family.

HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1960, 2009, and 2010 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bills Nos. 1960 on page 5, House Bills Nos. 2009 and 2010 on page 11 of today's calendar be made a special order of business immediately in that order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the first bill on special order fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1960.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1960 as entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing an excise tax on net income as defined of individual residents and nonresidents of the Commonwealth and of estates and trusts fixing the rate of tax thereon providing for the reporting of income payment of tax interest and penalties and installments of estimated tax collection of tax at the source assessments collections liens reviews appeals refunds and penalties and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue public officers fiduciaries employers corporations partnerships associations and individuals.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry at this point.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Would I be in order if I would ask to interrogate the Speaker of the House?

The SPEAKER. If, in the opinion of the Speaker, the interrogation was a proper interrogation, the gentleman would certainly be permitted to interrogate the speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. In view of the fact, Mr. Speaker, that you sat in on the tax conferences as a coordinator and now that the tax bills happen to be a special order of business, my questions to you would pertain to some of the conferences, if I would be in order at this time, as the coordinator of the conferences.

The SPEAKER. In the opinion of the Speaker, the inquiry would be in order.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, when we at the Governor's request, and you passed it on to us, sat down in a tax conference and tried to work out a tax program that would pass this House and give the people of Pennsylvania and the institutions the money that they needed, was it not in complete agreement among the Committee that when we decided on the taxes now on the calendar I asked the Majority Leader and yourself as coordinator if we voted for these taxes as a package—and I believe that was the agreement it was to ride as a package—would the Governor sign all of the bills as a package.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will answer the inquiry to this extent: It was the understanding and agreement upon the part of the conferees that the tax package now pending should proceed on its way as a package, proceed as a package and be treated as a package in this House, in the other Chamber, and when it reached the Governor's desk.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, am I definitely clear in stating that in our opinion if the package reaches the Governor's desk as a package he will sign all of the bills?

The SPEAKER. The Chair, both as the Chair and as coordinator, must refer that inquiry to the Majority Leader.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. May I interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the agreement was made, I believe, after we agreed on the tax package that was to be presented to our caucuses and I believe I specifically asked—and I did this at the request of my caucus—if the bills were to be passed, they were to pass as a package. If one bill fell, all were to fall. If they all passed and passed the Senate in basically the same manner in which they were presented, the three bills would be signed by the Governor and none of the bills allowed to become law by just leaving them stay on the gentleman's desk. If you remember, I asked that specific question and you told me that you thought that the Governor might do that and you would get me an answer to that question.

Mr. READINGER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Is the Majority Leader in any position at this time to tell me the answer to that question, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. READINGER. I am.

Mr. Speaker, when I first consulted the Governor about this bipartisan tax program which had been proposed, I was assured by him that he would not veto any part of this package if it came to his desk. I asked him a further question whether he would sign all of the bills involved, and he said he would make no commitment on that. That was the first time the program was laid before him.

I spoke to him again today, and the Governor will still not make a commitment as to whether he will sign all of the bills or part of them, but he has still said he will not veto any part of this package if it is passed to him. But he will not state whether he will sign one of them, two of them, or three of them. He has told me though that if this package is passed by the House and Senate, together with other tax bills sufficient to carry out the program which he has outlined, he will sign all of the bills. That is exactly what he told me.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, just as a means of clarification, at the time of the tax discussions in our Committee meetings, the only agreement that you, and I, and any of the Members of the Committee could agree on and reach was the fact that there would be a sales tax, which we were told would be our sales tax, which would bring in approximately $15 million, and your income tax which would bring in approximately $210 million. That was really the only package you and I were in any position to honestly discuss, because at that time we had no other taxes in front of us. Is that right?

Mr. READINGER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Under that assumption, then, I would say that we have no responsibility for any of the business taxes at this time because they are in the Senate and we cannot say what they are going to do. The only thing that we can actually talk about is our own House-passed package?

Mr. READINGER. I would say that is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, by the Governor saying he would sign a tax package if it had business taxes in it and brought in sufficient money, he takes rather an indefinite stand as toward the House tax package. Would that be your opinion?

Mr. READINGER. It would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would like to make a brief statement at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be of the opinion that the Chair should first lay before the House the first bill on a special order, House Bill 1960, Printer's No. 1373, on page 5.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I will take the Chair's suggestion, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I want to start out today by saying I believe the Speaker of this House, the Majority Leader, the Minority Leader and Committee forgot politics when we were meeting.

I say this with the most sincerity I can convey to every Member of this House. I have been in this House a good many years, I have sat in on a lot of meetings, and certainly all of us know that a tax meeting is not something that is going to keep tempers smooth.

I can honestly say that never once in that meeting of nine men, with the Speaker acting as coordinator, was a voice raised in anger, never once was anyone interrupted in their talking, never once did any individual sit there and say, "This has to be it." Never one man said that. Everyone in there had one thing in mind. We were in there as people trying to solve the terrible mess that we are in. We were in there giving and we were in there taking, it was on a give-and-take basis. The majority of this House were perfectly willing to bend in some of their thinking, we on the minority side were perfectly willing to bend in some of our thinking, as you can see by the package that was agreed upon.

I know that the majority did not like to vote for a sales tax any more than some of our Members wanted to vote for an income tax. Our stand from the beginning has been against an income tax. Let me tell you, gentlemen, it was not too popular a stand on our side of the House when we said we would vote for it, some of us. I can assure you that probably in your position you were exactly in the same position.

We made an honest and sincere attempt to pass a tax program we thought would not hurt the people of this Commonwealth. At least, we tried. We wanted to pass a tax program that would give the Governor something to back out on in his statements against the sales tax, and because of that we even bent over and did not give him a broad base sales tax, we called it a selective tax. Even the words "sales tax" are not in the bill. We on this side did everything humanly possible to help the gentleman in the front office to back water and save his prestige, save that dignity he has and save the people of Pennsylvania.

You gentlemen on the other side of the House reacted in exactly the same way. You were fair, you were honest, and I cannot criticize one thing that was done by anyone in that tax committee. The only requirement on our part was that when the bills go they go as a package. We even went so far as to agree with the Majority Leader that if the income tax bill passed and the sales tax bill failed I would be one of the men who would stand on the floor of this House and ask to recall that bill. We cannot go much further than that, that is how sincere we were. The Majority Leader said he would do the same.

I just say that to you and give you that background to show you we were honest, everyone of us, in our attempt.

Let us go back a little and find out why we made this attempt, or what was one of the reasons we did. I have a quote here from last January 12th when Governor Leader had a press conference. I have an exact transcript of that press conference before me at this time. At that conference he said he wanted to propose publicly that the Republican leadership provide a tax program to raise half of the revenue needed and the Democrats would take the responsibility for the other half. That was the Governor's suggestion on January 12th. He made that announcement without any prompting from the newspapermen. It was his own idea and he offered the compromise as his own idea.

He was asked at that conference, if the Republicans passed the sales tax would be veto it. Here is what he answered, and I want to be very careful to quote his exact words because we think they are very important, this is, the Governor's quote:

"It will be the Republican program, and I am offering to give them exactly what they want . . ." now get that, "I am offering to give them exactly what they want, so long as they are willing to assume the responsibility for their half of it."

Let me read again what he said when he was asked about the sales tax. His reply was this:

"I am offering to give them just exactly what they want."

Mr. Speaker, I can tell you that none of us were happy on this side voting for an income tax. We did this because of the situation we knew we were in. I can promise you on that side of the House, and I told the Majority Leader this morning, that between the votes he took in his caucus and the votes we took in our caucus there were more than 106 votes to pass the income tax. That is No. 1. There were more than 106 votes to pass the gross receipts tax. That is No. 2. And there were more than 106 votes to pass the sales tax. I give you that on my word, and the Majority Leader will back me up.

Today the Governor pulled the rug out by just refusing to sign a tax program. Mr. Speaker, I want to say, how foolish does he think we are? He says he will not commit himself. I wonder what he thinks these men on this side of the House are doing when they vote "aye" for an income tax? What does he think you men are doing when you vote "aye" on a sales tax? Is that a commitment on your part? I ask you what it is? You know it is a commitment as well as I know it. If the men in this House have the courage to back down and stop playing politics, and the women in this House have the courage to do that, it is a fine thing for the state for the Governor to say he will not sign a bill when every man is putting his own political future at stake. It is a fine time to be putting your political future at stake when your papers are out being signed for Members of the House and as state candidates, and the Governor says he will not commit himself.

I do not know if the Governor is sincere. I thought he was sincere, and I am sure every Member here thought he was sincere. I say to you today that this is the end of this program. It can never be passed, as you well know, if we do not vote on it today and pass it. There will be no votes at this time for the tax package on this side of the House by agreement with our caucus, because my caucus particularly asked that the Governor sign a sales tax. That was the only request they made.

We were willing to accept the responsibility for this sales tax. The Governor needs the money and, if it is a matter of his signature, he is throwing $150 million out the window and he is throwing your $210 million out the window. I do not believe he needs money and I do not believe he is honest and sincere in the statements he made.

I hate to bring this bipartisanship in after having such a meeting as we have had. I do not think we have ever seen the minority in the House before willing to come up with votes to pass $150 million in new taxes, and we did it. We did it for the people of Pennsylvania. And I do not believe that we ever saw the majority of the House willing to sit down, as willing as they were, without playing politics. I say today—and I am not doing this to run for cover, because, Members, we were not running for cover any more than you were—if that is the Governor's attitude, it is his baby. Let him come up with 106 votes for his tax program on his side of the House. We wash our hands of it as of this minute.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, there are certain mean moments in one's life which are hard to take, and this is one of mine.

The gentleman from Philadelphia has stated very clearly how hard this tax committee worked on this matter. I think every Member of the House is aware of how hard and long everybody has thought about it, considered it, and come to a decision.

We hoped that today we could pass a truly bipartisan program which would find acceptance in the Senate and eventually become law and solve this problem.

I have done my level best to make the Governor understand that this is a package sponsored by both sides and to be supported in part by both sides. I tried to make him understand that he should be willing to make a commitment that if these bills reach his desk he will sign all of them. I suggested to him that he might even attach a message to the sales tax to set forth again, and very clearly, what he thinks of it, but nevertheless sign it into law. He has refused to do that.

We have heard the position of the minority stated, and we know we cannot pass the income tax. It was our agreement that if any part of this program did not pass, none of it would. It was to be a package or nothing.

Whether this is the end of the road as far as any bipartisan efforts are concerned or not, I don't know. Mr.

Smith thinks it is. Certainly I hope it is not. I do not know whether we can ever get a decent tax program through without a bipartisan effort. I doubt it. I do not even know whether this proposal of ours would have been accepted by the Senate of Pennsylvania, but at least we were trying.

The first thing we could do and had to do was get it to the Senate and try to convince the Senate of Pennsylvania that it was the only feasible and right program. We may never get to that point, I don't know, and I certainly regret deeply the developments that have taken place in the last day.

I confidently hoped this group of bills would all pass by at least 120 votes, some Republicans and some Democrats. I think the public is going to hold all of us responsible for our failure to agree up to this time, and none of us can feel too happy about the situation, about this long delay. To have this thing happen at the very time we thought we had it solved and were on our way to a final solution, to me is almost heartbreaking.

We know today that we cannot pass the income tax without Republican help. We have only 111 Democrats. We know that one is sick, he can't be here, one is at a funeral he had to attend; and we know that we have four other Members on our side who just will not vote for this income tax. So we don't even have 106 votes, we cannot pass it.

I am going to ask, Mr. Speaker, that all of these bills be now placed on the postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might remind the House that irrespective of the fate of the tax program there are other measures of interest upon which this House must pass sometime. Since we have so many Members in the House today, now would be the time to dispose of the calendar before us.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I hope I can do the job here the way I honestly feel. I do not think I am capable of it.

I would like to say, first of all, that you have just heard a man speak who in my estimation is one of the most honest, sincere and great individuals of Pennsylvania today. (The Members rose and applauded)

I do not think, Mr. Speaker, any better tribute could be paid to any man than what we just heard. I had to mention Al Readinger for the job he has done. He has worked his heart out, believe me. Everything he has done has been done with one idea, to solve our problem.

I think, Mr. Speaker, that you come in for a share of the credit. I think the Members on the other side of the House who were willing to give and vote for a sales tax, and the Members on our side of the House who are willing to give and vote for an income tax, should also be congratulated.

I think something has happened today in this House that we have never seen before, and probably never will again. I just want to end by again saying that the highest tribute that is possible has been paid Al Readinger and your Speaker, but particularly Al Readinger, for the job they tried to do. They have been trying to do a tremendous job with the Governor since early morning.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I came in this House today with fire in my system ready to fight as long as was possible to whip this package of bills. I did not come in here today with the purpose in mind of voting for any of them, because two weeks ago I stood on the floor of this House and made the statement that I would not be part of any package that would put a noose around my people's necks in the form of an income tax.

The thing has changed to this extent, and the gentleman from Philadelphia has taken some of my words, the fire has gone out and the only thing I have in my system right now is pity and compassion for three great men in this House.

I speak first of the Speaker, and I spoke of him two weeks ago, the caliber of the man who could bring together a body to pass a tax package such as this, bad as it was in my opinion. Then for these two gentlemen to lay down their swords and get together and decide on a program about which the Governor made the statement on TV that that was what he wanted, a fifty-fifty deal, he was in line to receive it. Now he has humiliated three of the greatest men in this House.

I say again, the fire is going out of me and I feel sorry for these three great men, and I feel sorry for the man in the front office that caused this injustice.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, after listening to these very brief remarks by both the Majority and Minority Leader, I feel that I am not armed with all the facts. My first impression was and until a question has been answered in the negative, I will still feel that I am not armed with all the facts.

I, therefore Mr. Speaker, would like to interrogate the Minority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Minority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, when this bipartisan tax committee was conceived and born in this House, was it predicated, the success of it rather, predicated on the Governor's giving his word that he would vote for all the bills?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I suppose the gentleman means sign all the bills. I don't believe at the creation of the committee anything was predicated, but I do believe that the rules were being laid down by the committee itself at the time of its meeting.

Mr. McCORMACK. Never in this House immediately prior to the committees being formed was anything mentioned about Governor Leader giving his prior consent to these bills, indications that he would sign them?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe that ever before, prior to the committee's being created, did we talk about a joint sponsorship or anything else of any bills or any type of bills, we didn't talk about it. There was no need to do so.

Mr. McCORMACK. There was no need to Mr. Speaker, why wasn't there a need to?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I can't hear the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. Why was there not a need to talk of that?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Well I believe, Mr. Speaker, I don't know what the gentleman is trying to drive at, but I believe that—

Mr. McCORMACK. I want to get the facts, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The only thing I can say to the gentleman is that it was my understanding that a committee was created by your side of the House and a committee by our side of the House with the Speaker to act as a coordinator. The idea of coordination for the gentleman's information in my opinion was that we would work on certain things and not deviate from anything at all, or deviate into the different channels.

We went in there knowing with one idea in mind, to get a program that would be agreed upon by both sides of the House and would be agreed upon by the Governor. That is the best we could do.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I will ask one further question, whether or not you can state for the record that the majority in the Senate, if this package goes over to them, will vote for the bill, vote for all of the bills?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I believe, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would refer to your remarks, and would remember that tax programs start in the House and are subject to the Governor's veto, approval or disapproval, I don't believe he would even bother asking that question. It is our responsibility and as the Speaker said, we divorced ourselves from any thinking, we are a working body, a legislative body that tried to do a job and we didn't get into all of those intricacies as to what was going to happen in the Senate or what would happen before it passed the Senate or anywhere else.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, can you state today whether or not the Republicans in the Senate would bring out this tax package if it were passed on the floor and vote for it?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would suggest Mr. Speaker, that he go and ask the Senate. I cannot speak for the Senate.

Mr. McCORMACK. Am I right—

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not want to be to technical, but the Chair would remind both gentlemen that we are not privileged in this House to discuss the probabilities of legislation in the Senate. Knowing that he is transgressing the rules, the gentleman may proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is it the Speakers ruling that the Governor is fair game in this House and that the Senate is not?

The SPEAKER. It is not a proper inquiry at this time.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I came up here from Philadelphia today to vote for this tax package.

The SPEAKER. The Chair gave the gentleman the privilege of transgressing the Rules unless some Member of the House objected it.

The gentleman will now proceed after his own fashion.

Mr. McCORMACK. Am I right in concluding that we do not know what the Senate would do with this package if it were sent over to them?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. It is the brightest conclusion of the day at this point.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well. That is what I thought. I just wanted to get the facts.

Mr. Speaker, is there anything in the Constitution that gives this House the right to override the Governor's veto?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is simply consuming time. He well knows there is.

Mr. McCORMACK. The question was directed at the Minority Leader, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I will second the Speaker's suggestion.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would appreciate it if I can ask questions here that are proper questions and get the answer from the person to whom they are directed. I don't think the Chair is fair in ruling that I have . . . .

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. If he wants to appeal for the decision of the Chair he is privileged to do so.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, what is the ruling of the Chair?

The SPEAKER. The Chair stated that the gentleman was transgressing the Rules and that if nobody objected the Chair would not hold him to an observance of the Rules, that he could proceed in his own free fashion as long as the House would endure his questions.

Mr. McCORMACK. And I am attempting to do that. I asked the Minority Leader, Mr. Speaker, if there was anything in the Constitution that gives this House the right to override the veto of the Governor.

The SPEAKER. The Chair states to the gentleman that he is privileged to ask the question and the person interrogated is privileged to refuse to be interrogated.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would not refuse anyone to be interrogated, but I want to remind the gentleman that I do not believe his questions have anything to do with what has just happened.

If the gentleman thinks I have made a breach of faith or a political breach of faith in any way, I would ask him to question the Speaker or the Majority Leader who sat in on all of our conferences, and I am quite sure it would be a more honest decision than I could make. If the gentleman feels that way, that we are trying to evade something, I would suggest that he ask if there has been a breach of faith by anybody on the committee and particularly myself.

Mr. McCORMACK. No further interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. The last few questions will demonstrate the unfairness that is inherent in the arguments of the Minority Leader. I have listened to the Speaker suggest the creation of this bi-partisan committee and I have never once heard on the floor of this House that the success of the committee would depend upon the Governor's O.K. of the tax package. Perhaps that came about later, I don't know.

We well know that this government is divided into a legislative, executive and judicial body, the three of which are co-equal. The Governor is the sovereign head of a sovereign state, and I do not think our vote should depend upon what the Governor is going to do. If we are motivated by politics, then I think it does, but we are reaching the state today where we have got to do something for the institutions, the schools and the mental institutions that are dependent upon revenues of this Commonwealth. We have a duty to perform, and I say we are not facing up to it.

I do not care what the Governor does with this package. He does not need to have anyone come in here and apologize for him. The people of Pennsylvania elected him and they elected us to do a job. I think we have a right to vote on any bill regardless of whether the Governor has indicated that he is not going to veto it. Nowhere was it mentioned, and that is what I am amazed at, by the Majority Leader, never was it mentioned, what the Senate was going to do with this package. I am amazed at that. We are asking Governor Leader to stick his neck out and say what he is going to do, and we do not even know what they are going to do across the street. I think it is fundamentally unfair to suppose that the Governor should come out and say, "I am 100 per cent behind this," then the taxes go over to the Senate and they defeat it.

I think it is very unfair. I think the Governor would be crazy to do that.

We are in this Legislature to do a job regardless of what the Governor says or does, and I propose to do it. I came up here today to vote for the three taxes and I am going to do that. I do not care whether the Governor likes it, or he does not, my first obligation is to the taxpayers and the people of this Commonwealth. I propose to do that duty today, and I hope we get a chance to vote on the bill regardless of any political consequences.

This is thirteen months after we convened and I think it is a little late to be playing cute or to say that the Governor won't sign the package. It is too late for that. Let us send it to him. We know in this House that if it comes back to us with his veto we can override the veto. It is right in the Constitution.

The SPEAKER. Before recognizing the Minority Leader the Chair, the coordinator of the bi-partisan committee, would ask the privilege of making a factual statement.

When groups meet it is necessary for them to define the range of their discussions and for the various groups to make such stipulations as to policy as they may be disposed to make.

In the opinion of the Minority, it was essential if they were to deliver votes, that certain agreements be arrived at. One of the prior agreements necessary before the committee could function was that the package should move as a package all along the line. If basic changes were made in another place those basic changes would be resisted by all the power inherent in this House. So there was the understanding upon the part of the committee representing this House that the package should move as a package, and without that agreement no conference would have been possible.

Mr. READINGER. I would like to say at the outset that I was so touched by the remarks of the Minority Leader that I was not capable immediately of thanking him and the members of the House for their kind expression of feeling. I, perhaps, am too emotional about the thing but it has been a shock and a big disappointment, and I do want the Members to know that I deeply appreciate the expression they have made.

I would like to say in connection with the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, that I think he has fallen into error in some of his thinking. I was not able to hear all the remarks of the Speaker but I think he has covered quite well the conditions and circumstances under which our bipartisan group could function.

It is true that the Governor can veto bills and that we can override vetoes. It is also true that the Governor definitely said before we even had these bills printed and placed before you that he would not veto any part of this package if it came to his desk. But the question was whether he would sign all of the bills or whether he would sign some of them. That has been the cause of all the trouble today. Since he would not make a commitment that he would sign all of them, the Members in the minority whether rightly or wrongly, and they certainly have a right to take the position they are taking, that they are not going to furnish votes for a bill they do not like without knowing if he would sign it if it does get to his desk.

This question of whether or not the Senate will accept this package is something that nobody has been able to determine. If you recall, when I first spoke, I said that we hoped if we could pass it through the House we could persuade the Senate that this under the circumstances is the best solution.

We Members on this side, of course, feel that you were wrong in voting against our prior tax measures and that the Senate was wrong in killing them, but that is water over the dam. That has happened. We are faced with the necessity of raising this money and it is a dire necessity. And that is why this bipartisan effort is so very important and has been so very important.

I think every Member here feels deeply that it is our duty to solve this thing and raise this money, and if we cannot do it by sitting down sensibly and agreeing with each other, somebody has got to give somewhat on his side. You have to take some things you do not like, we have to take some we do not like, and we do that when we vote for bills that we do not believe in ourselves. We do it because of the necessity. And I am going to go on hoping that we will have a further bipartisan effort and that we can make the Governor understand that it is truly a bipartisan effort and should be supported by him.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise in the defense of the Governor or in opposition to the committee. I feel that after my many years in Harrisburg and my statements of "let's be fair," I should make myself clear.

When the bipartisan committee was formed, I was in hopes that we should get a one hundred per cent bipartisan program. Maybe I expected too much. Maybe it was an impossibility. There is no man in this House that would hate worse to vote for a sales tax than I myself, but my hopes were that our committee would get to the place where we could go to our caucuses and get a one hundred per cent agreement for a tax program that both sides of this House could vote one hundred per cent for.

Now, I say that maybe I was asking too much. But that was what I was in hopes of. Had that come about, I would have voted for a package, regardless of what was in the package. Now, if you want to get rid of politics, if you want to be bipartisans, that is the way to do it.

As to the Governor of Pennsylvania, I somewhat agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, I don't ask the Governor if he will sign or veto a bill. There are two or three ways for it to become law. He doesn't have to sign it for it to become law. He could sign one part of the program and not sign the other part, but it still would become law.

So, my friends, I just want to make that one point clear, that I hope that this is not the end of the bipartisan committee. I am in hopes now that we can get such a program that both sides of this House will agree to support, regardless of what the Governor says, regardless of what the Senate says, and send it to them.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.
The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the house the next Bill on special order fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 2009.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2009 entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax on the sale use storage or other consumption of certain tangible personal property providing for licenses reports payments and collection of tax interests and penalties assessments collections liens reviews and appeals conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue public officers manufacturers wholesalers retailers corporations partnerships associations and individuals and making an appropriation

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.
The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the house the next Bill on special order fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 2010.

Agreeably to order,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.
The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair now commits the tax problems of the Commonwealth into the special keeping of His Excellency, the Governor, and his advisors.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I think the Members should know the Speaker did request, and I am talking particularly to Members on our side at this time, that even though the tax bills have been postponed there is other business on the calendar. If we can arrange to roll some of these bills, we can certainly lighten the calendar in view of the suggestion of the Majority Leader that next week we shall probably be here on a consent calendar on Tuesday and Wednesday. With that suggestion in mind, I would request that we vote on as many bills today as possible.

Mr. READINGER. I certainly agree with the Minority Leader that we should process as many bills as we can and still leave here at a reasonable time. I am asking the Members to remain here so that we can do that. These bills must be acted upon sometime, and I cannot think of a better time than right now.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to preside.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mrs. PASHLEY from the Committee on Motor Vehicles, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2011, entitled:

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. COCHRAN asked and obtained unanimous consent for House Bill No. 2020 to be read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2020, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Senate and House of Representatives for contingent expenses for the balance of the Legislative session of 1955.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I sincerely ask your indulgence on the remarks I am going to make in reference to this Resolution. I sincerely say to you that I am offering the Resolution, as co-sponsored by the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, in a non-critical mood of the administration in power, or of the executive officers and secretaries of the different departments, and in an entirely non-partisan approach. I am very much concerned, and I believe we all should be, about a policy which apparently has been adopted by the Secretary of Welfare in breaking up the animal herds and the poultry flocks on the farms connected with our state institutions.

From these herds and from these flocks flow produce of the highest order that is used to maintain and feed the patients in these institutions. These herds and flocks have been built up on these farms by experimentation and research and at a great cost to the people of this Commonwealth. If it is true that all of these herds and flocks are going to be broken up by executive order of the Secretary of Welfare, then I would ask you to consider this, that all of the produce and products that came from these herds and flocks will have to be bought on the open market by contract.

The only reason I have seen so far why this action is being taken by the Secretary of Welfare is that in his opinion the patients of these institutions should not engage in farm work and animal husbandry.

Just recently, Mr. Speaker, there was an investigation of the Morganza Training School—it is pretty noisy, Mr. Speaker, and I won't be long. I would like to have a little order, if I may.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield?

The Chair must ask the Members to take their seats and conversation to cease. If we want to get out of here this afternoon at a reasonable hour, The Chair must have order. When the Chair has recognized a gentleman for the purpose of making remarks, he is entitled to be heard. I will also ask that visitors refrain from conversation and that we go about our business in an orderly fashion for the rest of the afternoon.

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I will repeat very briefly the last few remarks that I made.

The only reason I have been able to find that this order has gone out from the Secretary of Welfare to break up the herds and flocks on the farms connected with the state welfare institutions is that the patients of these institutions should not engage in this kind of work.

Just recently in an investigation by Members of this House, signed unanimously by Members of both sides of the House, this recommendation was made, and I quote Section J of the report: "The Committee recommends that an on the job training program, which shall include farming and animal husbandry, be established at the Training School, and that an over-all athletic program be established under the supervision of a competent athletic director."

I am one that is not at all satisfied, and I do not believe any Member of this House should be satisfied, with that reasoning simply because he thinks—we do not know on what basis he has arrived at that conclusion, but simply because he thinks that the patients at these institutions should not engage in farm work and should not engage in animal husbandry, he is going to break up all the farm herds and poultry flocks connected with these farms. This will certainly mean a great financial loss to the people of this Commonwealth. It would mean a great financial loss at this time when we are studying a tax program, hoping that one can be adopted, and can mean considerably heavier taxes on the people of the Commonwealth if all of these products have to be brought on the open market.

We are offering a resolution, therefore, Mr. Speaker, that an investigating committee composed of Members of both sides of the House be appointed by the Speaker and that this committee be given the power of subpoena, of swearing in witnesses and subpoenaing books and records.

If there is justification for it, all well and good. If there is no justification for it, then I say to you that it should be stopped, and stopped at once, before any further financial loss is suffered by the people of this Commonwealth, by the autocratic, if the committee so finds, breaking up of these herds and flocks by the Secretary of Welfare.

I believe it is of such importance, not only to the welfare of the patients in these institutions, but of all the people of this state who pay taxes, that this matter be investigated as promptly as possible.

I, therefore, file the following resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to speak very briefly on this resolution. I certainly urge its adoption. Take as an example the Warren State Hospital, they have a very fine herd of registered Holsteins and the inmates there who are not too bad have certainly benefitted greatly by being able to occupy themselves working on the farm and taking care of these cattle. It has certainly been a profitable venture, and I believe it is something that should be studied. I urge the adoption of the resolution.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 152

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 152 on page 14 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In The House of Representatives, February 6, 1956.

Whereas it has come to the attention of the House of Representatives that Dr. James C. Charlesworth the Secretary of Administration in a recent address in Philadelphia before the Federation of Community Councils has expressed himself in favor of denying the exercise of the franchise by citizens of this Commonwealth to persons "illiterate indifferent and cynical" and of limiting said exercise to persons "competent" to vote and

Whereas the House of Representatives is of opinion that the remarks Dr. Charlesworth in no way reflect the views of its members or of any of the elected representatives of the citizens of the Commonwealth or of the Administration holding office Now Therefore be it

Resolved That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that the right of suffrage by all adult citizens of this Commonwealth without regard to formal education attainments is a right which is guaranteed by Article I Section 3 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania it is a right inherent in a free society that any attempt to limit or abridge this right to make it available only to a special class of citizens or to convert it into a privilege available only to a few is violative of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and of the oath of any administrative officer sworn to uphold same that the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as well as that of the United States is founded on the proposition that the just powers of government stem only from the consent of those governed which consent can be expressed only through exercise of the franchise that any attempt to subvert the right to vote is the first and most dangerous step toward subverting our government of liberty under law that representative government assumes and assures the right of the poorest and most humbly stationed citizen to participate or not to participate as he pleases in the governmental process by exercising his vote and that it ill becomes any administrative official in this Commonwealth's employe to express himself publicly in opposition to those principles which the citizens of Pennsylvania so deeply cherish and for the defense of which they and their sons have and will again gladly shed their blood And be it further

Resolved that the General Assembly unanimously deplores the tenor of the remarks made by Secretary Charlesworth and suggests to his superiors that they either silence him or appoint a successor

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the resolution that is before the House at this time has been presented to this House as the consensus of thinking of the Democratic Members of this House through its appointed committee and through its secretary of the Caucus.

Doctor Charlesworth in his speech on February 2d in Philadelphia delivered this famous address in which his theories and thoughts were expressed. He himself as an appointed official of this Government, the same as you and I are as elected officials, is obliged to uphold the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

The Constitution that we live and are guided under was adopted here on February 13, 1873 and no place in that Constitution will you find the definition of illiteracy, indifference or cynical in regard to the franchising or the right to vote.

We of the Democratic caucus of the House of Representatives through this resolution make known our feelings and our wishes to the Governor of this Commonwealth regarding Doctor Charlesworth's address, and his views are not the views of this individual Member nor many other Members of the Democratic side of this House. The Lieutenant Governor of this Commonwealth and the Democratic State Chairman deplore the remarks of Doctor Charlesworth in his address on that particular day. True enough those who have taken up political science have various theories as to the Government, but we as an individual body have sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and that Constitution provides for the right of all of its citizens to vote as they wish. They are not deprived of the right because of race, creed or color and they certainly are not deprived of the right because of illiteracy cynicism or indifference.

And with that I ask that the Democratic Members and the entire membership of this House to make known their feelings and pass Resolution No. 152, Printer's No. 1374, with a unanimous vote.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection
House Bill No. 68, Printer's No. 1302 and
House Bill No. 667, Printer's No. 1256
were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1932, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1935 (P. L. 677) entitled "An act to fix the status of officers and employes of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof while in training with the armed forces of the United States" including members of the United States
Air Force

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 act of July 12, 1935 (P. L. 677)
entitled "An act to fix the status of officers and employes of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof while in training with the armed forces of the United States" is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That all officers and employes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of any political subdivision thereof members either enlisted or commissioned of any reserve component of the United States Army Navy [or] Marine Corps or Air Force shall be entitled to leave of absence from their respective duties without loss of pay time or efficiency rating on all days not exceeding fifteen in any one year during which they shall as members of such reserve components be engaged in the active service of the United States or in field training ordered or authorized by the Federal forces

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 147

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 147 on page 13 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1956.

With the discovery of the atom and hydrogen bombs and with the development of guided missiles and jet propelled planes the probabilities of sneak enemy attacks on the United States comes closer to realization. The general public should realize the seriousness of the situation

The House of Representatives recognizes the splendid work being done by the State Council of Civil Defense its Director and all the local civil defense units in the organization recruiting training maintenance and operation of aircraft warning services observation and listening posts information and control centers including the location thereof and such other services and facilities as may be necessary for the prompt reception and transmission of air raid warnings and drills. The State Council of Civil Defense is empowered by law to formulate and execute plans for the carrying out of practice blackouts air raid drills and warning and of all precautionary measures under actual conditions of hostile air raids or enemy attack. Presently the method practiced in warning the general public of an air raid or enemy attack is by sirens located at so called strategic points. Due to sound proof buildings to the tumult of crowds in department stores and places of amusements to the noise of factory machinery it has been pointed out that the siren warning is not audible or effective as to the public congregated in such buildings business establishments factories places of amusement and many other buildings used by the general public therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives recommends and urges the State Council of Civil Defense to promulgate and adopt regulations for establishing a system of listening posts for the purpose of communicating vital information directly and simultaneously to those people at work and in public places who do not have access to radio or other methods of communication during business or working hours or in times of any emergency when it is of extreme importance to communicate directly with a great number of people by recommending the installation of public address systems or such similar equipment in all buildings stores factories places of amusement and business catering to twenty-five or more persons and be it further

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 151

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 151 on page 14 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 1, 1956.

Whereas Act No. 259 (P. L. 595 Session of 1943) authorizes the Department of Property and Supplies to provide for the maintenance in the main capitol building of a restaurant or cafeteria "For the proper accommodation of state administrative legislative judicial personnel and capitol visitors" and

Whereas the Capitol Cafeteria now maintained in the main capitol building has been operated on an accommodation basis and

Whereas operation which makes possible the type of operation compatible with the proper accommodation of those served is incompatible with any plan designated to operate on a profit basis and

Whereas the type of management now in effect has served to create a friendly atmosphere that cannot be created by a commercially-minded organization and

Whereas the present type of management has provided capable personnel and has provided food of top quality and

Whereas the Members of this House have received word that the Secretary of Property and Supplies intends to discontinue the present operating methods and place the operation of the capitol cafeteria in the hands of a commercial concern

Therefore be it resolved that this House respectfully inform the Secretary of Property and Supplies through this resolution that it favors the continuance of the present method of operating the capitol cafeteria it being the conviction of the Members of this House that only through such a type of management can the purposes for which the cafeteria was established be served

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1361, entitled:

An Act authorizing the creation of regional planning commissions by counties cities boroughs towns or townships authorizing interstate participation in regional planning under certain conditions and conferring powers and imposing duties on regional planning commissions

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Senate together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has referred the following bill:

By Mr. WHEELER.

HOUSE BILL No. 2021.

An Act amending the act of August 9, 1955 (P. L. 323), entitled "An act relating to counties of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," providing for the fixing of compensation for officers whose salaries are not prescribed by law.

Referred to the Committee on Counties.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has referred the following resolution:

By Mr. MULDOWNEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, February 9, 1956.

The death of Cornelius McGillicuddy, better known as Connie Mack, on Wednesday, February 8, 1956, brought to a close, a notable career in the field of sports.

First a baseball player, and later a major league manager and club owner, Mr. Mack is best known for his outstanding achievements during fifty years as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. His teams won nine league championships and five world series titles.

He made an impression upon baseball which will preserve his name and leave a happy memory of his accomplishments with those who knew and worked with him. His clean sportsmanship and exemplary conduct earned him the respect and admiration of his opponents and associates. He well exemplified the great American tradition of fair play coupled with a keen competitive spirit and a will to win.

Of equal importance with his ability to develop championship teams, was his ability to develop young players into competitors of outstanding calibre. These men whom he developed have paid tributes to him which speak well of him as a person of high inherent qualities and fine personal attributes as well as possessing great qualities of leadership; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this House of Representatives express their personal condolences and feelings of grief at the passing of Connie Mack to his widow, the former Katherine Hallahan, and to his surviving children, Roy, Earle, Mary, Ruth, Rita, Elizabeth and Connie Jr., and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the widow and children of the late Connie Mack.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Members concerning the plans of next week, at the moment I do not know of any reason why we would have any session next week other than a consent calendar session.

However, if there is any change at all in plans a letter will be sent to all of the Members. As a matter of fact, a letter will be sent tomorrow, regardless of changes in plans, advising the Members that they need not come next week or that for some particular reason they might have to come, so that by Saturday or at the latest by Monday every Member will be fully informed concerning the need to be here next week.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PAULHAMUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, February 14, 1956 at 3:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:40 p. m.) the House adjourned.
